

HINMAN SELECTED FOR WASHINGTON GRID SCHOLARSHIP

Bob Hinman, three-year letterman for Medford high school and end on the 1934 team which tied Washington high school of Portland for the state championship, has been selected one of 28 high school graduates in the United States to receive a football scholarship to University of Washington.

The selection was made last night by Coach Wilcox, Washington's varsity backfield coach and former Purdue star, who has nearly completed a $500-mile tour of the country in search of football material.

Although he has not accepted the offer, Hinman will leave by invitation within three weeks for Seattle, where he will meet others of the 28 players selected and probably notify Coach Wilcox of his acceptance.

Coach Wilcox, impressed by Hinman's record, interest in football and physique, which he has built to 185 pounds, said one of the greatest factors in the selection was his outstanding defensive performance in the Washington game, as reported by a University of Washington scout who said Hinman repeatedly broke up the opposition's off-tackle plays and held them to little gain around his end.

Hinman had a similar offer from University of Oregon and is under consideration by a scout from Stanford in the event that he accepts the Washington offer. Coach Wilcox said he will start training next fall with the best prospective freshman team University of Washington has ever assembled.

SAMS VALLEY QUINTS DIVIDE LAURELS WITH ASHLAND BASKETEERS

The Sama Valley "Warriors" added another win to their ever increasing list Monday night by swamping the Ashland Junior high team, 40-11. The locals opened the scoring early in the game and held a 12-2 lead at quarter, which was increased to 24-5 at half time. Lloyd Dusenberry again collected high scoring honors with 15 points, while Wright and Lewis Dusenberry collected 8 and Abel led the visitors with 4.

The B team lost a close ragged game to the Ashland second string, 23-18. The locals failed to show their usual speed and passing attack, trailing all the way.

In a third game the local girls' team defeated the Jacksonville girls, 25-15.

The next home game for Sama Valley will be Wednesday night, February 20, when Williams creek will come here in a return game. This team, coached by A. B. Collett, former principal of Sama Valley, is fast and a clever shooting aggregation. The locals barely edged out a 20-19 decision there last week in an over-time period.

The girls' game promises to be a thriller also, as the locals just emerged victorious in their first meeting, in a last quarter rally, after trailing most of the game. The final score was 24-16.

Enraged Grappler Tumbles Referee Among Spectators

SACRAMENTO, Feb. 13.—(AP)—Enraged when referee Kenneth Larson warned a wrestling bout to Gus Sonnenberg, Hardy Krueger, Sonnenberg's opponent, jumped the referee over the ropes and out of the ring, injuring Mrs. Louisa La Place, 55, wife of a state traffic inspector. Larson said some woman spectator ground her heel into his forehead while he was on the floor.

Don J. Shields, state athletic inspector, ordered an investigation of the affair.

SPORT SLANTS

Those boxing champions who go tramping around the country picking up easy money in exhibition, over-weight and no-decision bouts had better be prepared for a little surprise now and then. Often the "easy money" proves hard earned.

Sometimes the supposedly easy victim, who is expected to be avenged by the gladiator of the champion's title and what not, forgets his lines and brings one up from the floor—bingo!—and you have what is known as an upset. Then there are times when a champion's smart manager is outsmarted and bites off more than his "champ" can chew.

The clowning Max Baer may laugh at such a possibility, but he might do a lot worse than listen to the lament of one Ray Foutts.

Mr. Foutts is the manager of Ted Yaros, middleweight champion of the world in some parts of this country. Now it seems that Mr. Foutts, following the accepted managerial code for handling fistie champions, resolved to start the new year right for his champion.

The Champ Gets "Crowned."

Accordingly he signed Yaros to meet an unknown middleweight by the name of Eddie (Babe) Risko at Scranton, Pa., on New Year's day. Just to make his champion's crown completely safe, Mr. Foutts forced Risko to come in a couple of pounds over the middleweight limit.

Satisfied that he had done his part, Mr. Foutts settled back in his corner to watch his pride and joy make a show of the unknown Risko. The crowd was small, but there was nothing to worry about, as the $1500 guarantee was tucked away safely in his pocket.

Risko forgot his role and started right out to pound the champion to the floor. Six times Yaros bounced off the resin before Mr. Foutts regained his composure sufficiently to toss in the merciful towel in the seventh round. Risko had 2217 to show for his efforts—the little matter of two extra pounds deprived him of the right to sign "champion" after his name.

January 1 will always be a headache to Mr. Foutts for it is doubtful if he will ever forget that date after what happened on that fateful New Year's afternoon.

The pugilistic limelight was turned on Risko in full brilliance. He was "made."

No Surprise to the Navy.

Babe Risko may have been unknown in professional fight circles,

OFFICER RELATES ESCAPE OF CREW AS SHIP SETTLED

That locked cabin," Commander Clay said. "Every instinct must have warned him that he was facing death, but he stayed at his post like a sailor until Commander Wiley gave the word. Then he rushed out of the cabin and I saw him leap from the falling airship into the sea. It was a jump of perhaps 50 or 75 feet, for we had not yet reached the surface. That was the last I saw of him.

"A few minutes later the sea was full of men, including myself. The airship continued its descent, and we had jumped or slid down lines into the water. I myself was in the water for perhaps ten minutes, until picked up by a lifeboat, as were most of the other men.

"In my lifeboat we drifted for perhaps half an hour, until the cruiser Richmond with Rear Admiral Chas. E. Courtney aboard, made us out with their searchlights. We were the first boat to be picked up by the Richmond.

"Sixty-four men were taken aboard the Richmond and the balance of the 81 rescued aboard the cruisers Cincinnati and Concord before the work ended.

"None of our men on the Richmond was seriously injured, and bruises and a few strained muscles were all besides the ducking they had to show for the experience."

ALCOHOLIC CONTENT LIMITATION ON BEER ARGUED AT HEARING

SALEM, Feb. 13.—(AP)—The question of the alcoholic content of beer came up before the alcoholic committee of the legislature at a hearing last night, with a number of brewers of the state urging that the alcoholic strength be limited to 3.6 per cent.

Frank Lonergan, counsel for the brewers, asked that the limit not apply to bottled beer, because bottling conditions made it more feasible to handle 5 per cent beverage. Arnold Blitt, Portland brewer, sided with Lonergan.

Senator Charles Spaulding spoke in favor of his bill which would limit draft beer to 3.2 per cent and bottle beer to 3.6. "If you don't hold to this margin you will put the state dry," he warned. "You find people drunk in all these beer joints."

A 10 per cent tax on tobacco was also argued before committee, with C. C. Chapman of the Oregon Voter Holding that such a tax would raise $1,000,000 annually for the care of the unemployed.

Others contended that the tax on tobacco was already more than the industry should bear.

PORTLAND FIGHT ENDS IN FIASCO

PORTLAND, Ore., Feb. 13.—(AP)—The return of Joe Waterman as Portland matchmaker was marked by the uninspiring spectacle last night of Freddie Steele of Tacoma being awarded a technical knockout when Indian Jimmy Rivers without being hit, suddenly dropped to one knee.

Rivers, who held his own in the early exchanges and did most of the slapping and hitting in the fifth, suddenly dropped to his knee and the referee at once raised Steele's hand in victory.

Rivers, who fared well at infighting, weighed 161 and Steele 155 1/2.

Hal Hoxwood, 162, Boise, Idaho, penetrated the defensive shell of Sig Ecklund, 161 1/2, Portland, enough to administer him a thorough eight round drubbing.

MEANIE PROGRAM INTERESTS FANS

For many years Promoter Mack Lillard has succeeded in bringing to Medford occasionally several of the wrestling profession's bad actors, but fans are agreeing that the lineup for tomorrow night's card at the armory offers one of the best prospective assortments of meanies ever assembled for one mat program.

In the main event, Medford's own pet hate, Able Kaplan of New York, will tangle for an hour or two out of three falls with Pete Belcastro, belligerent Italian who enjoys the reputation of being one of the most sensational of wrestlers on the coast.

This bout, while promising a little of everything in the way of colorful mat entertainment, will cast no particular shadow over the semi-final, in which "Awful Al" Karasick of Russia will match muscles with "Bad Boy" Billy Newman of Denver.
