

CALLISON TO STAY 'IF' NEGOTIATIONS ARE SATISFACTORY

Rosson Will Report Arrangement Later—Drastic Change U. O. Coaching Had Been Rumored.

EUGENE, March 25.—(AP)—Prince G. Callison, for three years head football coach at the University of Oregon, remained in that capacity with a rather vague "if" in the status today.

Hugh E. Rosson, graduate manager, said Callison would be retained in that capacity "if negotiations" between him and the football men were now and the first of April were arranged satisfactorily. At the end of the two-day session of the executive committee meeting late Saturday, Rosson was instructed to negotiate with Callison in regard to his 1936-37 contract and to report at the next meeting.

Following wide-spread rumors that a drastic shake-up was coming in the coaching situation at the university after the resignation of Bill Rinehart, basketball coach, reports from the council session indicated Callison was to be retained. In a statement issued after the meeting Rosson said:

"I have been instructed to open negotiations with Callison regarding his new contract and will submit my findings to the executive committee at its next meeting which will be held after the spring term opens."

Rosson did not deny that there had been discussion of dispensing with the services of some coaches on the Oregon staff but no word as to definite names indicated could be obtained.

Neither Callison nor Rosson would make any comment beyond a formal statement to the effect that negotiations were under way. Nothing could be learned as to terms of the proposed contract, salary or otherwise.

NATIONAL BOWLING STAR GIVES POINTERS ON ART

Charles O. (Chuck) Collier of Chicago, is a national figure in bowling. His records on the alleys cover a period of thirty-eight years, beginning in 1897, when his old side kick, Bill Finner, induced him to play with the Woodlawn Cycling club.

"Chuck" has competed in every American Bowling Congress Tournament since 1905, played in every Illinois state championship since its inauguration 28 years ago, and 31 Chicago Bowling association championships, all that have been held. He has also been a regular attendant in the Midwest championships and the International tournaments held in St. Paul and Minneapolis.

In the state championships he has a grand average of 193 and in the Chicago championships 195, giving him a grand average of 194 for these events combined, putting him at the top of the list.

These feats alone make him a notable figure, but in addition "Chuck" has been with the Brunswick-Balke-Collender company for 25 years, rising to the position of manager of the bowling department. Among his duties are aiding in the installation of the alleys for the American Bowling Congress tournaments, which keeps him "on location" for a period of about ten weeks. The tournaments of the present day last six weeks and Collier is there from start to finish. Collier is a friend of the bowlers, knowing thousands of them personally, and always having time to give advice on the game, selection of balls.

His team, the Minersites, has won the Randolph League championship in Chicago, seven different times. It's a wonder they have not christened him "Cap" Collier, as he is, or has been, captain of most of the teams on which he has rolled.

Collier was born in Columbus, Ohio, in 1877. He came to Chicago in 1892. An injury to his chest, caused by a fall on American ground, stopped what might have been a brilliant football career at Hyde Park high school. As a young chap, he peddled papers and worked in a grocery store.

His grand average in A. B. C. tournaments is 194. Many improvements have been made in the A. B. C. and other tournaments since "Chuck" started, and the alleys are now as uniform as it is possible to make them. However, as "Chuck" points out, the best bowlers are those who can adapt themselves to different playing conditions.

Don't miss Collier's series of ten lessons on the Fundamentals of Bowling, starting tomorrow.

HOT COMPETITION FEATURES PLAY IN CUP TOURNAMENT

Six entrants in the President's cup golf tournament at Rogue Valley course went into the quarter final bracket over the week end, and with completion of two handicap matches this week the contestants in the semi-finals will be determined before next Sunday night.

Leonard Harding of Fort Worth, Texas, who has been playing impressive golf since his arrival a month ago, was among the winners, defeating A. F. West 1 up on the 21st in a hot contest. The match was nip and tuck all the way, winding up all square on the 18th. West offered stiff competition for Harding, who has not yet become accustomed to southern Oregon's blustery weather and is expected to turn out some brilliant golf during the summer.

Other matches resulted as follows: Sprague Hiegel defeated Maje Morris, 1 up on the 20th; E. L. Childers defeated Dave Wilcox, 3 and 1; H. H. Pringle defeated Chuck Ellis, 3 and 1; R. B. Hammond defeated George Snider, 5 and 4, and H. B. Kellom defeated John Cupp, 7 and 3.

A. F. Mansfield recently underwent a tonsilectomy and as yet has been unable to play his third-round match with Lee Watson, but he expects to complete it during the week. Leland Clark is out of town on business, but is expected to play his match with Lyle Wilcox this week.

Quarter final pairings are: Hiegel and winner of the Mansfield-Watson match, Childers and Pringle, Harding and Hammond, Kellom and winner of the Wilcox-Clark match.

Results of the tournament so far show that last year's handicaps are in good order, as each match has been close competition and two have been battled out on extra holes.

OMAHA FIVE ELIMINATES SALT LAKE

Spectators at the National A. A. U. basketball championship tournament in Denver, Colo., got their first thrill when Harkett's of Omaha bested the Salt Lake City, Utah, Creamery, 38 to 34, in an overtime game. Moscray of Omaha, in black trunks and with his right hand on his neck, is battling one in here. Harkett's was later eliminated. (Associated Press Photo)

ASTORIA TEAM SHOWS CHAMPIONSHIP FORM IN WINNING TOURNEY

SALEM, Ore., March 25.—(AP)—A hard - running, straight - shooting bunch of Astoria fishermen romped and passed their way to a 46 to 26 victory over Jefferson high school of Portland, to successfully defend their Oregon state high school basketball championship here Saturday night.

Astoria's victory gave the Fishermen the state championship for the second straight year, and was scored with the ease and speed that marks a true championship quintet.

In a preliminary to the championship game, Salem's Senators defeated Oakridge, 30-21, to win third place honors.

An all-state team, selected following the end of tournament play, included:

Jake Hergert, Jefferson high, and Ted Sarpolo, Astoria, forwards; Larry Gale of Oakridge, center; and Bobby Anet, Astoria, and Jake Fisher of Oakridge, guards.

Sarpolo and Anet of Astoria were chosen on the all-state selection this year for the second time.

SCHOOL CHILDREN GET GOLF LESSON COMING SATURDAY

At 9:30 o'clock next Saturday morning more than 40 young golfers from Senior and Junior high schools will report at Rogue Valley golf course, for the first of a series of classes in golf conducted by Pro-Dr. Durno.

Having started last fall, Hueston has been giving the youngsters training at Junior high school regularly with a short layoff for basketball season. Six weeks ago the classes started again, and with the groups meeting indoors during poor weather the instructor has acquainted them thoroughly with the rudiments of sportsmanship and the etiquette of golf.

Actual hitting of golf balls will be started Saturday, and Hueston will gradually work out the fundamentals and then start putting the finishing touches on the two-score prospective golfers. The students have shown great enthusiasm in the course, the first of its kind ever conducted here.

Officials of Rogue Valley club expressed their appreciation of Hueston's work in starting the classes, as it is felt that many fine golfers will be developed. Hueston is considered one of the most experienced teachers on the coast and knows the game from A to Z, having received his early training from Bob Johnstone, famous pro at the Seattle Golf club. Hueston conceived the youngsters' classes here and is making an effort

PIONEERS OF BRIDGE WILL TEST METHODS IN PROLONGED GAME

NEW YORK, March 25.—(AP)—Two married couples who were pioneers in the development of contract bridge and became bitter enemies about it, will start a prolonged game tonight.

Mr. and Mrs. Ely Culbertson are to play 100 rubbers against Mr. and Mrs. P. Hal Sims. The bitterness has passed, and now, as described by Mrs. Culbertson, they are just friendly enemies who will test what her husband regards as the outstanding contrasting philosophies of contract bidding, whether to bid at the first opportunity, as he does, or to wait a bit, as Sims does.

There is a bet of an unrevealed amount at issue on the match, which will take about three weeks, with afternoon and night sessions after the first night. Culbertson says defeat would cost him $1,000,000 in prestige in the world of bridge.

The match will be at Crockford's de luxe bridge club founded by Culbertson.

MASKED MARVEL AND HEALY MEET ON COMING CARD

Popular Jim Healy of San Francisco will meet Masked Marvel, mystery man who was temporarily banned from Medford for unethical wrestling, in the main event of a knockout card promoter Maek Lillard has secured for Thursday night at the Armory, the promoter announced this morning.

In the first half of the program Joe Hubka, fast and tricky cornhusker from University of Nebraska, will tangle with big Al Perets of Portugal, who made his debut here last week.

When Healy and the Marvel clash, the result should be a gory match. The boxing commission will be on hand in full force, backed up by the police, to prevent a repetition of the chair-heaving that took place at the arena at the Marvel's last appearance.

Promoter Lillard said the commission is considering roping off a neutral area around the ring, to keep fans from mixing in with the performance. The Marvel is appearing only on probation.

Healy, a stocky, aggressive wrestler who likes clean matwork but who is capable of plenty of rough stuff, is pointed to give the mysterious mescaline a tough evening. He is confident that he will be able to defeat the unorthodox hooded grappler, and says he won't stand for eye gouging or hair pulling. Healy is in wonderful condition, having built up a fine physique by lots of swimming, and having kept in shape by constant training. He is expected to arrive in Medford early this week for several workouts before his match.

When Perets made his debut here last week, fans expressed opinion that he would make an excellent opponent for Hubka, who is one of Medford's favorites. Through two flukes, Perets lost his match with Healy, but put on an impressive performance.

The promoter says early indications are that the card will be a sell-out. There will be no advance in price.

DENVER MAY SEEK TOURNEY AGAIN

DENVER, March 25.—(AP)—As basketball realms halted a new ruler—Southern Kansas Stage Lines of Kansas City—reports that Denver may try to bring the national A. A. U. case tournament here again next year were heard today.

The Stage Lines subjugated their championship game foes, the Globe Refiners of McPherson, Kans., to a crushing 48-26 triumph Saturday night to close what C. L. (Boss) Parsons, tourney general chairman declared was the most successful tournament in the history of the event.

He announced receipts grossed $20,602 and that when all expenses have been deducted, the net profit will amount to at least $6500.

St. Xavier Quintet Catholic Champs

CHICAGO, March 25.—(AP)—For the second time in nine years, St. Xavier of Louisville, Ky., is the national Catholic high school basketball champion.

The Tigers, a rangy band of deadly shots and ball handlers, won the title at Loyola university gymnasium last night with a third period rush that broke a deadlock and carried them to an ultimate 29-24 triumph over St. Mel, Chicago Catholic league champions.

I heard a wild goose yesterday

At the first "honk" I gazed skyward. There, high in the air, flew a patriarchal gander guiding his flock due north in perfect V-formation—Nature's advertisement that spring had really arrived.

And, speaking of advertisements, do you read those that appear in this newspaper? They forewarn you of the change of seasons just as surely as the first robin or the first golden daffodils.

Reading advertisements is a habit well worth cultivating. They tell you, well in advance, of the latest trend in styles. They keep you posted on this year's developments in automotive engineering. They bring to your attention new foods—nourishing, appetizing. They introduce to you marvels in household helps. They point out interesting locales for your vacation—or for tours that broaden your outlook on life.

The advertisements are interesting, helpful, reliable. By comparing the prices and qualities of merchandise advertised you buy to best advantage. You may rely on the advice given you by the advertisements in this paper just as you depend on the advice of a friend.
