TRIAL OF DAILEY STARTS MONDAY

Trial of Julian Dailey, indicted for alleged burglary not in a dwelling, will start before a jury in circuit court Monday. Dailey is specifically charged with the alleged burglarizing of the "Wint-Nut" confectionery and DeVoe's store 10 months ago. Two others indicted with Dailey are as large.

In the DeVoe burglary, the provers were surprised by city police and in the flight, shots were exchanged between one of the robbers and City Policeman William Peck. The marauders escaped in an auto parked on Sixth street. Police claimed at the time that one of the burglar trio was wounded, basing their surmise on the fact one was seen to fall on the lawn of the South Methodist church after an exchange of shots.

Dailey has a record. He has served a state reform school sentence, and two state prison terms from this county. He is alleged to have been a member of a local gang of young criminals, who committed a series of burglaries in this city two years ago, which was broken up with their arrest last October for the Mann department store burglary. Members of the gang are now either serving sentences, or at liberty on suspended sentences.

STUDENT STENOGRAPHS TO VIE SATURDAY

ASHLAND, April 12.—(Sp.)—Typing and shorthand experts of the Ashland high school are practicing diligently for the district typing and shorthand contest to be held Saturday at the Ashland senior high building opening at 9:30 a. m. Seven other schools will compete in the contest, all others with the exception of Grants Pass being second class schools.

Central Point, Sams Valley, Phoenix, Jacksonville, Butte Falls and Gold Hill, second class, will compete for the cup, first circulated last year and won by Phoenix in the district contest. Ashland and Grants Pass will compete for placement, no award to be given the winner. The cup won by Ashland last year in the district contest is out of circulation, Ashland having won it three times.
