

MEDFORD MAIL TRIBUNE

Published by MEDFORD PRINTING CO. 25-27-29 N. 1st St. Phone 15

MEMBER OF UNITED PRESS MEMBER OF ADVERTISING REPRESENTATIVE M. C. MOOREHEAD & COMPANY

MEMBER OF THE OREGON STATE ASSOCIATION OF EDITORS

Ye Smudge Pot By Arthur Perry

Another citizen—this time in Cmw. Wales—died and was restored to life. Like four other men, who recently underwent the same thrilling experience, the resident of Cmw made a hurried trip to Heaven, and was impressed with the singing he thinks he heard, and the happiness of the people he saw.

It was so cold Monday morn that dollars in the pants pockets of citizens, who possess both, were chilled.

There will be no wrestling for two (2) weeks. This will enable the wrestlers to get over being ashamed of the way they acted last time.

The situation grows slightly worse. A member of the legislature objects to a change in the state police law enabling the state police to "bully" a law violator by arresting him.

It's a used car the day after you get it. But you bought it new, no matter how far the agent had driven it—(Dunbar's Weekly)—A great and painful truth.

HOW LIKE THE LADIES. (S. F. Call-Bulletin)

"Women see just how much they can get away with when it comes to observance of signs," said a department store executive.

Styles in suicides now require the world weary soul to leap out of a plane, instead of trying to fly across an ocean in one.

Seventeen men working night and day for a month, have about completed work on a "brief" for a lawyer.

Long distance passing-of-the-hat is becoming quite a vogue on radio broadcasts. Listeners are now urged to show their faith in rainbows, by sending $1 by mail, and "stamp will be returned to the sender."

"REMEMBER THE EMPLOYED?" There are about 10,000,000 unemployed in this country. There are about 40,000,000 who are "statistically employed."

PRELIMINARY studies indicate that a substantial increase in hog income is resulting from the adjustment in hog marketings effected during the 1933-34 emergency hog-buying program and the 1934 corn-hog production adjustment program of the Agricultural Adjustment Administration.

The First Two Years

YESTERDAY President Roosevelt completed half his term. In reviewing the first two years, what should be the verdict? To judge the results, one must bear in mind the purposes.

IN our judgment, President Roosevelt's reform program has been more successful than his prosperity program. Child labor has been eliminated, the right of organized labor to bargain collectively has been clearly established.

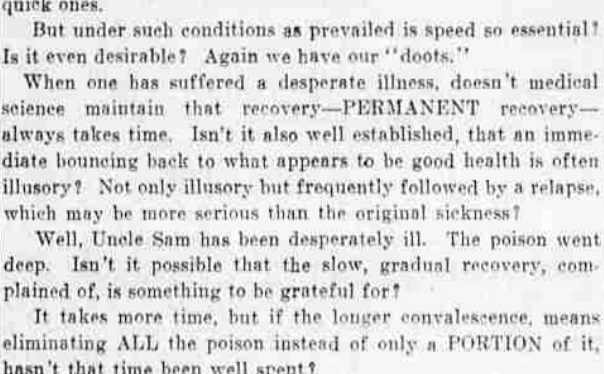

ON the other side of the ledger, the results have not been so satisfactory. There are still millions of unemployed; the national budget is not balanced and there is no indication it will be.

BUT would the prospects for the future, be any more reassuring? We doubt it. For, as we see it, prosperity without reform—without essential change,—would have had within it the seeds of its own destruction.

THERE is another point to be considered. Recovery has been slow,—too slow to satisfy American business, as a whole; or for that matter a majority of the American people.

WE THINK so. No competent observer can deny that material conditions in this country are far better than they were two years ago.

ADJUSTMENT RAISES HOG INCOME. Inspected Hog Slaughter, and Total Paid by Packers, for first 8 Months, 1933 and 1934

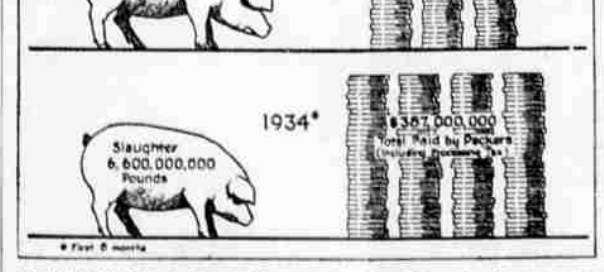

PRELIMINARY studies indicate that a substantial increase in hog income is resulting from the adjustment in hog marketings effected during the 1933-34 emergency hog-buying program and the 1934 corn-hog production adjustment program of the Agricultural Adjustment Administration.

REWARD OFFERED FOR PENDLETON POISONER. Pendleton, March 4—(AP)—Dog owners of Pendleton's north side were up arms today over the recent poisoning of four dogs, and a group has posted a reward of $500 for information leading to identity of the killer.

NEW YORK DAY BY DAY. By O. O. McIntyre. NEW YORK, Mar. 3.—Not that Sinclair Lewis would care, but he is facing the possibility of being known as "Mr. Dorothy Thompson."

MISS THOMPSON, whom the writer John Gunther calls "the worst photographed woman in the United States," is of great beauty and remarkable charm.

ADJUSTMENT RAISES HOG INCOME. Inspected Hog Slaughter, and Total Paid by Packers, for first 8 Months, 1933 and 1934

REWARD OFFERED FOR PENDLETON POISONER. Pendleton, March 4—(AP)—Dog owners of Pendleton's north side were up arms today over the recent poisoning of four dogs, and a group has posted a reward of $500 for information leading to identity of the killer.

Personal Health Service

By William Brady, M.D. Signed letters pertaining to personal health and hygiene not to disease diagnosis or treatment will be answered by Dr. Brady if a stamped self-addressed envelope is enclosed.

THE OLD WOMAN WILL TALK. My wife is a patient in hospital for the insane. The diagnosis is dementia praecox, paranoid.

QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS. Please give your opinion of the assertion made in the clipping enclosed. Answer—Says the near-doctor: "Alcoholic intoxication is prevalent among infants artificially fed."

QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS. Please give your opinion of the assertion made in the clipping enclosed. Answer—Says the near-doctor: "Alcoholic intoxication is prevalent among infants artificially fed."

QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS. Please give your opinion of the assertion made in the clipping enclosed. Answer—Says the near-doctor: "Alcoholic intoxication is prevalent among infants artificially fed."

QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS. Please give your opinion of the assertion made in the clipping enclosed. Answer—Says the near-doctor: "Alcoholic intoxication is prevalent among infants artificially fed."

QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS. Please give your opinion of the assertion made in the clipping enclosed. Answer—Says the near-doctor: "Alcoholic intoxication is prevalent among infants artificially fed."

QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS. Please give your opinion of the assertion made in the clipping enclosed. Answer—Says the near-doctor: "Alcoholic intoxication is prevalent among infants artificially fed."

QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS. Please give your opinion of the assertion made in the clipping enclosed. Answer—Says the near-doctor: "Alcoholic intoxication is prevalent among infants artificially fed."

QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS. Please give your opinion of the assertion made in the clipping enclosed. Answer—Says the near-doctor: "Alcoholic intoxication is prevalent among infants artificially fed."

QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS. Please give your opinion of the assertion made in the clipping enclosed. Answer—Says the near-doctor: "Alcoholic intoxication is prevalent among infants artificially fed."

QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS. Please give your opinion of the assertion made in the clipping enclosed. Answer—Says the near-doctor: "Alcoholic intoxication is prevalent among infants artificially fed."

QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS. Please give your opinion of the assertion made in the clipping enclosed. Answer—Says the near-doctor: "Alcoholic intoxication is prevalent among infants artificially fed."

QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS. Please give your opinion of the assertion made in the clipping enclosed. Answer—Says the near-doctor: "Alcoholic intoxication is prevalent among infants artificially fed."

QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS. Please give your opinion of the assertion made in the clipping enclosed. Answer—Says the near-doctor: "Alcoholic intoxication is prevalent among infants artificially fed."

QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS. Please give your opinion of the assertion made in the clipping enclosed. Answer—Says the near-doctor: "Alcoholic intoxication is prevalent among infants artificially fed."

QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS. Please give your opinion of the assertion made in the clipping enclosed. Answer—Says the near-doctor: "Alcoholic intoxication is prevalent among infants artificially fed."

QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS. Please give your opinion of the assertion made in the clipping enclosed. Answer—Says the near-doctor: "Alcoholic intoxication is prevalent among infants artificially fed."

QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS. Please give your opinion of the assertion made in the clipping enclosed. Answer—Says the near-doctor: "Alcoholic intoxication is prevalent among infants artificially fed."

QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS. Please give your opinion of the assertion made in the clipping enclosed. Answer—Says the near-doctor: "Alcoholic intoxication is prevalent among infants artificially fed."

QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS. Please give your opinion of the assertion made in the clipping enclosed. Answer—Says the near-doctor: "Alcoholic intoxication is prevalent among infants artificially fed."

QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS. Please give your opinion of the assertion made in the clipping enclosed. Answer—Says the near-doctor: "Alcoholic intoxication is prevalent among infants artificially fed."

QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS. Please give your opinion of the assertion made in the clipping enclosed. Answer—Says the near-doctor: "Alcoholic intoxication is prevalent among infants artificially fed."

QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS. Please give your opinion of the assertion made in the clipping enclosed. Answer—Says the near-doctor: "Alcoholic intoxication is prevalent among infants artificially fed."

QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS. Please give your opinion of the assertion made in the clipping enclosed. Answer—Says the near-doctor: "Alcoholic intoxication is prevalent among infants artificially fed."

QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS. Please give your opinion of the assertion made in the clipping enclosed. Answer—Says the near-doctor: "Alcoholic intoxication is prevalent among infants artificially fed."

QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS. Please give your opinion of the assertion made in the clipping enclosed. Answer—Says the near-doctor: "Alcoholic intoxication is prevalent among infants artificially fed."

QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS. Please give your opinion of the assertion made in the clipping enclosed. Answer—Says the near-doctor: "Alcoholic intoxication is prevalent among infants artificially fed."

Comment on the Day's News

By FRANK JENKINS. WE of the present day have the idea that we have all the troubles—and don't hesitate to say so.

WE of the present day have the idea that we have all the troubles—and don't hesitate to say so. As to that, it would be interesting to get the views of the little group of Oregon pioneers still remaining—the remnant of that determined body of men and women who took this state as a raw wilderness and built it to where it is now.

WE of the present day have the idea that we have all the troubles—and don't hesitate to say so. As to that, it would be interesting to get the views of the little group of Oregon pioneers still remaining—the remnant of that determined body of men and women who took this state as a raw wilderness and built it to where it is now.

WE of the present day have the idea that we have all the troubles—and don't hesitate to say so. As to that, it would be interesting to get the views of the little group of Oregon pioneers still remaining—the remnant of that determined body of men and women who took this state as a raw wilderness and built it to where it is now.

WE of the present day have the idea that we have all the troubles—and don't hesitate to say so. As to that, it would be interesting to get the views of the little group of Oregon pioneers still remaining—the remnant of that determined body of men and women who took this state as a raw wilderness and built it to where it is now.

WE of the present day have the idea that we have all the troubles—and don't hesitate to say so. As to that, it would be interesting to get the views of the little group of Oregon pioneers still remaining—the remnant of that determined body of men and women who took this state as a raw wilderness and built it to where it is now.

WE of the present day have the idea that we have all the troubles—and don't hesitate to say so. As to that, it would be interesting to get the views of the little group of Oregon pioneers still remaining—the remnant of that determined body of men and women who took this state as a raw wilderness and built it to where it is now.

WE of the present day have the idea that we have all the troubles—and don't hesitate to say so. As to that, it would be interesting to get the views of the little group of Oregon pioneers still remaining—the remnant of that determined body of men and women who took this state as a raw wilderness and built it to where it is now.

WE of the present day have the idea that we have all the troubles—and don't hesitate to say so. As to that, it would be interesting to get the views of the little group of Oregon pioneers still remaining—the remnant of that determined body of men and women who took this state as a raw wilderness and built it to where it is now.

WE of the present day have the idea that we have all the troubles—and don't hesitate to say so. As to that, it would be interesting to get the views of the little group of Oregon pioneers still remaining—the remnant of that determined body of men and women who took this state as a raw wilderness and built it to where it is now.

WE of the present day have the idea that we have all the troubles—and don't hesitate to say so. As to that, it would be interesting to get the views of the little group of Oregon pioneers still remaining—the remnant of that determined body of men and women who took this state as a raw wilderness and built it to where it is now.

WE of the present day have the idea that we have all the troubles—and don't hesitate to say so. As to that, it would be interesting to get the views of the little group of Oregon pioneers still remaining—the remnant of that determined body of men and women who took this state as a raw wilderness and built it to where it is now.

WE of the present day have the idea that we have all the troubles—and don't hesitate to say so. As to that, it would be interesting to get the views of the little group of Oregon pioneers still remaining—the remnant of that determined body of men and women who took this state as a raw wilderness and built it to where it is now.

WE of the present day have the idea that we have all the troubles—and don't hesitate to say so. As to that, it would be interesting to get the views of the little group of Oregon pioneers still remaining—the remnant of that determined body of men and women who took this state as a raw wilderness and built it to where it is now.

WE of the present day have the idea that we have all the troubles—and don't hesitate to say so. As to that, it would be interesting to get the views of the little group of Oregon pioneers still remaining—the remnant of that determined body of men and women who took this state as a raw wilderness and built it to where it is now.

WE of the present day have the idea that we have all the troubles—and don't hesitate to say so. As to that, it would be interesting to get the views of the little group of Oregon pioneers still remaining—the remnant of that determined body of men and women who took this state as a raw wilderness and built it to where it is now.

WE of the present day have the idea that we have all the troubles—and don't hesitate to say so. As to that, it would be interesting to get the views of the little group of Oregon pioneers still remaining—the remnant of that determined body of men and women who took this state as a raw wilderness and built it to where it is now.

WE of the present day have the idea that we have all the troubles—and don't hesitate to say so. As to that, it would be interesting to get the views of the little group of Oregon pioneers still remaining—the remnant of that determined body of men and women who took this state as a raw wilderness and built it to where it is now.

WE of the present day have the idea that we have all the troubles—and don't hesitate to say so. As to that, it would be interesting to get the views of the little group of Oregon pioneers still remaining—the remnant of that determined body of men and women who took this state as a raw wilderness and built it to where it is now.

WE of the present day have the idea that we have all the troubles—and don't hesitate to say so. As to that, it would be interesting to get the views of the little group of Oregon pioneers still remaining—the remnant of that determined body of men and women who took this state as a raw wilderness and built it to where it is now.

WE of the present day have the idea that we have all the troubles—and don't hesitate to say so. As to that, it would be interesting to get the views of the little group of Oregon pioneers still remaining—the remnant of that determined body of men and women who took this state as a raw wilderness and built it to where it is now.

WE of the present day have the idea that we have all the troubles—and don't hesitate to say so. As to that, it would be interesting to get the views of the little group of Oregon pioneers still remaining—the remnant of that determined body of men and women who took this state as a raw wilderness and built it to where it is now.

WE of the present day have the idea that we have all the troubles—and don't hesitate to say so. As to that, it would be interesting to get the views of the little group of Oregon pioneers still remaining—the remnant of that determined body of men and women who took this state as a raw wilderness and built it to where it is now.

WE of the present day have the idea that we have all the troubles—and don't hesitate to say so. As to that, it would be interesting to get the views of the little group of Oregon pioneers still remaining—the remnant of that determined body of men and women who took this state as a raw wilderness and built it to where it is now.

WE of the present day have the idea that we have all the troubles—and don't hesitate to say so. As to that, it would be interesting to get the views of the little group of Oregon pioneers still remaining—the remnant of that determined body of men and women who took this state as a raw wilderness and built it to where it is now.

WE of the present day have the idea that we have all the troubles—and don't hesitate to say so. As to that, it would be interesting to get the views of the little group of Oregon pioneers still remaining—the remnant of that determined body of men and women who took this state as a raw wilderness and built it to where it is now.

WE of the present day have the idea that we have all the troubles—and don't hesitate to say so. As to that, it would be interesting to get the views of the little group of Oregon pioneers still remaining—the remnant of that determined body of men and women who took this state as a raw wilderness and built it to where it is now.

WE of the present day have the idea that we have all the troubles—and don't hesitate to say so. As to that, it would be interesting to get the views of the little group of Oregon pioneers still remaining—the remnant of that determined body of men and women who took this state as a raw wilderness and built it to where it is now.

WE of the present day have the idea that we have all the troubles—and don't hesitate to say so. As to that, it would be interesting to get the views of the little group of Oregon pioneers still remaining—the remnant of that determined body of men and women who took this state as a raw wilderness and built it to where it is now.

WE of the present day have the idea that we have all the troubles—and don't hesitate to say so. As to that, it would be interesting to get the views of the little group of Oregon pioneers still remaining—the remnant of that determined body of men and women who took this state as a raw wilderness and built it to where it is now.

Flight 'o Time

(Medford and Jackson County History from the files of the Mail Tribune of 19 and 30 Years Ago)

TEN YEARS AGO TODAY. March 5, 1925. (It was Thursday.) J. H. Hogan & Co. start sawmill at Rogus River.

Good weather causes farmers to start plowing in the Beese creek district.

Rural residents turned still too early to plant cabbage plants.

Autolites warned "not to give rides to pedestrians on highway, unless they are known."

Game to decide the southern Oregon basketball title to be played at Ashland tomorrow night. Great excitement and much betting.

WENTY YEARS AGO TODAY. March 5, 1915. (It was Friday.) Jackson county exhibit at the San Francisco fair wins high praise from returning visitors.

Ashland announces annual clean-up day next Monday. A "clean-up" of the editor of the Mail Tribune is promised, unless he quits calling Ashland "the soda-pop city."

W. H. McGowan is elected exalted ruler of the Elks, with Charles B. Gay as tiler, and C. E. Gates as trustee, at annual election.

Valley fishermen pass resolution to "put Rogus river fish bill squarely up to the governor."

(Continued from Page One)

You may rest assured that telephone lines from the White House to congress are still working, and working overtime. The only difference is that no congressional leader will again make the mistake of getting up and blurring it out.

Don't sit up nights waiting for the automobile strike. Privately, laborites admit that no one, including the A. F. of L., knows how many members the federation has in auto. Recent elections indicated it did not have enough to stop work on two fenders.

A more important consideration, is money. If a strike call were successful, it would call for feeding, maybe housing, from fifteen to twenty-five thousands, which is more than the A. F. of L. treasury could stand right now.

What seems to be behind the move is an effort to expose labor's lack of confidence in the auto labor board, and drum up pressure on congress for the new Wagner bill.

The way European diplomats kill our embassies with kindness is illustrated by the personal experiences of Commissioner of Labor Statistics Lubin, who recently attended the international labor meeting at Geneva.

After he spoke on the forty-hour week, a prominent European diplomat approached him, saying: "That was a splendid speech. I did not agree with a word you said, but your ideas were very impressive."

Lubin managed to escape before he became inert, but some have not.

LEWIS MILES SWEET OF BEAGLE DIES OF PARALYTIC STROKE. Lewis Miles Sweet, well known and beloved resident of southern Oregon, where he has lived for the past 25 years, passed away at his residence at Beagle, Ore., at 8 p. m. Monday after a very short illness, due to a stroke of paralysis.

A COMPLETE SERVICE. Financing Information Plan Suggesting Reliable Contracting References.

Advertisement for 'A COMPLETE SERVICE' including financing information and references.

Advertisement for 'Bet 65 Cents On BRON-CHU-LINE' cough medicine.