PEACH TREE SPRAY ADVISED BY AGENT

All peach trees should be sprayed with Bordeaux mixture 6-6-50 within the next ten days or two weeks, is the advice of County Agent Wilcox to growers who desire to control "curly leaf."

Peach leaf curl, commonly called "curly leaf" is a fungus disease attacking young leaves and shoots in early spring, infections taking place as the buds crack open. Later in season the diseased tissue becomes thickened and takes on a whitish bloom or pubescence, finally dries up and either hangs on the tree throughout the season or falls to the ground.

Spraying must be completed before the buds crack open, otherwise the fungus enters the young leaves while they are still in the bud stage. Bordeaux mixture 6-6-50 is the most effective material and will assure control if applied early enough.

The green peach aphid causes a leaf injury very similar to "curly leaf." The control for this insect is a nicotine sulfate spray applied just prior to the bloom.

JOURNALISM CLASS INSPECTS TRIBUNE

Twenty-five members of the high school journalism class this morning visited the Mail Tribune offices, on a tour of inspection and education, a regular feature given in conjunction with the semester work.

The tour revealed the various features of interest in the matter of gathering, writing, editing, casting and printing of news matter, and the machines used in the offices were shown and explained to the class.

Prof. R. E. Robinson, instructor of journalism, conducted the tour. He stated that journalism is one of the most popular courses given at the high school, several applicants having been turned down at the beginning of the semester for lack of teaching facilities.

All of the regular news writing on the "Hi Times" student publication, is done by the class, and some of the writing for the school annual, the "Crater," the professor explained. This is the second week of work for the class.

Never Treat A Cough Lightly

It Might Be Dangerous

Never send a boy to do a man's work. That's why we say to you, go today to Jarmin's Drug Store and get a bottle of that famous, smooth, creamy, sweetened Emulsion known to pharmacians as Bronchiline Emulsion. It's a medicine for grown-ups for coughs that hang on and never seem to let go. No sweet syrupy concoction that simply plays with a cough—no dope or habit-forming drugs. It quickly strikes at the source of the trouble. Get a bottle and enjoy a good night's rest.

CLOTHES TO SUIT CHANGING MOODS OF MODERN LADY

By ADELAIDE KERR. Associated Press Foreign Staff. PARIS, Feb. 5.—(AP)—"Psychological" styles to fit the moods of modern women as well as her figure are next in the varied spring fashion picture.

Declaring that in every 24 hours the modern woman indulges in more activity than her grandmother would have undertaken in a month, and that the multitude of activities bring on a multitude of moods, Lelong has launched a wide variety of 1935 clothes ready for everything from business to a flirtation.

For the analytical mood in business or shopping, he displayed trim tweed suits, in tones of beige, brown and blue. For the same mood were simple and slender wool coats, having a small reverse, worn over plain two-piece frocks of wool and printed crepe with "no nonsense" in designs.

For the gay humor of sports there were dashing black and white plain capes topped black skirts while for flirtations and the cocktail hour there were suits with black and white paillettes of brown and pink flowered taffeta, accompanied by sheer or ruffled blouses.

For evening hours, when the modern eye wants to look as feminine as a flower, the designer displayed a plaid organza of flowered taffeta with violet tulle and with a full swishing skirt. For gala nights, however, when mildy wishes to look as regal as a queen, he showered flowered crepes covered solidly with shimmering transparent paillette or changeable taffetas designed with skirt fullness sweeping all to the back in a modified train.

Green pebbled taffeta with black faille fashioned in long fitted evening wraps were ready to suit the exacting whim for elegance.

C. OF C. TO BOOST MEMBERSHIP FOR NEEDED FINANCES

Commerce gives the widest scope for individual initiative to assert itself. The Chamber of Commerce renders ineffective that deadly jealousy which so often confronts individual initiative for civic development. When individual initiative is exercised in a Chamber of Commerce, it does not stand out as such; and every member of the organization has an opportunity to discuss the thing proposed and, if it is any good, to make it his own.

Best Civic Agency. "As the human family has adopted family and home as the best plan so far devised for the comfort and convenience of the race, so has the city adopted the Chamber of Commerce as the most dependable instrument so far invented for civic progress. I believe our Chamber of Commerce measures up to all the qualifications expected for such an organization."

Highlights of the activities of the Chamber of Commerce during the present fiscal year follow:

Publicity—Carried out a well defined publicity campaign in newspapers and magazines. Special features emphasized included: oldest Methodist church in Oregon; oldest bank in Oregon; oldest brick building in Oregon; peach raising; grape culture; Southern Oregon golf tournament; Medford hen which laid 360 eggs in 365 days; feature stories on our varied resources, with photographs, were prepared and have been published.

Agriculture—Organized the following grower groups and assisted in perfecting marketing plans: Peach, apricot, walnut, strawberry, potato and rabbit. Also helped organize turkey cooperative association. The grower groups reacted to the financial benefit of the producers and this activity will be carried out each year just prior to the harvesting of the respective crops. We also assisted with the Oregon cauliflower marketing agreement.

General—Organized the national housing act in Medford and later completed similar organization in the rural districts; cooperated with Oregon products campaign which resulted in The Medford Mail Tribune winning trophy for best program of any newspaper in Oregon; conducted campaign for the sewer bond issue, which was voted by a big majority; conducted a hearing designed to preserve forests lining highways; organized the Jackson County Chamber of Commerce to take the place of the Medford Chamber of Commerce, thereby making activities county wide; organized Jackson County Development committee to formulate a five-year development program for the county; prepared brief of needed projects which were submitted to public works administration; assisted in conducting Grater City harbor hearing here.

Aviation and National Defense—Organized a committee to study national defense problems as they relate to Oregon. The committee's recommendations were submitted to Oregon congressional delegation. Among other things, the committee advocated the establishment of a mooring mast for the Macon at the airport and also urged that Medford be made an army airbase. Medford was represented at a hearing conducted by President Roosevelt's Aviation Commission at Washington, D. C.

C., and Robert Fechner, director of the Civilian Conservation Corps; luncheon for David H. Cantfield, superintendent of Crater Lake National park; unemployment insurance luncheon.

U., Shasta Cascade Wonderland association, P. E. O., Oregon Postal Clerks, and the Oregon Letter Carriers.

No definite results have been obtained for the Williams creek road, but the committee is watching this project closely.

Legislation—Each day bills submitted to the house and the state senate are gone over and those effecting Jackson county are referred to respective groups. Recommended defeat of House Bill 129, House Bill 89, House Bill 97, House Bill 47, and urged support of House Bill 111.

Fish and Game—This committee recommended a dollar license for two days for tourists, also successful in obtaining rainbow and cutthroat plantings in the county.

Are you serving a MINUS MEAL?

Many wives, unknowingly, serve "minus meals." The food is good, and well cooked. But it has little or no "bulk"—needed to promote regular habits.

"Minus meal" frequently causes common constipation due to insufficient "bulk" in the diet. Headaches, loss of appetite and dull, spiritless days too often follow.

Correct the "minus meal" by serving Kellogg's All-Bran regularly. Its gentle "bulk" does not break down in the body as much as the fiber in fruits and vegetables. So it is more effective. All-Bran also supplies vitamin B and iron.

Certainly it is safer to use this natural food in place of patent medicines. Two tablespoons daily are usually sufficient. Chronic cases, with each meal. If relief is not obtained, see your doctor.

All-Bran remains effective with continued use. Serve as a cereal with milk or cream, or cook into muffins, breads, waffles, etc. Get the red-and-green package at your grocer's. Made by Kellogg in Battle Creek.
