

Veteran Ted Thye to Grapple Columbo on Armory Card Tonight

WRISTLOCK STAR WILL TEST HOLD ON BIG ITALIAN

Popular Hubka Meets Joe Smolinski in Other Half of Double Main Event of All-Star Mat Program

What Casey Columbo, smooth-wrestling Italian, will do when he gets in the ring with a rough and tough old-timer such as big Ted Thye of Portland, is causing considerable speculation among wrestling fans, who will be given a chance to find out in the main event of a two-ply card at the Armory tonight.

Columbo has appeared in Medford twice, and both times he was matched against clean wrestlers who gave the big Italian excellent opportunity to display his speed and science. This time, however, will find him up against a veteran who believes in winning matches by the shortest route possible.

Casey Confident
Casey is confident that clean tussling will come out on top. He plans to give the big Portlander, who recently invaded the south and left a trail of defeated opponents, such an attack of speed and fancy holds that Thye will be unable to do anything but try to protect himself.

Joe Smolinski, 200 pounds of Polish grappler, who has smeared 'em right and left in the east, according to word received here, will be the bundle that popular Joe Hubka, the Nebraska Cornhusker, will have to untie in the other half of the program.

Smolinski is rated as tough, from every angle, and Promoter Mack Lillard says the Pole is confident of beating the fast Nebraska star. Smolinski is a newcomer to Medford, who is getting his share of attention in the forthcoming card.

Hubka Polish Scissors
During the last several weeks Hubka has made Medford his headquarters. The promoter has been unable to find an opponent who could beat him, but believes he has at last done so in securing the Polish star. Hubka has been working hard to perfect his favorite flying body scissors, and plans to use that as his chief weapon against Smolinski.

The card is being presented at the usual admission rates, and the promoter is anticipating another large attendance. Fireman Ray Frisbie will referee.

Here's How Ted Takes 'Em

The reverse wristlock that aggressive Ted Thye (above) Portland grappler, is applying with such gusto on his victim is one of the most effective holds the Portlander has mastered in his climb to the top of the wrestling profession. Once applied, this hold is devastating, says Thye, who will try to use it in his bout tonight at the Armory with clever Casey Columbo of Italy.

BURGER TO MISS VETERAN PLAYERS PRACTICE REVEALS

Tiger Squad Will Be Built Around Group Only Partially Seasoned—Spring Practice Nearing End

The end of this week will probably see the termination of spring football practice at the high school, according to Coach D. K. Burger. Due to the fact that many of the aspirants are on smudging crews, the afternoon call to arms is generally answered by less than 25 of the 80 who signed up.

Much hard work has been accomplished so far this spring, and the squad looks much better than at the first of the practice seasons, but ruggedness and greenness are still quite apparent.

Burger's squad for next year will have to be built around a nucleus of men who are still green, at the best, with almost all of the veterans gone. Kuntzman is the only full-fledged first string man, with Estes, who was slated for the fullback or tackle post next year, probably ineligible because of age.

Ettinger at center, Dickinson at guard, Lewis and Bayliss in the backfield, are the ones around whom the new squad will be built. They were on the reserves last year. They are others who played with the Tiger Cubs last year who will probably break into the big time next season.

Lewis Looks Good

Perhaps the most likely looking back on the spring roster is Ray Lewis, understudy last year to Ghelardi. Lewis has put on several needed pounds, and is a fast, hard runner, a good blocker, passes nicely, and is a vicious tackler. Jim Bayliss, who may get the nod at fullback, is not out for spring drill, having an injured knee which Burger advised him to nurse. Bayliss is small for a fullback, but so was Ben Harrell, a fullback midget who will long be remembered in Medford.

Kazuo Maruyama, the tiny Nipponese flash, will undoubtedly get a crack at one of the halfback posts. In blocking practice this spring Maru has been knocking the big boys off their feet with sickening regularity. The other halfback position may go to Dickinson, who played both that position and guard last year.

Prospects on the line are not so bright, aside from Kuntzman and Ettinger. Vallier, a newcomer to football ranks, may develop into an end, having been doing some nice ball snatching the last few nights of scrimmage. Two aspirants for the line who will probably develop rapidly are Higgins, a new tackle, and Herron, an end.

Other likely looking players are Ray Offord, who has been trying for the halfback post, Jim Henry in the backfield also, Gibson, a halfback who displays lots of enthusiasm, and several others, besides those who will report next fall who were unable to be on hand for the spring workouts.

The complete spring roster follows: Vallier, Bayliss, Root, Richardson, Henry, Schiefel, Lewis, Estes, Ettinger, Walter, Cobb, Galinsky, Severson, Carter, Wright, Bishop, Maruyama, Pennington, Rose, Dodson, Armstrong, Walker, Perry, Herron, Hull, Leland, Sheets, Higgins, Clemens, Townsend, Kirby, Ettinger, Santo, Offard, Miller, Stevens, Anderson, Roberts, Williams, Stuart, Fraley, Oliver, Davidson, Luman, Todd and Hensley.

Of that number several have dropped out of school, and several have been proven ineligible.

There is a young Ettinger out, a brother of "Stretch," who may crack the backfield setup. He is a recruit from Junior high, and although small, like the rest of the "pony" backfield, is a clever ball player. Another "little brother" who may grab some of the limelight is Rex Gilmisky, brother of Max, star of a few years ago. Young Gilmisky seems fast, and willing to learn. He may be a good blocker before the regular season gets going.

Promising strong competition in the line are Pennington, from the reserve squad, and Santo, a large young man from the Junior high.

GILL TOTALS 704 PINS IN PRACTICE BOWLING

Jack Gill, who has been one of the top-notch pin smashers of these parts for years, came near breaking this season's record when he topped a total of 704 pins last evening in a trio of practice games. Starting with a 297 game, Gill chalked up scores of 211 and 226, for second highest total of the year.

INTER-CITY TOURNEY PARTICIPATED IN BY 80 WOMEN GOLFERS

Eighty women golfers from this city, Klamath Falls, Grants Pass and Ashland participated yesterday in the most successful ladies' day event yet held at Rogue Valley course. Luncheon was served at the clubhouse and the house committees was literally swamped by the large inter-city attendance. Other women assisted, however, and the day was such a success that it is planned to repeat the event during the summer.

The players were divided into four groups, made up of those from each city, and each group participated in a blind bogey event. Of the 47 who entered the Medford tournament, Mrs. W. S. Thurlow was the only one who hit the blind bogey, which was an eighty.

Mrs. Clarence Winetroun won the Grants Pass blind bogey, Mrs. J. S. Jordan, the Ashland event, and Mrs. Anne Rogers, the Klamath Falls event. The attendance was 30 from Klamath Falls, 12 from Grants Pass, two from Ashland and the rest from this city.

The committee in charge was Mrs. A. P. Mansfield, chairman, Mrs. W. A. Holloway, Mrs. Ralph Stephenson, Mrs. Roy D. Craft and Mrs. H. B. Kellom.

BOWLING TOURNAMENT AWARDS OF $93.106 DIVIDED BY WINNERS

SYRACUSE, N. Y., April 11.—(AP)—American bowling congress officials tackled today the task of malling out checks for $93,106 to wind up the 35th annual tournament.

None of the 48 "booster" teams which rolled yesterday in the final session managed to disclose the early leaders.

New champions were crowned in every division. In all, 376 five-man teams, 740 doubles combinations, 1,360 individuals and 105 all events competitors shared in the prize awards for the regular competition, while 782 teams got prizes for the booster division.

Principal honors went to the Wolfe's Tire Service of Niagara Falls, N. Y.; Don Brokad of Canton, O.; and Ora Mayer of San Francisco.

Wolfe's took the five man title with 3,059, winning $1,000 and five medals. Brokad rolled the second highest singles score in recent tournament history with a three game total of 723 which won him $800.

Mayer, the first Californian ever to win a championship, compiled in all events score of 3,023 for nine games. The other new champions are Clyde Sumner and Harry Souers of Akron, O., who took the doubles crown with 1,348.

COUNT ZARINOFF WINS FROM REILLY ON FOUL

PORTLAND, Ore., April 11.—(AP)—Count George Zarinoff, 210, Russia, gained two straight falls, the second on a foul, to defeat Pat Reilly, 206, the Boston bad man, here last night.

The bald-headed bull from Boston was unable to make his flying tackle connected with the cunning count and resorted to a choke hold which was broken by a counter-choke hold by Referee Verne Harrington.

Frank Speers, 235, Atlanta, gained the odd fall over Jules Stronkhow, 278, Oklahoma, by eruching flying tackles.
