John Eldredge has the role of a wealthy man of the world, a rival rider of Miss Stanwyck, with whom he is madly infatuated. Miss Stanwyck, while in love with her own husband, is deeply indebted to the other man and indiscreetly boards his yacht to help him out in a business deal. There is an incident in which a girl is drowned and Eldredge held for murder.

In a sensational court trial, Miss Stanwyck finally reveals her identity as the other girl aboard the yacht. There is a smashing climax when her husband's family, who never have approved of her, appear in court in a body to save the family pride.

Kolb and Dill, those two "tops" of mirth, have again donned makeup and costumes and come to the Craterian theater tomorrow for one day-day engagement on the stage, in their new show, "This and That."

Long-time favorites of the entire country, and particularly here in Medford where they hold the all-time box office record, the two stars, together with a company of 25, will appear in what is said to be the fastest and funniest show of their careers.

As one of the highlights of their program, they will present an exact reproduction of their original act in 1899. They will wear the same original costumes, use the same dialogue and do the same wooden shoe dance that made them a sensation so many years ago, and which today is again proving to be an even greater laugh hit.

In the supporting company will be Olga Steck, prima donna; the Aeolian Octette, a fine harmony eight, and the Barber Shop Quartet in songs of yesterday, adding to the musical side of the show.

Kolb and Dill's burlesqued radio broadcast of the "Frog Opera" has been acclaimed as the laugh sensation of the century and holds an important part on the program.

Other acts include Bartlett Brown, "The Dancing Parson"; the Three Step Sisters and Lieutenant Lawrence Johnson, famous ventriloquist.

On the screen will be Chester Morris in "Society Doctor."

From Ashland—Mr. and Mrs. W. W. Robinson of Ashland were in Medford Sunday afternoon visiting friends.

Rialto Star

"The Woman in Red" Barbara Stanwyck's latest starring vehicle, is scheduled as the feature attraction at the Rialto theater for tomorrow and Thursday.

The story deals with the romance of a young aristocratic Kentucky girl, portrayed by Miss Stanwyck, who, through family financial reverse, becomes a professional rider at society horse shows. She meets Gene Raymond in the role of a actor of a blue-blooded Long Island family, also impoverished. It is love at first sight with both of them. But Miss Stanwyck's employer, a part played by Genevieve Tobin, is herself madly in love with Raymond, and vows to break up the match between Miss Stanwyck and Raymond.
