COUNTY ROAD MINING WILL BE HALTED BY COUNTY COURT ORDER

Steps were taken today by the county court, to prohibit mining operations on county road rights-of-way, and to this end an order has been prepared for service upon three or four miners operating in the foot-hill sections of the Phoenix district.

District Attorney Coddling said today, "It is probably due to a misunderstanding."

Reports reaching the county authorities state that the miners "put" alongside the roads, where water flows or has settled, and in some instances have dug into the main road. They fill this up, with soft dirt, which settles, and leaves a "chuck-hole"—a condition not entirely due to mining, on any number of routes.

Complaints have also been filed, that adjoining land is damaged slightly, by undermining.

There have been no reports of the miners making any rich hauls, but it is presumed there is some monetary reward, or the operations would not continue.
