ALIEN PERIL FOR IDAHO POTATOES

WASHINGTON, March 28.—(AP)—Senator Pope (D., Idaho) said today that Idaho's famous potatoes are in danger of being crowded off the eastern market by foreign competition.

The senator said imports from Holland already are forcing growers in his home state to accept prices below domestic levels. In a letter to Secretary Hull, Pope said the prices were caused by the action of Holland "in subsidizing exports because of a large carry-over in last year's potato crop."

He urged immediate action be taken by the state department to "stop such imports and, if necessary, retaliate."

Pope recently complained to the department of a similar importation of peas from Holland which, he said, was ruining the industry in his home state.

GREELEY HONORED ON POLAR EXPLOIT

WASHINGTON, March 28.—(AP)—A congressional medal of honor today rewarded Major General W. A. Greeley, 91, for his harrowing adventures in the Arctic half a century ago.

Greely carried the American flag farther north in 1882 than any man ever had penetrated previously, afterward the general saw all but seven of his 25 men die of starvation and cold before rescue came. Today officials planned to pin the medal on him with ceremony.

Greely fought in the Civil war.

As chief of the Pacific coast division of the army, he was called from his daughter's wedding to duty in the San Francisco earthquake zone in 1906.

Around the corner and under the trees, you'll find the Oasis. Dance every Saturday night. Oasis Beauty Salon open for inspection.

ADVISE WOMEN ON PROPER HAIRDRESS WITH EYEGLASSES

NEW YORK, March 28.—(AP)—Hairdressing "don'ts" for women who wear eyeglasses came from the New York state hairdressers' convention today.

With the list of rules came news of the latest thing in spectacles—a lipstick lorgnette, for reading menus, telephone numbers and price tags.

Coiffure styles forbidden be-spectacled women were:

(1) The "wedding cake," or ornate coiffure.

(2) The ultra - severe hairdress, which emphasizes the severity of glasses.

(3) Straight bangs across the forehead, because they accent the spectacles.

(4) Elaborate formations of any kind at the temples. Keep the space at the end of the eyes free.

The coiffure experts said spectacles will hardly be noticed if their wearer has the proper hat, the proper hairdress and if her glasses are well chosen.

The lipstick lorgnette was designed for sensitive women who order what the other person has in a restaurant rather than don their glasses and read the menu.

The tiny lorgnette comes in a lipstick size case and pops out at push.
