

STATES TO PROVIDE $563,775,000 FOR RELIEF THIS YEAR

Sum Will Be Large Increase Over Past Year—Oregon Is Expected to Spend $3,700,000 Own Money

WASHINGTON, April 10.—(AP)—Harry L. Hopkins, the relief administrator, announced today that states and communities would provide $563,775,000 as their contribution to relief during 1935, an increase of $151,883,000 over 1934.

"This sizeable increase in the cooperative share that states and localities will pay," Hopkins said, "is the result of individual agreements worked out between the relief administration and the states. In a majority of cases, now, the state and local money has been definitely allocated for relief purposes, either by legislation or executive action."

Hopkins said that funds would be pooled until the $4,900,000,000 work program "takes effect," while afterwards "as a general rule the states and localities will be used to care for the needs of unemployable persons."

The following state list shows first, the 1934 contribution, and second, the amount agreed upon for 1935: Oregon: $1,558,000; enacted state legislation expected to provide $3,700,000 from state and local funds.

Idaho: $54,000; state appropriations expected to provide $3,000,000; localities expected to provide $1,000,000.

California: $18,415,000; state has appropriated $24,000,000 and is expected to provide an additional $20,000,000, while localities are expected to provide $2,000,000.

Washington: $2,896,000; appropriated $10,000,000 for relief and $10,000,000 for old age pensions for two years, localities expected to provide $3,000,000 during same period. Relief contribution for year, $11,500,000.

Montana: $1,243,000; state has appropriated $1,500,000 and localities expected to provide $1,000,000.

CORVALLIS CHURCH WILL BE REBUILT

CORVALLIS, April 10.—(AP)—A program for immediate reconstruction of the First Methodist church which was ruined by fire early yesterday, was being worked out by the church board today.

The damage was expected to exceed the $48,000 insurance carried on the structure which was built in 1923 at a cost of $150,000.

Funds for the rebuilding are not in sight and the financial situation is serious, but it is believed subscriptions will be solicited to supplement the insurance money.

AUTOISTS ARE URGED TO SPARE ANIMALS

Be Kind to Animals Anniversary is being observed nationally this week by five hundred societies for the prevention of cruelty to animals in affiliation with the American Humane Association. As a unit these societies are asking of autoists everywhere a little more care in averting injuries to animals on the highways.

Each year millions of animals are slaughtered or maimed by careless driving. As a consequence much suffering is entailed. "Won't you make every effort to avoid running down animals on the road or to report those who do so?" the local Humane society asks.

Escaped Convicts Killed By Posse

CAMDEN, S. C., April 10.—(AP)—Two escaped convicts were killed and a third seriously wounded early today near here by a posse which cornered them after a three-day hunt.

Capt. H. H. Keeter of the state penitentiary guard said the dead were Cornell Williams of Spartanburg and Willie Jackson of Charleston. James Wilson of Spartanburg was seriously wounded.

York cotton garment manufacturer, who testified to widespread benefits for workers and business under the code.

Peterson said his industry's code had been a code of ethics, and that its abandonment would bring "an era of price cutting so vicious that many grocers would be forced out of business."

"Competition," Hoffman said, "degenerated into a mad scramble, wherein the manufacturer's adroitness at human exploitation was of paramount importance."

Eagle Like Angel. "The Blue Eagle appeared to us almost like an angel from heaven. In a very short period it bettered the condition of all workers tremendously. Wages in some cases were increased 300 per cent. The industry itself has shown steady and substantial profits since the code went into effect."

Hoffman added that under the code, working hours had been reduced a third, hourly rates of pay had risen 117 per cent and employment had increased 10 per cent over 1929.

He denied the code had injured small business, asserting it rather had "reduced handicaps under which small business has completed."

Hoffman testified that before NRA the cotton garment industry was working as high as 55 hours a week and there was "a vicious cycle of wage reducing, which resulted in the payment of mere pittance, sometimes as little as $3 a week, for tediously long hours."

He said also that 13,000 child laborers had been replaced by adult workers, and that wages as a whole were only 3 per cent below 1929 levels.

EGGS GAIN FRACTIONS ON PORTLAND MARKET, BUTTER HOLDS STEADY

PORTLAND, April 10.—(AP)—Egg market continued to reflect seasonable condition with fractional price gains here and there. On the produce exchange the late season production of an advance of 1c for medium firsts with other grades and sizes unchanged for the day.

Increased storage requirements and lack of sufficient stock for needs created strong trade conditions.

General steadiness appeared in the local butter price even with consumer resistance. There was no change noted for the day. Values along the coast have been similarly affected.

Market for live chickens continued to reflect lack of price or demand change. Receipts were moderate but with the exception of colored stuff, there appeared plenty of immediate needs.

All through the market for country killed meats with the continued exception of medium to poor spring lamb, a good trading tone was shown and without material price change.

Still higher prices were being forced for onions with carload business confirmed $6.50 and resales to retailers $7 and even higher in spots. Demand appeared moderately good at the advance.

OREGON STUDENTS TO PARADE FRIDAY AS WAR PROTEST

movement on the part of students who are protesting war, the munitions industry, the R. T. C., the naval maneuvers and the government's program.

Call for the assembly was issued by student organizations here Tuesday afternoon, the assembly to be held in front of the university library. Denouncing war as "unnecessary, ineffective, unethical, un-Christian and suicidal," the assembly call urges students to join in "registering our unqualified repudiation of the war method, whether the war be of nations, classes or individuals."

In announcing plans for the meeting, student leaders expressed a desire to cooperate with university officials, but declared they felt the necessity of voicing student sentiment on the war question so urgent that the demonstration probably would be held regardless of the attitude of the university officials.

What do you mean, three years from seed bed to cigarettes...

I mean simply this—it actually takes about three years to make a Chesterfield cigarette.

It all starts with these little plants, called tobacco seedlings. They are grown under cover and transplanted to the open fields in the early spring.

Then the warm Southern sunshine begins to get in its good work and as the plants grow and ripen the mild ripe leaves are cut and sent to the curing barns. The farmer then takes his tobacco to the auction warehouse where it is sold to the highest bidder. All of this takes about a year.

The tobaccos for Chesterfield cigarettes are then stored away for two years or more to make them milder and taste better.

It all takes time—just about three years—but there is no substitute for mild ripe tobacco in making a good cigarette. That's the reason smokers—men and women—say that Chesterfields are milder and that Chesterfields taste better.
