CITY TO ENFORCE LICENSE LAWS

News Behind The News
By Paul Mallon
Copyright, 1935, by Paul Mallon
WASHINGTON, March 6.—There is some talk about taking up a new deal collection to buy a political medal for Donald Richberg. The coordinator's promise of no inflation within six years was considered a good deal. In fact there has been nothing like it since Huey Long offered to withdraw from the next presidential race if the new deal would share the wealth.

In the first Paul Mallon place, none of President Roosevelt's monetary advisers of whom Mr. Richberg is not one can see more than six months ahead right now. At least none is straining his eyes to see six years.

In the second, the word inflation is obsolete. It has become like the word love. It describes so much that it describes nothing. These factors create an ideal fog for the widest possible political prophecy, without hazards.

Yet down underneath the haze of loose talk, you may now begin to see the bare outlines of the inflationary ceiling which the new dealers seem to have in mind.

Quietly they have gone about the business of building various little factories for producing credit. One example is in the new bank bill. It is the mortgage discount phase. It means simply this:

Whenever you get a mortgage on your house at the bank, that bank may pass the mortgage on through the federal reserve system, where currency may be issued against it. You might call it a currency backed by mortgages instead of gold, silver, or what-not. Your house stands for it.

This little device supplements another device arrangement whereby government bonds may be handled in the same way. That is, currency may be issued against them.

Theoretically, this sounds like big stuff. Actually, it is not. The secret of its operating scope is that of all factories. It can produce only as much as it can sell. So far, it has not sold very much credit, because there is no booming demand for it. There will be no demand until business starts rebuilding. Until then, the interest cost of discounting bonds and mortgages will make such credit expansion unprofitable and useless.

So the only thing it will do is to prepare the way to meet credit demand six months, a year or two from now, when and if the country needs it.

But there is more behind it than that. In this present credit hiatus, these little devices permit the government to borrow all the money it wants. The government is one buyer who is demanding more and more credit. The banks have no place else to put their money and no excuse for declining to take government bonds.

MANY BUSINESSES OPERATE WITHOUT PAYMENT OF FEES

Council Decides to Serve Notice Violators Will Be Arrested — Two Weeks of Grace to Be Allowed

A determined drive to cease "making a collection agency of the city," by rigid enforcement of the license ordinance was started at a meeting of the city council last night when a motion was adopted to serve notice on all Medford business men who operate under licenses that if fees for 1935 are not paid within two weeks the violators will be arrested.

Warrants for the arrests will be sworn out by the city police department and the violators will be taken into city court, where fines will be assessed in the amount stipulated in the license ordinance.

J. F. Pfeigle, chairman of the license committee, made the motion, in an effort to clear up a "disgraceful" condition that he said has existed for several years, until it has become a precedent for licensed operators to stop to pay their fees.

It is hoped that the condition will be cleared up entirely by the concerted action that is being taken. City Recorder M. L. Alford in a report today estimated that although in past years some fees have been left uncollected, the total amount that should be collected for license fees for 1935 is approximately $2500.

Businessmen who will be effected include: dealers in electrical machinery, electrical contractors, merchants in plumbing merchandise, plumbing contractors, owners of dance and card rooms, truck operators, taxi operators, theatre owners, pool rooms and photographers.

Many Affected

In leading a rather lengthy discussion, Pfeigle said that in all probability many prominent business men will be affected by the ruling. He believes a strict enforcement is the duty of the council. His committee includes C. C. Furness and J. F. Erickson.

The matter has been under consideration by the council for several weeks and the first step in rigid enforcement was made at the last regular meeting when Pfeigle made a motion, that was adopted, providing:

STORM SWEEPING ON OREGON COAST

PORTLAND, Ore., Mar. 6.—(AP)—The weather bureau warned today that a disturbance of considerable importance was sweeping toward the Oregon and California coast.

Storm warnings were ordered up on the California coast from Point Conception northward, and small craft warnings were flying on the Oregon and Washington coast. The prediction was for strong southerly winds in western Oregon, warmer temperatures in the east portion of the state, rain on the coast and snow in the mountains.

ELIZABETH MCGROTTY FUNERAL IS THURSDAY

Funeral services for the late Elizabeth Irene McGrotty will be conducted at the Perl Funeral Home on Thursday afternoon at 3:30 o'clock. Rev. Cox officiating. Interment will take place in the Siskiyou Memorial park.

Production of sugar beets in Canada during 1934 for use in sugar refineries amounted to 533,000 tons compared with 437,000 tons in 1933.

WASHINGTON, March 6.—(AP)—Oliver Wendell Holmes, "great dissenter" of the United States supreme court, retired, died of bronchial pneumonia at 2:15 o'clock this morning. The end came quietly, in his sleep, a group of his old friends at the bedside in his old red brick house a few blocks from the capitol. And today the nation was preparing him a soldier's funeral.

On Friday, which would have been his 94th birthday, his country's leaders will gather in All Souls church to honor the man almost universally hailed as one of America's foremost liberals.

Judges Fall Heaters. Chief Justice Hughes and the other men who served with him on the nation's highest tribunal will be honorary pallbearers. The burial, in Arlington national cemetery, will be a military one in recognition of the grievous wounds he suffered as a Union soldier in the Civil war.

Word of the jurist's death was sent immediately to the White House. Dr. Thomas A. Clayton called it "the most peaceful death I have ever seen."

Holmes had dissented smilingly almost to the last. Until he fell yesterday.

OLD CHANNEL MINE ON ROGUE BRINGS QUARTER MILLION

GRANTS PASS, March 6.—(AP)—Sale of the Old Channel mine in Josephine county for an aggregate price in excess of $250,000, to the mining group responsible for the Carson Hill development in Nevada, under terms which require beginning of large scale mining operations by November 15, was announced in Grants Pass today by Niel R. Allen, an attorney for the property's owners.

The new owners include A. R. McGuire as operator and trustee for a group of Fresno investors, and P. H. Bottoms of Fresno will be associated with McGuire, who returned to California from here this week, leaving his assistant, Pat Winsor of Prescott, Ariz., in charge of the property lying 25 miles down the Rogue river from Grants Pass.

The purchase price is to be paid in annual installments, plus royalties, and involves a cancellation of any rights held by J. W. and Patricia National bank and A. H. Banwell, manager of the Jackson County Chamber of Commerce, the speakers.

Rex E. Robinson, member of the senior high school faculty, spoke on "Safety Week," listing graphic figures to show the toll from auto accidents. He said that there were 200,000 more accidents in 1934 than in 1933.

He said that of these 1600 were caused by failure to signal, 2400 by excessive speed, 4300 from taking the right of way, and the rest from various causes. Only three were caused by under-aged drivers, he said.

Robert Frame gave an historical sketch of Old Prommer as another interesting part of the program.

The Kiwanis quartet, composed of Dr. W. W. Howard, C. C. Lemmon, Ted Goehner and Robert Frame, sang two selections.

MORE REBUILDING PROSPECTS FOUND GREEK AIRPLANES BOMB REBEL BASE

ATHENS, Greece, March 6.—(AP)—A squadron of Greek army airplanes swooped low over Kavala, the rebel base, today, bombing the houses and raking the streets with machine gun fire.

The inhabitants of the city were panic stricken, although most of them were said to be hostile to the rebel troops which have poured in during the last two days. They were endangered by the sweeping hail of death.

HOUSING ACT SUBJECT OF FREY AND BANWELL AT KIWANIS MEETING

A discussion of the national housing act was held at the weekly meeting of the Kiwanis club Monday, with George H. Frey of the Medford National bank and A. H. Banwell, manager of the Jackson County Chamber of Commerce, the speakers.

Rex E. Robinson, member of the senior high school faculty, spoke on "Safety Week," listing graphic figures to show the toll from auto accidents. He said that there were 200,000 more accidents in 1934 than in 1933.

MANY INJURED WHEN PLANE HITS SCHOOL

MADRID, Mar. 6.—(AP)—An airplane plunged into a school house today killing the pilot, seriously injuring the co-pilot and eight school children, and slightly injuring two other pupils.

As the machine flew over the elementary school, a wing tore off. The fuselage and motor of the ship plunged straight down through the roof of the school. As it struck, the gasoline tank exploded and the building was filled with flames.

SIX OLD AGE PENSIONS GET BOARD'S APPROVAL

Six old age pension applications were granted and four rejected at the regular monthly meeting of the old age pension board, composed of the city court judges, yesterday. Two of the rejections were based on insufficient residence in the state, two because children were able to provide, and two because the applicant declined to sign property releases.

$1000 Offered By New Land For Better Rose

PORTLAND, March 6.—(AP)—To whoever can produce a new rose to replace the Caroline Testout as the official flower of the city of Portland, the rose council will hand $1000.

The new rose—it will be named "Rose City"—must possess none of the faults attributed to the Caroline Testout, and it must be a glorious flower.

Caroline Testout, a rose first produced in France 45 years ago and widely cultivated here, fell into disfavor because it is subject to various diseases, quickly loses color, has a weak neck and needs continued hot weather if it is to thrive.

AMERICAN LEGION BONUS BILL GIVEN COMMITTEE FAVOR

WASHINGTON, March 6.—(AP)—The house ways and means committee voted 14 to 11 today to consider the American Legion bill for cash payment of the bonus as opposed to the Patman currency expansion bill.

This action was taken after an agreement to report a bonus bill to the house for floor action. Two motions were voted down. The first, adopted with only two or three dissenters, was to submit to the house a bill for immediate and full cash payment of the bonus.

Then on a motion by Representative Cooper (D. Tenn.) that the committee express a preference between the Patman currency expansion and the Vinson orthodox financing plans, it voted 14 to 11 for the Vinson bill.

Deley Vinson Consideration. Consideration of the Vinson bill for amendments was postponed until an afternoon session.

Representative Vinson (D. Ky.), author of the bill which had the Legion's support, told newspapermen he hoped "that the bill will get before the house this week."

The Veterans of Foreign Wars had supported the Patman bill. James E. Van Zandt, commander of the V. F. W., gave this statement to newspapermen:

"The result of the vote in the ways and means committee is entirely satisfactory to the Veterans of Foreign Wars. The fact that a change of two votes would have reversed the decision of the committee demonstrates the strength behind the Patman bill. With assurances given by the speaker and leaders of the house that there will be an opportunity on the floor to vote for the Patman bill, we feel sure that it will pass the house."

Chairman Doughton (D. N. C.) said he would try to arrange for a vote on the bonus Friday or Saturday.

Immediately after the committee's action, Speaker Byrns, the house parliamentarian, and Representative Cooper, the committee parliamentarian, went into conference to determine how to let the house decide between the Vinson and Patman bills.

A special resolution was prepared under which a motion to substitute the Patman bill for the Vinson bill would be in order.

NEBRASKA GIRL SIPPING LIQUID

FALL RIVER, Mass., March 6.—(AP)—A "distinct improvement" in the condition of Alys Jane McHenry, 10-year-old Omaha, Neb., girl operated on for diaphragmatic hernia, was reported this afternoon by her mother, Mrs. Luella McHenry.

"Alys Jane showed distinct improvement this afternoon when I visited her," Mrs. McHenry said. "She asked for orange juice and was half sitting up in bed sipping the liquid while I was there. Her first remark was: 'Mother, I am well now.'"

MEXICO, D. F., March 6.—(AP)—Leiland B. Andrews, American aviator, set his big transport ship down in Mexico at 2:10 p. m. today (P. S. T.), to complete a non-stop flight from Los Angeles Cal. in 8 hours, 12 minutes and 16 seconds.

McKellar Draws Dictator's Fire in Reply to Speech by Hastings — Harsh Words Punctuate Talks

WASHINGTON, March 6.—(AP)—Senator Huey Long (D. La.) announced to the senate today his intention to seek re-election instead of running for governor of Louisiana, as he once had contemplated.

WASHINGTON, March 6.—(AP)—The senate became the forum for another debate on Roosevelt policies today with Senators Long (D. La.) and Hastings (R. Del.), finding fault and Senator McKellar (D. Tenn.), defending the administration.

McKellar, replying to an opposition speech by Hastings, inquired if the Delaware senator would have the nation "go back to Mr. Hoover."

"What's the difference?" put in Long, who was the target for a bitter speech yesterday by Senator Robinson, the democratic leader.

"If the senator hasn't enough sense," McKellar replied hotly, "to know the difference between Mr. Hoover and Mr. Roosevelt, then I couldn't give him the information."

Long said the "only difference" was that under Hoover the public debt was $19,000,000,000 and under Roosevelt $30,000,000,000 and that there were a few more million unemployed now.

COMMODITY PRICES NOT HIGH ENOUGH, SAYS F. R.

WASHINGTON, March 6.—(AP)—Commenting on commodity prices, President Roosevelt said today he did not think a sufficiently high level had yet been reached to bring about the relative reduction of the debt burden desired by the administration.

The Pacific northwest has been given a "relative high priority" with a view to "increasing and rehabilitating its defenses" in plans of the war department.

This was disclosed in a letter to Senator Steiwer (R. Ore.), from Secretary Dern in answer to an editorial from an Oregon newspaper submitted to the department by the senator.

The editorial quoted Gov. Charles H. Martin, of Oregon, a former member of the house of representatives, and a retired major general of the United States army, as having obtained from Chairman Vinson, of the house naval affairs committee, a

JUNIOR COLLEGE ACT IS APPROVED BY LEGISLATURE

Eastern Oregon Members Succeed in Long Fight — Committee for Elimination Coast Road Bridges

SALEM, March 6.—(AP)—Trice, virtually defeated in both the senate and the house, the Oregon legislature today finally approved the so-called junior college bill which would add two years college work to high schools with an enrollment of 200 or more students if the district so voted.

The measure further provides that the districts permitted to vote upon the issue must have an assessed valuation of $5,000,000 or more. It would levy a two-mill tax within the district to provide the two additional grades. Eastern Oregon members fought for the bill.

The measure, as originally introduced which would permit only schools having an enrollment of 500 or more, was first defeated in the senate, but Senator Best of Pendleton fought to have the vote reconsidered and it was passed.

Governor May vetoed in the house it came out of the committee on education with an adverse report. Then it was placed in

BLAZE DAMAGES HOME IN PHOENIX

Fire, believed to have started from sparks from a chimney, at 9 o'clock this morning destroyed the roof and second floor of the large home of Mrs. Anna Worden on First street near the Pacific highway in Phoenix. Loss, partially covered by insurance, was estimated at approximately $1000.

Sparks from the burning building settled upon an adjoining roof, and a small blaze started there, only to be promptly smothered by the Phoenix fire department. The Medford fire department was not called to the scene.

At an early hour this morning, however, the Medford department was called to the home of A. S. Bilton, 1926 West 4th street, to fight a fire there. Prompt action prevented the fire from doing any damage. It was learned.

HAVANA IN UPROAR DURING BOMBINGS

HAVANA, March 6.—(AP)—One man was killed, at least eight were injured and mid-town Havana was thrown into an uproar today as machine gunning and several bomb explosions followed in the wake of strikes.

The machine gunning was perpetrated in American gangster fashion at an automobile in the business district. One man was killed and two wounded in that outbreak.

Oscar Hernandez, chief of the port police, was one of six injured in bombings. The Havana customs inspector and employees of the departments of labor, education, and the treasury went on strike in sympathy with 300,000 striking students and teachers.

WILL ROGERS SAYS: BEVERLY HILLS, Mar. 5.

Say, these Greeks have a word for it and it's bullets. There is one thing in common with all revolutions. (In fact, they are pretty near like wars in that respect). Nobody ever knows what they are fighting about.

Too bad we (no foolishly) split up the old Negro 10th Cavalry. We could have loaned them to this King Aha-Dab-Ba down there and Mussolini would have "shinned over on his own side."

When we get through paying the senate for arguing over the relief bill there won't be any money left.

Yours,
Will Rogers.

Frenchmen Dress Up for Duel in Best Tradition

(Copyright, 1935, by Associated Press.)
PARIS, March 6.—(AP)—Deputy Cesar Campinchi was shot through the wrist and suffered the severance of an artery today in a duel with Deputy Horace De Carbuca. He was taken to a hospital.

The deputies, both of whom are Corsicans, had quarreled over an article published in a weekly newspaper owned by De Carbuca.

The principals left the field unaccompanied. Police prosecution may follow, but it is considered unlikely, since Carbuca's condition is not believed to be grave.
