

45 TURN OUT FOR SPRING PRACTICE AT MEDFORD HIGH

Burgher Faced With Problem of Forming New Backfield—Squad Loses Many Stars by Graduation

Forty-five young men, some husky, some not so husky, reported for spring football practice at the senior high school last night. With many lost through graduation, only a scattering from last year's squad was on hand. Kindred, punting tackle was out to help Coach Burgher with the line work. Kindred will not be back next year.

Chelardi, Bill Bates, Russ Brown and Blundy Lewis are gone and Burgher is confronted with the difficulty of moulding a whole new backfield. With Hinman gone from the end post, Owen Bates from tackle, Baker from guard and Stewart from center, the return percentage at the line doesn't look so good either.

Keith Estes, man-eating tackle, will probably be back for next season, but so far has not reported for the spring drill. Kuzman, tricky end, will be back, as will Dickinson, substitute from the '24 squad. Eitinger, lanky basketball center, reported for duty, and will have the edge on the others for the pivot position.

One bright flicker in the backfield was dimmed when Smith, one of the most promising backs on last year's team, moved to Portland at the end of the week. He will enter Franklin high school, coached by Billy Bowerman, on Monday. His loss will be felt by the squad. A clever runner, and a vicious one, Smith was also one of the most deadly passing threats on the squad. A clever runner, and a hand throw that many times pulled his team out of a bad situation.

Other bright flickers in the backfield set up, however, are Ray Lewis, who may get the nod at either the quarter or half-back post, and Maru, a shifty, broken field man, though small. Bayliss, out temporarily, will be back, possibly at half-back. Bayliss is an exceptional blocker, and tomes long, accurate passes. With Smith gone, it looks as though Burgher will have to sit up late hours over the full-back post, with very few prospects in sight. Two possibilities, Estes and Dickinson, will probably have to be overlooked because of the danger of weakening the line.

No hard work was indulged in last night, other than limbering up exercises. Most of the drill was devoted to short-passing practice, fundamentals of stance, and wind sprints. Kindred, with a class of about four or five, was unlimbering some of his long, twisting punts, with his pupils doing well enough for the first day out, but none of them threatening to come within 10 or 15 yards of the "Blego Gun" efforts.

The practice was held in gym uniforms, but Burgher intends to break out the heavy equipment in a week or ten days, and some scrimmages will be held, the coach said last night.

BOB SMITH TRANSFERS FOOTBALL PROWESS TO FRANKLIN HIGH SCHOOL

It was announced this morning at the office of the Medford senior high school that Bob Smith, smashing right half of the Medford co-champions, had received a transfer to the Franklin high school of Portland.

The transfer was necessitated by the moving of the Smith family to Portland. Smith will leave tomorrow and will start spring football on Monday under the tutelage of Bill Bowerman, former Medford high star and Oregon quarterback.

Smith will be eligible for one semester, or one season, of football at Franklin, but will not be eligible for basketball. After his graduation next January he expects to attend Santa Clara to turn out for spring football.

Smith has been a shining light on any team on which he played. He was the sparkplug for the St. Mary's teams from his entrance there until the time he left. When he came to Medford high school last year, he added something to athletics that was not there before. He has always put everything into what he has done and is an example of good sportsmanship, and a real fellow.

JAPS UNENTHUSED BY GRID BATTLE

TOKYO, March 14.—(AP)—Fifteen thousand mildly interested Japanese and 200 American enthusiasts saw variety caliber American football introduced into Japan today.

With an expression of distaste, Genji Matsuda, minister of education, kicked out the ball for the opening of an exhibition game in Meiji stadium here between two teams of American collegians, mostly from the Pacific coast.

The blue team, led by Corwin Artman, formerly of Stanford, defeated the red eleven, captained by Al Maloney, former University of Southern California player, 17 to 12.

NO WRESTLING CARD AT ARMORY TONIGHT

There will be no wrestling matches at the armory tonight, due to the fact that Promoter Mack Lillard was unable to line up good talent.

He is negotiating with several big-time wrestlers for the next card, however, and hopes to present a triple-deck program instead of a double main event as he has for several months past.

TROJANS WIN COAST CONFERENCE HOOP TITLE

In a wild scramble in a final hectic game of the series, Southern California beat Oregon State at Corvallis, Ore., by a single point to win the Pacific Coast Conference basketball championship. The final score was 32-31. This action picture shows Conkling (32), Oregon State, after he had crashed through Troy's defense to score. ### BAER IS WILLING TO CROSS 'COLOR LINE'

SACRAMENTO, Cal., March 14.—(AP)—Max Baer, curiy-haired champion of the heavyweight world, will cross the "color line" any time the financial arrangements warrant it.

Sport circles have this assurance today from Baer's manager, Anell Hoffman, who said yesterday he was giving "serious consideration" to an offer for Baer to meet Joe Louis, sensational young Detroit battler, for the crown in Pittsburgh July 4.

SONS ENROUTE TO DENVER TOURNEY

ASHLAND, March 14.—(AP)—The S.O.N.S. of Southern Oregon Normal school, who have averaged 14 points in every basketball game they have played in the past three years, were headed toward Denver today for the National A. A. U. basketball tournament.

The team from Ashland is the first ever to represent Oregon in the big amateur tourney.

The S.O.N.S. haven't lost a series with any team this season and have suffered defeat only four times.

DENVER, March 14.—(AP)—Forty-five quintets have entered the National A. A. U. basketball tournament slated to start in the city auditorium here Sunday.

Willard N. Greim, secretary for the Rocky Mountain association, said he expected at least five more will have entered before the actual deadline today.

He said pairings for the first round probably will be made this afternoon. In order to slice the field to 32 teams for the championship bracket, games Sunday and Monday morning will be played.

STARS, CHAMPIONS AGREE TO SETTLE MATTERS TONIGHT

With a speed phenomenal even for basketball players, the Russ Brown "Champions" and the St. Mary's All-Stars "say snipped up the suggestion made in this paper yesterday for a playoff between the two vocal challengers for the independent basketball crown for southern Oregon. Arrangements have been made for a game tonight at the high school gym and most of verbal hickering as to the respective merits of the squads will come to a close in what promises to be one of the bloodiest affairs of the season.

The Saints are rated the strongest five by most of the rail-birds, but the "Champions" followers will grant no grounds for such speculation, and have strong claims that they will win in a walk.

Placing their confidence in off-tackle and center rush plays, the Brown outfit has proven one of the most colorful teams in the independent league and moved down most of their season opponents by alarming scores and fearful carnage. With Keith Estes, 190 pounds of football tackle, at forward, most of the "cruncher" plays center there, but Pierce, 180-pound football end, at the other forward gives the team versatility in its power plays. Stewart, center on last year's high school championship football team, at the jumping post, another 175 pounds goes into the scales, and his jaunts around end have accounted for more than one bloody nose in the many games played on the boards this season.

The smallest man on the "Champions" team is "Leaping" Leo Ghehardt, quarterback football flash, who strangely enough holds down a guard booth on the squad. His adroit footwork is not wasted there, however, as his "spinner" plays having chalked up as many baskets as touchdowns this year. Stan Kuzman, not having had his fill of basketball during the regular high school season, has signed up for this game, the last of the year for the two outfits. Kuzman was regular end on the football team, and if he doesn't get killed in the melee tonight will probably play end again next year.

While a bruising attack is of undeniable advantage in football, the All-Stars slightly advance the theory that it isn't so hot in basketball, while at the same time pointing out a few football stars from their own roster: Bud Lindley, one of the best ends ever produced on a red-and-black grid team, and Lloyd Hammock, four-year letterman at the high school center position in football. ### CARNERA FAVORED TO FLATTEN 'IMP'

NEW YORK, March 14.—(AP) Primo Carnera, Italy's "tall tower" of the heavyweights who was toppled from the championship last year by Max Baer, was a 3-to-1 favorite today to conquer Ray Impellittere in the battle of the behemoths at Madison Square Garden tomorrow night.

An overnight shift in the odds favored the Italian's first step toward another shot at the title. Indications were that the margin might increase before the giants enter the ring.

Carnera weighs 260 pounds in fighting trim. Impellittere carries two pounds less, but the Imp's 6 feet 7½ inches hoist him a half inch above Primo. That alone should provide plenty of action if they fight up to their size.

"My other piece of advice, Copperfield," said Mr. Micawber, "you know. Annual income twenty pounds, annual expenditure nineteen nineteen six, result happiness. Annual income twenty pounds, annual expenditure twenty pounds, aught and six, result misery. The blossom is blighted, the leaf is withered, the God of day goes down upon the dreary scene, and—and in short you are forever floored. As I am!"

Take it from Mr. Micawber, or from any one of thousands who know it for the truth, there's no friend like cash! And there's no way to be so certain of cash as to spend within your budget.

BEGIN TODAY! Say to yourself—so much will go for food, so much for rent, so much for fuel, so much for charity. Stick within your budget and you'll find it bountiful enough to leave you something over!

One of the very best ways to budget as you go is to read the advertisements in this newspaper. Daily, as in a parade, the good values of the good stores march before you. Roast beef or chops for Sunday dinners, a special style in men's shirts, new drapes for the living room... the advertisements will help you choose them all, and often at a saving!
