

MILLARDS SONGS TO BE PUBLISHED

Rev. D. E. Millard for almost fifteen years a resident of Medford and former pastor of the local Christian church is author-composer of a book of sacred songs entitled "Songs of My Heart," being published in San Francisco. The book includes seventeen of

D. E. Millard.

Mr. Millard's own songs and is neatly bound in a booklet of almost sheet music size of twenty pages. Three of the outstanding songs are: "The Song of My Heart," "My Old Bible" and "Jesus The Rose of My Heart." It is expected this book of songs will bring wide recognition to Mr. Millard as a composer and hymn writer, and no doubt many more songs will follow from his pen. Mr. Millard is not only a composer but a tenor soloist with a rare sympathetic tone quality and technique. He sings each Wednesday over radio KMED.

Copies of Rev. Millard's book of songs can be had from local music stores or from the author within the next ten days. Mr. Millard has recently purchased a 20-acre tract of land on Rogue river and Crater Lake highway near Shady Cove where he expects to make his permanent home and devote a large part of his time to composing and writing besides development of a beautiful public park on the banks of Rogue river.

EASTERN CHEESE PRICES DECLINE

FORTLAND, March 18.—(AP)—Recent cuts in the eastern cheese price have been followed by additional declines.

Former high price on cheese evidently curtailed demand to a considerable extent in leading consuming points and with suggestion of greater offerings, the market was inclined to weaken.

Declines in the east during the week were from 1/4c to 1/2c lb., according to style with the greatest loss in longhorns and the smallest in daisies and twins.

While the undertone of the trade has been hurt somewhat by the extreme cuts in prices a few days ago, the current position of the butter market was about steady.

Trading in the egg market was being held steady as a rule with continued liberal movement into storage. Resale prices were mixed with much storage rejects being offered for fresh consumption.

$5000 Damage Suit Is Heard By Court

The $5000 damage suit of Martin McCaskey against the Pitschmann Development company, for alleged unlawful retention of property, was started this morning in circuit court before a jury. The Pitschmann Development company filed a counter-suit for $5000, alleging that McCaskey failed to conform to the terms of the lease contract.

68 Sign In County For Hog Control

The 1935 Hog-Corn contracts were closed last Friday with 68 signers in this county, according to County Agent Robert G. Fowler. This year the signers do not include Josephine county. The contracts now cover 3300 hogs in Jackson county, or 78 per cent of the number signed up last year. The county agent reports this "is an excellent showing."

ATLANTIC CITY, N. J., March 18.—(AP)—This city put up $10,500 today in an attempt to induce General Hugh S. Johnson, U. S. Senator Huey Long and the Reverend Charles E. Coughlin to take part in a three-cornered debate here.

Mayor Harry Bacharach, in telegrams to the trio, offered each $3,500 to appear on the platform of the city's convention hall. He said the monetary offer was made "because I realize your appearance would entail considerable expense in preparation, transportation of a considerable staff and loss of time."

The mayor said he had reason to believe the offers would be accepted, but he declined to say if any of the three men had communicated with him. He made an earlier offer without suggesting any money.
