Anyone interested in public speaking or in improving his or her powers of expression is invited to attend.

Bob Strang Brings Merle Carlson and His Band To City

Many southern Oregon dancers are looking forward to tripping the light fantastic to the strains of Merle Carlson's 12-piece Columbia Broadcasting orchestra which has been engaged for the annual big spring dance at the Oriental Gardens, April 3. This event is being sponsored by Bob Strang.

The Elks New Year's eve dance at the Elks temple featured these capable entertainers, and it is by popular demand that they have been secured for another Medford dance, according to Mr. Strang.

Merle Carlson and his musicians are returning from Seattle where they played four weeks at the Olympia hotel, and other special dances including the governor's ball.

Pauline Byrns, vocalist, of Seattle, is a recent addition to the Carlson group. A saxophone sextet, brass quintet and male glee club furnish plenty of novelty numbers.

Two army planes, originally headed for Medford, got on the wrong side of the Cascade mountains Saturday afternoon and landed in a soft, muddy field at Bly 50 miles east of Klamath Falls.

The ships were slightly damaged but no injuries were reported. The pilots—four in number—were headed by Captain Robert Elvin. The men left by bus for Medford to make arrangements for repairs.

The planes were still in the mud this afternoon.

According to information at the airport here the planes were piloted by Privates Stevens and Bell and were enroute north from Crissy Field and scheduled to stop in Medford. Cause of the landing at Bly was unknown and army officials at the local port are awaiting orders from headquarters at Hamilton field, California, before investigating further.

TRAFFIC SAFETY POLICE CAPTAINS TOPIC AT KIWANIS

Capt. Lee M. Bown of Medford district, Oregon state police, was principal speaker at the regular Kiwanis club meeting this noon at Hotel Medford, giving an interesting talk on changes in law and traffic violation. Under the "Let's Quit Killing" program, the state police department is charged with rigid enforcement of traffic laws. Capt. Bown pointed out. He said the work of the state police is operated out of Salem, and the state is divided into four districts, one of which has headquarters at Medford.

Much is being done in the education of operators of autos in Oregon, according to Capt. Bown, who considers the program recently inaugurated whereby high school children throughout the state are given a course of traffic training, one of the most effective means of educating the public in driving.

Capt. Bown declared that most accidents are caused by vehicles being operated faster than the operator can think, explaining that in many instances the operator is unable to tell how the accident happened. He said that after accidents, motorists should first give first aid, then report the accident and produce an operator's license and that observers should write down license numbers of cars in an accident.

In Oregon 123 men are operating on the highways, having covered 3,000,000 miles in 46,000 days of employment, day and night patrolling, the captain said.

Most accidents in this district are on the Dalles-California highway, caused by excessive speeding and failure to observe warning signs. The speaker said that drunken drivers are becoming quite a problem. They are killing themselves off but are also killing innocent persons.

Capt. Bown commended Mayor Porter for his recent move to cut down accidents by organizing a corps of deputy traffic officers, which he said has shown splendid results.

New Refrigerator At Don's Radio Ser.

Simplicity of line and mechanism typify the new Hotpoint electric refrigerators now on display at Don's Radio Service, Medford dealer for the new line. P. W. Smith, owner of Don's Radio Service, says: "Modern, but not radical, in appearance and appointments the new Hotpoint shows the latest engineering trend toward fewer moving parts and more efficient insulation. Cold loss around the door has been eliminated in the Hotpoint by a new material called Textolite, recently produced by General Electric laboratories. The efficiency of this material is phenomenal."

"Engineers have achieved a greater efficiency than ever before in the motor and compressor unit of the new Hotpoint. The clearances between moving parts are held to limits measuring in ten thousandths of an inch."

The Hotpoint refrigerator is available at Don's Radio Service.

Coming With Kolb and Dill Troup

One of the several acts in the Kolb and Dill show "This and That," coming Wednesday to the stage of the Craterian theatre, will be the personable Three Step Sisters, who exhibit excellent form and ability with their large interpretations. Together with a company of 25, Kolb and Dill will present a fast-moving show reminiscent of their many past successes. Advance reports from the south where they have started their tour give much praise to the show, not only for its many entertaining moments of the stars, but also for the general "class" entertainment offered by the entire company. On the screen will be "Society Doctor," starring Chester Morris and Virginia Bruce in a romantic comedy of the "men in white."

Will Rogers Wins Craterian Crowds In Clever Comedy

Box office records of the past few years were broken at the Craterian theatre yesterday when Will Rogers' new comedy "Life Begins at 40" opened its local run. And with the records of the past went all restraint as audiences doubled up their sides from laughter.

This picture surely uncorks a new elixir of fun. The audience was in an unrestrained uproar. Laugh succeeded laugh. Fun came in storms, in gales, in a veritable tornado. The funny-bones were overworked.

After this, one may return to a studied understatement and report that "Life Begins at 40" is the season's blitziest screen comedy. Will Rogers' crowning triumph, and the entertainment event of a lifetime. Rogers is the quaint country editor who furthers romances, breaks his enemies of their enmity, and has a good time in the meanwhile. As an unconscious humorist, he stampedes two hundred hogs by his coy hog-calls.

Throughout the picture, homely wisdom falls from the lips of America's beloved commentator on the thousand and one follies of the human comedy. They are bright, apt, good-natured.

But the romance in "Life Begins at 40," is as compelling as the humor.

BLAZE DAMAGES STOCK IN SALEM SHOE STORE

SALEM, March 25.—(AP)—A fire, flaring up a few minutes after closing time, badly damaged stock and fixtures of the Jacob A. Rise shoe store here Saturday night, and resulted in a painful injury to one fireman.

Assistant Fire Chief William Iwan suffered a gashed wrist while in the thick of the fight to keep the flames from reaching adjoining buildings.

to the dust toll in the blowing wheat fields.

Collins predicted, on the basis of the present outlook, the "most complete crop failure in the history of the western plains region." He said he referred to eastern Colorado and Wyoming; western Kansas and Nebraska and the Texas and Oklahoma Panhandle sections.

Farmers Quit Country

As the "black blizzard" continued, farmers, beaten by the prolonged storms after four years of drought, began an exodus from the Colorado counties of Baca, Bent and Prowers and other planned to move their cattle.

Oklahoma crop authorities said wheat would approximate 50 per cent of normal, with the figure subject to wide variation in the event of more rain or more dust. Crop damage in Texas was said to be negligible compared to the loss of valuable soil.

F. K. Reed, federal statistician, said two weeks of dust storms had greatly dimmed wheat prospects in western Kansas. He estimated the crop, which last year ran about 12 million bushels, was 15 per cent of normal.

Shirley Temple Is Star Rialto's Hit

Shirley Temple returned to Medford yesterday and, starting in "Now and Forever" with Gary Cooper and Carole Lombard at the Rialto theatre, again won the hearts of her audience.

A wholesome and thrilling human interest story, "Now and Forever" shows Shirley in a perfect role, that of the small daughter of a slick swindler, who nevertheless succeeds in making the crook turn honest in spite of himself.

Gary Cooper is the father of Shirley, a father who has not seen his daughter for five years. Suddenly returning from Shanghai, where he has barely managed to elude the clutches
