

MACDONALD SMITH WINS MEDAL PLAY IN OAKMONT OPEN

By Paul Zimmerman
Associated Press Sports Writer.

GLENDALE, Calif., Feb. 4.—(AP)—With concrete proof of his medal play ability established here on the basis of his triumph yesterday, MacDonald Smith set about today to prove he is at home in Nassau golf competition as well.

The sturdy Scot from old Carnoustie won the 72 hole medal competition by three strokes with a 215, five strokes better than par in the Oakmont 6500 open, finishing with a 70 under discouraging circumstances.

But it will be a different story today as the 45-year-old sharp-shooter matches his skill against the other leaders in quest of the title and $2500 additional prize money. Under the complicated Nassau system, Smith meets each of the other eight survivors in three-man match play.

The scoring will be on the basis of 2 points on each nine and two on the eighteen hole total for each of the four rounds. This would mean a possible total of 12 for each of today's two rounds and a total of 48 attainable for a perfect score.

His first round opponents will be Ky Lafont, Chicago, and Ray Mangrum, Los Angeles, who were tied for second at the end of the medal competition yesterday with 278 strokes, two under par. With them was an amateur, Jack Galina, a local high school basketball coach, who staged a phenomenal finish to out-distance some of the greatest pros in the game.

ROGERS ADVISES "DIZZY" HOLD OUT FOR MORE PAY

By EDWARD J. NEIL
Associated Press Sports Writer

NEW YORK, Feb. 4.—(AP)—Jerome H. (Dizzy) Dean has all sorts of encouragement of his announced holding out against the financial handouts of the St. Louis Cardinals, but there was every indication today that not even the lanky, grinning pitching hero of the last world series takes the situation seriously.

Accepting the plaque given him by the New York Baseball Writers' association at its annual banquet last night, Dizzy, a dazzling picture of the well dressed young man in his perfectly cut evening clothes, said he "didn't think Mr. Sam Breadon, Mr. Branch Rickey and myself will have any trouble at all this year."

This came after Will Rogers had encouraged Dizzy to hold out not only until he got at least $30,000 for his 1935 services, but until he found out what the supreme court was going to decide on the legality of reducing the gold content of the dollar.

"Wait until you know what those dollars are going to be worth before you even accept $25,000 or $30,000," Rogers said as Breadon and Rickey, only a few seats away in the crowd of 600 baseball magnates, writers and celebrities, blanched while the rest laughed.

Harwood Brown, columnist, also spoke in favor of the Dean financial cause.

Postmaster James A. Farley, Mayor Fiorelli La Guardia, Ford Frick and William Harridge, president of the National and American leagues, respectively, also spoke as Dean received the award of the writers as the outstanding player of the year.

Connie Mack was presented with a second plaque for contributing to the meet to the game during the year, and Walter (Rabbit) Marandville of the Boston Braves received the third trophy for his various services to baseball. Frick received a watch from his former co-workers, the teams.

LETERS, KAPLAN SIGN FOR MATCH THURSDAY NIGHT

In another double "natural" wrestling card, Promoter Mack Lillard has lined up two matches for next Thursday night at the armory both of such fine prospects that the main event is to be determined by the toss of a coin.

In one bout Lillard has paired Bud Sam Leters of Texas, popular rubber-legged wrestler, and Abe Kaplan, rough and tumble "Jewish King" of New York City.

In the other half of the program Pete Belcastro, "belligerent Italian," will tangle with Hal Rumberg, speedy giant from Spokane.

These bouts promise plenty of color and action, with two of Medford's greatest drawing cards, Leters and Belcastro, both listed for an hour's session of tendon twisting. It will be a case of a scientific and popular grappler lined up against one of the coast's most "glorified" soundbored when Leters takes on Kaplan. The Jewish Gent won a match here last Thursday night from Paul Bessch of Brooklyn, but did so only by slugging and hair-pulling, which put him "on the spot" with local fans.

When Belcastro meets Hal Rumberg, another top-notch performance is assured. The Italian will have both weight and temper to compete with, for Rumberg is not only prominent among wrestlers for his great strength, but also for his methods of applying it in unorthodox holds.

Bates was also high in the doubles event, with 30 out of 25.

Bill Bates took home a nice fat hen for his win in the doubles event, and Fred Sander took home second prize in a special match at 30 targets.

Ed Pease defended his title to the Chester Wood trophy by defeating George Porter, 46-42. Pease also has been challenged by L. Low and H. Croissant for possession of the handsome trophy, and a match will take place at the Medford traps February 17.

At the skeet trap, Ron DeVore was high with 21 out of a possible 25, and George Jantzen scored 19, being followed closely by Semon and Sander with 17 each.

New electrically controlled skeet traps have been ordered for immediate installation. This will give the skeet shooters the very best of service. A skeet tournament is to be launched shortly.

BURGLAR THROWS PLUNDER TOO FAR

PORTLAND, Feb. 4.—(AP)—His throwing aim was too strong for his purpose, it seemed, and the fur store burglar must have resembled the fabled fox gazing enviously at the high-hanging grapes, as he paddled from the scene of crime.

Residents of the downtown district, arising early Sunday to view the sun's eclipse, saw several fur coats hanging from telephone wires which run from the top of the fur store. Police were called. It appeared the burglar threw the coats out of a skylight, intending they should drop on the pavement. Instead, he hurled them so hard they piled up on the wires, well beyond reach.

The robber was successful in rifling the cash register. He got about $30.

VANCOUVER, Wash., Feb. 4.—(AP)—Five men, described by police as Portland teenagers, were held in jail without bail today while the county prosecutor prepared to file riot charges as the result of a "beer war" battle in a cafe here Saturday night.

The arrested men were booked as Bert Blackwell, Leslie Huff, Dick

OREGON FAILS TO HALT DRIVE OF STATERS FOR NORTHERN BASKET LEAD

By the Associated Press.

With Oregon's Webfooters falling by an eyelash to come up with an answer to the question of "who's going to stop Oregon State," the Beavers were booming along at the top of the Northern Division Pacific Coast conference hoop race today while Washington and Idaho laid battle plans in their efforts to catch up.

Right up to the closing seconds of Saturday's game at Eugene, it looked like the Webfooters were going to get revenge for the 47-18 drubbing the Beavers hung on them three weeks ago, but a furious driving finish gave Oregon State a two-point edge and the scoreboard read 33-31 for the Beavers when the final gun sounded.

The victory put Oregon State a full game in front of Washington and a game and a half ahead of Idaho.

McGraw, Idaho's Vandal, led by Wally Geraghty, diminutive guard, also pulled a close one out of the fire by downing Washington State, 30-20.

Washington saw action in a non-conference game with Gonzaga, the Huskies coming out on the long end of a 57-40 count.

To Idaho will fall the task of being next to tackle the Beavers. The Vandals will meet Oregon at Eugene Friday and Saturday before the crucial series with Oregon State at Corvallis Monday and Tuesday.

COAST ALL-STARS OUTCLASS GIANTS FOR 9-0 VICTORY

PORTLAND, Ore., Feb. 4.—(AP)—Professional football made its debut here yesterday afternoon before 16,000 spectators with a "pick-up" team of Pacific coast all-stars completely outclassing, outfighting and outscoring the world champion New York Giants to win by a score of 9-0.

Featured in the all-stars' attack was the magnificent work of "Iron Mike" Mikulak, former University of Oregon fullback, and the near-perfect passing of Phil Sorboe, ex-Washington State college fullback.

The all-stars' first score came late in the opening period, when Bill Smith, former end for University of Washington, booted a field goal from the three-yard line, and their touchdown resulted midway of the final quarter when Harry Ebding, who used to play a nice game at end for St. Mary's, intercepted a pass by Ed Danowski, Giant fullback, and raced 50 yards to score.

Shortly before his pass interception and resulting touchdown gallop, Ebding cost the All-Stars a touch-down when he dropped a perfect 35-yard pass from Sorboe across the goal line.

The Giants' one big scoring opportunity came late in the third period when Danowski, former Portland fullback, threw a 41-yard pass to Flaherty, Giant end, who ran to the All-Stars' 21-yard line before being stopped. Two running plays put the ball on the All-Stars' five-yard line, but the attack was stopped there when three running plays advanced the ball only to the two-yard line and the All-Stars took the ball on downs.

The All-Stars missed several scoring opportunities, once when they were unable to advance the ball after Sorboe had completed a beautiful 40-yard pass to Hal Moo, one-time ace blocking back of Oregon State's Beavers, on the Giants' eight-yard line and Bill Smith missed a field goal attempt from the 24-yard line.

HORNPOSTEL, VENZKE PROVIDE SENSATIONS ON 'GARDEN' PATHWAY

NEW YORK, Feb. 4.—(AP)—Emerging from the pack as the twin sensations of the Millrose A. A. games today, Hornpostel (Czech) and Venzke (Polish) of Indiana and Gene Venzke of Penn.

Hornpostel's feat of smashing a world's record that had stood for ten years in the "Millrose 600," not much more than an hour after he had annexed the 1,000 yard special in fast time was the outstanding individual accomplishment of the meet, overshadowing Glenn Cunningham's third successive triumph in the Wanamaker mile, the feature mainly responsible for the overflow crowd of 16,000 packed in Madison Square Garden Saturday night.

Venzke carried Cunningham to a new meet record of 4:11 for the mile and led Bill Bonthron, ex-Princeton star, across the finish line for the first time in his career.

Hornpostel won the 1,000 yards with a fast finish in 2:13, a second back of the indoor record, and then shattered Alan Helffrich's world record of 1:11.6, set in 1925, in winning the Millrose 600. The Hoosier ace was caught in 1:11.3.

255-FOOT SKI JUMP CHALKED UP BY OIMAN

LOS ANGELES, Feb. 4.—(AP)—Casper Oiman, of the Montana Ski Club and 1934 amateur skiing champion of the nation, today held first honors in the ski tournament of the Los Angeles winter sports carnival at Big Pine, in the San Bernardino mountains. Oiman leaped 252 and 255 feet in successive jumps.

The 255 foot jump broke the Big Pine record by 15 feet, established a year ago by John Elvrum, of the Lake Arrowhead Ski club, who yesterday placed third with a leap of 244 feet. Tom Mobraaten of Vancouver, Can., ski club, was second with a jump of 249 feet.

CODDING TO LEAD LAW ENFORCERS

At a meeting of the Southern Oregon Law Enforcement association at the Umpqua Hotel in Roseburg Saturday, District Attorney George Coddington of Medford was chosen as president for the coming year. Sheriff Percy Webb of Douglas county was elected vice-president, and Justice E. W. Madison of Grants Pass as secretary.

Eight local police officers attended

GIRL BASKETEERS TO PRACTICE AT 7 P. M.

The G. C. C. basketball class will hold an important practice at 7:00 this evening in the small gym at the Medford high school. In order to give every girl a chance to play in actual competition Mrs. Russell has arranged for a double-header with Grants Pass in this city February 11.

A group of Grants Pass business women will meet the Medford "A" team, while the Grants Pass Community club, which lost two close games with the local first string, will try its luck this time with the Medford "B" team.

BUTTE FALLS DEFEATS SAMS VALLEY TOWNIES

BUTTE FALLS, Feb. 4.—(Sp.)—The Butte Falls town team enjoyed its fourth win of the season Friday night by defeating Sams Valley town, victors over Prospect two weeks ago.

Although bothered by the small Sams Valley floor, the timber beasts presented a fast, scrappy combination which held Sams Valley to one field goal in the last half and banged out a 29-15 win in a roughhouse contest.

The lineup:

Butte Falls (29)	Sams Valley (15)
Stoddard (4)	(3) Coia
J. Tungate (6)	(4) McDonough
H. Tungate (6)	(3) Duggan

GOLFERS OF KLAMATH ENJOY TOURNEY HERE, INVITE LOCALS OVER

After giving more than 40 Klamath Falls golfers a chance to limber up from their winter's hibernation, an inter-city tournament yesterday on the Medford course, members of Rogue Valley club were extended a cordial invitation to journey to Klamath Falls as soon as the snow leaves the ground there for a return event.

The tournament Sunday was played more for good will than for competition, and as the visitors have been forced to leave their clubs in the bag during most of the winter because of the snow, they were in the mood for practice rounds rather than for stiff matches. The scores lined up well in favor of the Medford players, but it is felt that when they go over the mountain some tough opposition will be awaiting them.

In a special event, Jack Huaston, Medford pro, and Ed Simmons, winner of the recent southern Oregon championship tournament, defeated a team composed of Bill Hockley, Klamath Falls pro, and Leland Clark, winner of the PAT tourney.

Among the group from Klamath Falls were many lady players who were paired with lady members of the local club. Lunch was served at noon and the visitors expressed the opinion that the tournament was most successful.

CRUSTED SNOW CUTS SEATTLE SKI JUMPS

SEATTLE, Feb. 4.—(AP)—Crusted snow which made jumping on the "Big Hill" so dangerous as to be banned by tournament officials was blamed today for the "short" jumps in the Seattle Ski club's annual tournament at Snoqualmie pass, won by Hjalmar Vram, the Portland Cascade Ski club ace.

Heam put together two leaps of 127 and 128 feet yesterday to complete 254.9 points, and nose out Hermod Bakke, Leavenworth Winter Sports club star. Bakke, winner last week of the Mount Hood tournament, made leaps of 125 and 128 feet, for 219.8 points.

Junkers, Aircraft Pioneer, Succumbs

DESSAU, Germany, Feb. 4.—(AP)—Dr. Hugo Junkers, pioneer aircraft manufacturer, died last night on his 76th birthday. His death occurred in a Munich hospital where he recently had undergone an operation.

Dr. Junkers would have celebrated today the 25th anniversary of the day on which he was granted a patent on his first metal monoplane.

New Park Employee—Ray Doty has been employed as assistant park mechanic for Crater Lake national park, and is at work repairing trucks and equipment at the Medford warehouse and garage. He is assistant to Marvin Palm.

CHEMAWA MANAGER SHOWS GOLF SKILL

Reuben Saunders of Salem, who came to Medford Friday with the Chemawa school basketball team, as their manager, and the team coach, Julian Leonard, warmed up a little golf at the Medford public links Friday forenoon. Saunders shot a stumpy 33 for the nine holes, equalling the course record the first time he had played the sporty layout. What might he do after a few practice rounds?

Keith Baughman shot a 33 score after the course was opened in 1932, and F. W. Charney has also equaled this score.
