This exhibition is part of the National "Better Billiards" program being sponsored by the National Billiard Association of America and the invitation to receive these free instructions is extended to both men and women.

Last year on a similar tour through the United States, he played 319 exhibition games and won 290 of them. He began his billiard career, like several others of the present day experts, in his father's billiard room in Grand Rapids. He started playing at the age of 10 and has never taken a lesson from a professional billiard player.

Vanities' Stars In Vaudeville Tonight

With stars from Flo Ziegfeld's "Vanities" and Earl Carroll's "Vanities," assisted by headline artists from leading vaudeville circuits of the country, the "Hi-Boy Revue" is at the Craterian theatre today for a one day only engagement.

On the screen is a mystery-thriller, "The White Cockatoo," with Ricardo Cortez, Jean Muir and Ruth Donnelly in featured roles.

Bob Stickney and Lillian Aylin, the two star features of the revue are well known to all followers of vaudeville and, with his stage antics atop high stunts, Stickney has become known as the "Longest Comedian in the World." Miss Aylin, his foil and partner, is a former beauty contest winner and an accomplished musician.

DeCounte and Marie, who present the French Apache dance as they learned it in Paris, share top billing. Several other fine acts add to the entertainment.

Curt Davis, Phillies' pitcher, did not play baseball at all until he was 15 years old, then started as a first baseman.

POLICE RADIO FOR CITY PROPOSED AS ACTIVIAN PROJECT

Victor Milnes was principal speaker at the regular meeting of Active club last night, introducing to the members a plan whereby a police radio transmitting system would be installed for the Medford district.

Milnes said the Oregon state police department will soon be equipped with three transmitting stations throughout the state, and that Medford is being considered for the southern Oregon area. The equipment, consisting of a short wave transmitter to be installed at the headquarters here, and 15 receiving sets in Medford district police cars, could be maintained at a cost to the city of Medford of $50 a month, he pointed out.

The club went on record as highly in favor of the move, which it is felt will not only lessen mileage expenses of the state police, but will greatly increase state police protection over southern Oregon. A committee is to be appointed soon by the club president to investigate and promote the proposal.

A report was made by members who attended the mid-year convention last Saturday and Sunday at Longmeir, Wash. Glen Patrick, district governor; Wm. McAllister, trustee of international; Kenneth Denman, president of Medford Active club; Jack Butler, vice-president, and John Niedermeyer made the trip.

They reported having had an excellent meeting, taking part in winter sports, around which the convention was centered. Enroute north they picked up Don Hood of Portland, past-president of Portland Active club, and now on the international board of trustees, who accompanied them to Longmeir.

Approximately 1200 persons attended the meeting, according to the Medford delegation, enjoying skiing in the wonderful grounds surrounding Paradise valley. One aside near Muller Rock was said to require only 11 minutes in contrast to four and one-half hours' climb.

George Robertson of Gilmore Oil company was accepted as a new member of the Medford club. Guests at the meeting were Sandy Westergren, W. E. Nitzel, Ray Frisbie and G. A. Thornton of Portland, representative of Associated Oil.

President Patrick announced that in the near future the third district, Active club international, will hold a convention at Eugene, attended by delegations from Medford, Eugene, Portland and Salem.

It was also announced that Gordon Pledge Cooperation THE DALLES, Ore., Feb. 6.—(AP)—A pledge of cooperation from the Portland chamber of commerce in the campaign for complete development of the Columbia River, was made at a forum banquet here last night by Walter W. R. May, manager, and Philip Jackson, president, of the Portland chamber.

Eight of the top 11 basemen of the National league in 1934 were left-handers. Kiki Cuyler and Elhan Allen were the only out-and-out right hand swingers and Rip Collins is a "turn-around" batter.

"Broadway Bill" Coming Thursday

Shown here last week as a special feature for the President Roosevelt birthday fund benefit, "Broadway Bill" coming tomorrow to the Craterian theatre has already had wide praise from those who saw it at its premiere at that time.

Directed by Frank Capra, who has to his credit "Lady for a Day" and "It Happened One Night," the two big hits of last year, the cast of "Broadway Bill" includes Warner Baxter, Myrna Loy, Walter Connolly and Helen Vinson.

The story follows the fortunes, good and bad, of Baxter in his quest for wealth and glory with his race horse, and has many typical Capra touches that enlivened the other two films.

L. Pratt, former member of Medford Active club, has been elected president of the Wenatchee, Wash., organization.

who becomes indebted to Charley Young, a half-caste Chinaman, portrayed by Raft, plays the ingenue to perfection.

There are many thrills in the picture.

SCREEN REVIEW

(By Dick Applegate.)
With the element of oriental mystery skilfully blended into the story and photography of "Lime House Blues," that picture, which opened yesterday at the Rialto theatre, offers the best vehicle yet to be produced to exploit the peculiar talents of George Raft. Known as a "hooper" in the cinema world, Raft's dancing in this picture can not be compared with his work in "Bolero," but in every other detail he has improved.

To rid one's feet of every hard corn, soft corn, corn between the toes or painful callouses in such a pleasant and safe way, makes it seem the height of folly for anyone to pare a corn and people are warned to stop it.

ture, outstanding of which is a race between the smuggling boat of Raft and an English police cutter, on the Thames river at night.

This is the first picture that I have seen in which I liked Raft. Before, he has always appeared to me as a gangster type of the worst kind, from the lower East Side of New York. The fact is, he pretends to be nothing else, so that shouldn't be held against him, I suppose. At any rate, I'm now a minor Raft fan.

If I see many more pictures in the near future with London for a locale, I'll be saying "Blimey, ol' fellow," just like that. That cockney accent is refreshing for a change, but not so hot for a steady diet. Couldn't very well picture Lime House without it, though.

This is a show that you don't want to miss.

Irving "Burr" Barling of the Michigan State college baseball squad has received at least seven offers from big league scouts eager to get an option on him, but he has declined them all. He has two more seasons in college.

Captain-sket Joe Sullivan of the 1933 Notre Dame football team was formerly national indoor interscholastic shotput champion and is in the Irish track team as a weight topper.
