COLUMBO, HEALY ARE WINNERS IN GRAPPLING SHOW

He lasted 20 minutes in the first fall, but when big Hans Schultz, German bone-bender, came back into the ring and tried to get tough in the top bout of last night's wrestling card at the arena, Kasey Columbo of Italy, smooth-wrestling newcomer, won the deciding tangle in two minutes with a double rabbit punch to the chin that sent the belligerent German rolling. Kasey, who had won the first fall with a beautiful series of Sonnenbergs, pinned Schultz with a body press, and so doing his way to the hearts of local fight fans as the most popular find promoter Mack Lillard has yet made.

Schultz, 210, started clean, and for a time it looked as though it were anybody's match. Then the German applied a series of flying marees that gave the Italian opportunity for his first exhibition of Sonnenberg. Instead of following in blindly after the first two, Kasey watched his step and called it enough when the burly German was all set to sidestep.

Versatile and fast as a cat, Columbo, 210, worked his huge legs into position for the spectacular Indian death-kick and had the German squirming on his back and ready to pat the mat. But Schultz, showing great strength, pulled himself up and broke the hold with a punch to Kasey's nostril.

Referee Ray Pringle refused the Italian the fall, but Kasey refused intent upon winning the match in his own way and perfectly confident that he could. He slugged Schultz out through the ropes, and when the German came back with his own fits flying, Columbo let loose the Sonnenbergs that accounted for the first tangle.

The second fall was short and sweet. Schultz started with more slugging, but soon found himself being butted around the arena by Kasey's hard-hitting shoulder. The German reversed matters and got in a Sonnenberg of his own. Then they both tried one that met in mid air. It was in the middle of Schultz' next shoulder butt that Columbo used the deciding double-fisted rabbit punch.

In the first match fans were treated with an exhibition of how a wrestler can throw not his opponent, but himself, twice in 18 minutes. Al Pereira, 225-pound Portuguese newcomer, did this remarkable feat and consequently the match was awarded Jim Healy, 216, pugacious San Franciscan, who had the sympathy of the fans from the start.

Pereira had the first tangle clinched after giving Healy a terrible beating with one persistent hold after another, but when the match had gone 12 minutes, the Portuguese tried some fancy leg work. He attempted a flying body scissors, but fell over backward so hard that Healy was able to pin him for the count.

Healy, whose arms, head and legs were all but wrenched off during the first session, started the second a bit more successfully and held the upper hand for several minutes. Then Pereira started slugging and topped matters with a would-be flying tackle that Healy side-stepped nicely, sending the Portuguese through the ropes and onto the floor, where he stayed for the count.

Promoter Mack Lillard is already at work on the next card and may match popular Kasey Columbo and the Masked Marvel in the top bout, if the boxing commission lifts a ban from the mysterious man.

Bowling Lessons To Start Monday In Mail Tribune

Starting Monday, March 25, the Mail Tribune will present to its readers 10 lessons in "Fundamentals of Bowling," by Charles O. Collier, Collier, internationally famous bowling authority.

Collier has put into these 10 concise lessons all the secrets of the game that he has learned in his years of championship playing and this is the first time that local enthusiasts of the sport have been offered hints from such an authority.

Steve Benson Is Active Member Of Metropolitan Co.

Through an error in yesterday's Mail Tribune the name of Steve Benson was omitted from the list of Metropolitan Life Insurance company agents for southern Oregon. Mr. Benson has been actively associated with that organization for the past two years.

The yearly statement of the Metropolitan company published Thursday shows an increase in assets during 1934 amounting to $170,346,960.14. Glen Birz is southern Oregon manager for Metropolitan, and the three local agents are: Howard V. Scheffel, John D. Moad and Mr. Benson.

BEND PRIEST SERIOUSLY HURT IN AUTO SMASHUP

BEND, Ore., March 22.—(AP)—The condition of the Rev. Leo Sheehan, injured in an automobile accident Wednesday night, remained serious today. Father Sheehan, assistant pastor at the Catholic church here, was on his way to Redmond to conduct fifteen services when his automobile skidded from the road three miles north of Bend.

Referee Ray Pringle refused the Italian the fall, but Kasey refused intent upon winning the match in his own way and perfectly confident that he could. He slugged Schultz out through the ropes, and when the German came back with his own fits flying, Columbo let loose the Sonnenbergs that accounted for the first tangle.

BIRTHS

Mr. and Mrs. Harold L. Heavilin of 822 North Central avenue are the parents of a baby boy weighing 7½ pounds, born at their home last night.

Aviatix Sees Ocean Schedule. BOSTON.—(UP)—Regularly scheduled transatlantic passenger flights are a possibility within two or three years, Amelia Earhart Putnam, noted aviatrix, believes. In an interview here she also predicted that automobile manufacturers in the not far distant future will be making inexpensive foolproof plans for the average man on a mass production basis.

Dad and Granddad on Same Day. SAN BENITO, Tex.—(UP)—A. O. White, San Benito business man, became a father and a grandfather on the same day. A baby girl was born early in the morning to Mr. and Mrs. P. D. Kennamer, Jr., and 15 hours later Mrs. White gave birth to a son. The baby boy is Mr. White's first child. Mr. Kennamer is Mrs. White's daughter by a former marriage.

Bermuda Onion Acreage Down. GAILLAND, Tex.—(UP)—A survey of the farming district here has indicated that the Bermuda onion acreage this year will be much smaller than was expected. About 7,500 acres of onions were badly damaged by freezing weather. Planters reset some 4,500 acres, and this, too, was damaged by later frosts.

Silver. NEW YORK, March 22.—(AP)—Bar silver firmer, 1/2c higher at 96c.

UPSETS FEATURE DENVER BATTLES FOR CAGE CROWN

DENVER, March 22.—(AP)—Three midwestern contenders and "Chipper Charley" Hyatt's roving team from movieland had complete control of the national A. U. basketball tournament today following the ouster of the Denver A. C. by the reigning champion Tulsa Oilers and the startling downfall of the odds-on favored Denver Pigs.

Southern Kansas Stage Lines of Kansas City, a team shorn of the Missouri Valley league title, pulled the giant killer act in eliminating the highly rated Pigs, 30 to 28.

The Oilers won a comparatively fast 36-27 victory over Denver A. C. In the semi-finals tonight Tulsa is matched with the Kansas Liners.

The other semi-final brings together the Universal Pictures troupe of Hollywood and the madcap, hustling McPherson (Kas.) Globe Refinery team.

Universal, winner of the recent valley elimination tournament at Kansas City, last night won a 44-36 quarter final victory over Hutchinson (Kas.) Western-Transit Lines. McPherson swamped Italian A. C. of Seattle, only unseeded team that progressed that far, 51-26.

"Wonderful—Until"

Mae Murray, one-time wife of Prince David Mdivani, said the three brothers "are wonderful until they win you." She is in Hollywood preparing to organize a company.

PORTLAND BUTTER PRICES UNCHANGED

PORTLAND, Ore., Mar. 22.—(AP)—There was no change in butter prices during the late session of the exchange.

Demand for butter was holding rather steady as a result of the freezing weather and the increasing demand.

Butterfat remains firm with the recent price spread continued generally.

Storage stocks here were normal.

Trading in the egg market continued to be held strong because of the keen call for movement into storage. Quality eggs were scarce on the open market as a result.

Demand for chickens was holding firm and generally at full late prices. All lines and especially broilers were in call. Turkeys were not arriving in sufficient volume to take care of demand.

ROOSEVELT ASKS STRONG CONTROL OVER FOOD, DRUGS

practical improvements. A measure is needed which will extend the controls formerly applicable only to labels to advertising also; which will extend protection to the trade in cosmetics; which will provide for a cooperative method of setting standards and for a system of inspection and enforcement to reassure consumers, grown hesitant and doubtful, and which will provide for a necessary flexibility in administration as products and conditions change.

Long Studied

Explaining he understood the matter had been studied and discussed for two years and that congress had full information on the subject, the president said "It is my hope that such legislation may be enacted at this session of congress."

Declaring no honest man need fear passage of such a measure, the president said the legislation would "merely make certain that those who are less scrupulous than I know most of our producers to be, can not force their more honest competitors into dishonorable ways."

"The great majority of those engaged in the trade of food and drugs do not need regulation," the president said. "They observe the spirit as well as the letter of existing law. Present legislation ought to be directed primarily toward a small minority of evaders and chiselers."

Quietness Features Coast's Hop Market

PORTLAND, Ore., March 22.—(AP)—Quietness and general inactivity characterized the hop market on the Pacific coast for the week ending March 20, the federal report said today. Sales by growers were the lightest in several weeks and were confined to 150 bales of medium grade new crop clusters sold in the Yakima valley at from 8 to 10 cents a pound, net. The situation reflected a slow demand from both domestic and foreign buyers.

Indians Cherished Bitter Root. YAKIMA, Wash. (UP)—Offers of $3 a pound for dried bitter root failed to find any takers among Yakima reservation Indians. The roots are highly prized by the Indians and are used as seasoning for food at their annual ceremonial feasts each April. Chinese and Japanese herb men offered $3 a pound for the roots, to be used as medicine.

Sea Gull Ungrateful. SEATTLE (UP)—Walter Belshaw saved a sea gull's life, but the bird was ungrateful. Someone caught the bird, tied a bundle of paper to its leg with a long cord, and released it. The gull became entangled in light wire and hung head down until nearly dead. Belshaw climbed a pole and untangled the bird. It bit his finger before he could turn it loose.

Barber's Razor 100 Years Old. GODERICH, Ont. (UP)—Sam Heddel, veteran barber, is the owner of a razor which he claims is more than 100 years old. The blade is nearly two inches long and attached to an ironwood handle, secured by a copper rivet. It closely resembles a meat cleaver.
