Ye Smudge Pot By Arthur Perry. The Governor proposes, and the Oregonian endorses, a plan for the people to eat more fish, in the interests of economy, and to combat the rising cost of meats.

The weather continues everything. It should not be at this stage of the calendar, causing the Older Girls to remark vehemently, if anybody is listening: "Drat the weather. The rain falleth like one and all had a new Eneker bonnet, or the first cutting of alfalfa hay was down.

The moon will soon be right for the planting of potatoes, despite the reports of experts, in years gone by, that potatoes will not grow in this valley, due to the soil formation, and not being planted.

The government now proposes to habituate drouth-pestered and depression battered Mid-West people on unoccupied Oregon and Washington land. It would appear this will be another rocky disappointment. If the terrain would yield a living some native would have discovered it long since, and taken steps to acquire it.

A pearl of wisdom was cast forth last week by the mother of Miss Martha Ijams, University of California alumna. Martha, in the course of a controversy, opined that Frances Perkins, secretary of labor, was a "mere politician," and the First Lady of the Land, "a headline hunter."

Editorial Correspondence

LOS ANGELES, April 5.—Travelling via the iron horse has no advantage. You can travel while you sleep, which is more than you can—should do—with a car. In other words you can make better time. But there the advantage ends. Taking a trip without a car is like taking a gun without ammunition.

It was big news in Palm Springs this morning but it only rates a stick with a machine head in the Los Angeles papers tonight. An army plane from March field landed at the El Mirador field this a. m. for breakfast and took off for home about 8:30.

After 89 in the shade at Palm Springs, Los Angeles in the low seventies after a rain, felt positively cold. Only a short stop in Los Angeles before taking the train for San Francisco, so we decided to have one last fling at the excellent sea food served at Levy's.

TABLEAUX! One is taking a limited train from a large city at night, with the porters scurrying around with the luggage, the conductor and his white vest, watch in hand, the lighted Pullmans, the goodbye handshakes and embraces, the last minute stragglers coming through the gate on the run, the happy crowd on the observation platform.

Ran into A. W. Warnock, P. J. Neff's brother-in-law, who since the first of the year has been special representative at Warner Brothers, and was kind enough to invite us to see some "takes" of Warner's big feature, "Midsummer Night's Dream."

San Francisco—A nice sleep on the Lark this time, with no inebriated drummers trying to drown out the roar of the train and succeeding. Walking up Market street half an hour after arrival someone plucked us by the arm and we were face to face with none other than A. C. Burch, who is here on personal mining business, but who hopes to see the president of the Southern Pacific concerning the proposed tunnel under the Siskiyou, before he leaves.

MARRIAGE STUDY SCORES HIT WITH MIAMI STUDENTS. OXFORD, O.—(UP)—Students supplid the impetus for development at Miami university here of a department which treats of the problems of marriage relationships.

14-YEAR-OLD BOY AN ASTRONOMER OF HIGH CALIBER. ROCHESTER, N. Y.—(UP)—Some day 14-year-old Litterio Farsaci, high school freshman, may startle the world by solving some of the deepest mysteries of the universe, according to Professor Floyd Cooper Fairbanks, astronomy instructor at the University of Rochester.

LOOKOUTS IN OREGON AND WASHINGTON cannot be expected to discover small forest fires more than 15 miles from their vantage point even in clear weather, according to analyses of fire reports made by the Pacific northwest forest experiment station.

THE HUMAN HID E IS IMPERVIUS. A reader, wishing to obtain a scientific reference or evidence on the question of absorption thru the skin, wrote an inquiry to the one-man health magazine which was formerly controlled by the American Medical Association, and in reply received a stereotyped letter without any individual's signature, running as follows:

Within limitations, (whatever that may mean) it is possible for certain fats to penetrate the unbroken skin. Solutions of drugs in water do not penetrate the skin, but it is apparently established that certain drugs when applied in the form of ointments in normal fats, of which lanolin is a fair example, may be absorbed. Advantage is taken of the fact in the use of mercury by injection for the treatment of syphilis.

So now will I pipe down on that for a while? Here is the voice of the great American Medical Association, made up of 90,000 of the representative physicians of the United States. No, no, child, it is no such voice. It is merely the opinion of the bright little man hired by the doctors to edit the magazine. When he wants a notion of his to seem so he refers to the notion as "accepted" or "apparently established."

NEW YORK DAY BY DAY By O. O. McIntyre. NEW YORK, April 8: Diary Abroad with my lady and ran again into Earl Benham who stood treat for a soda at Maillard's. Then wandering in the shops and a five and ten most fun of all. So back into my slacks and a new hat. George Buckley has left a Palo Alto hospital fit again.

PERT UNA MERKEL STILL AMAZED BY PICTURE SUCCESS. HOLLYWOOD.—(UP)—Una Merkel, pert and slippant on the screen, confesses that as a result of timidity and "the temperament of a ribbon clerk" in real life she is constantly amazed at her own success.

Valentine, John Widner, and Harry Keseler, by the defendants. Judgment against her for $1040 damages, and $71.80 costs, was returned by the court and jury last week.

Without Country. Born in Sacramento, Calif., and having lived in the United States all her life, Mrs. Rose Gertrude Sushkoff (above) was surprised when she learned in San Francisco that she was not an American citizen. Mrs. Sushkoff's first husband was an alien and a year after they were married the law which forbade her citizenship was repealed.

Comment on the Day's News

By FRANK JENKINS. SECRETARY of State Hull, the papers say, reveals that "preliminary negotiations leading toward the conclusion of a reciprocal trade agreement with France are now in progress."

FRANCE and Germany are making horrible faces at each other across the border. There MIGHT be war. War will cost a lot of money. One time-honored way for nations at war to get the money they need is to BORROW it.

WAR brings up naturally the subject of guns, and along that line we read in a Washington dispatch: "A new mystery gun is called the key item in a program of armaments production which is keeping the naval factory here operating full speed, night and day."

WYTHE WILLIAMS, noted war correspondent, says in a magazine article just out that for years German inventors have been working feverishly to develop new weapons and adds that they have made a lot of progress.

These rockets would rise into the stratosphere, sending back radio waves that would chart their position and receiving radio waves that would guide and manage them.

PARIS.—(UP)—All French newlyweds who spend their honeymoons in Algeria via the Mediterranean will be guaranteed a 35 per cent reduction in traveling expenses by the French steamship companies.

WOULD END BALM. Katherine Foley (above) introduced a bill in the Massachusetts house of representatives in Boston to outlaw alienation of affections suits in the state. She is the mother of three girls. (Associated Press Photo)
