Golden Anniversary Celebrated at Home Mr. and Mrs. Hawk

Just 50 years ago last Thursday Mr. and Mrs. S. M. Hawk of 701 West 11th street were married in Pottsville, Pa. Their golden wedding anniversary was celebrated at their home Thursday evening with 24 members of their family present and 21 guests.

The celebration was a happy one for Mr. and Mrs. Hawk, who have lived in Medford, with the exception of seven years spent at their home-stead near Butte Falls, steadily since 1905. They received many lovely gifts, and the rooms of the attractive old home were filled with flowers given them by relatives and close friends.

Dressed in their old wedding clothes, Mr. and Mrs. Hawk presided at the table where a large anniversary cake was cut. After the refreshments were served, there was entertainment during the evening. The guests joined in singing songs. Rev. W. R. Baird gave some readings and Dr. Charles T. Sweeney spoke.

Mr. and Mrs. Hawk have seven children, all of whom live in and near Medford. They were all present except Harry E. Hawk, who was called out of the city on business. Those present were: Mrs. Mabel Wright, 614 West Eleventh; Mrs. Hazel Vandermark, 345 Apple street; Mrs. Catherine McKinney of the Barry addition; Mrs. Anna Davis of Columbus avenue; Norman, of Talent, and Sharon of West Main street. Another son, Russell S., died in France during the war.

Ten grandchildren were all also present except Lella Vandermark, who is taking nurses' training in Portland.

The guests present were: Dr. and Mrs. Sweeney, Rev. and Mrs. Baird, Mr. and Mrs. S. B. Kraus, Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Newton, Mr. and Mrs. Henry Currier, Mr. and Mrs. H. L. Harrison, Margaret and Kenneth Harrison, Mr. and Mrs. Fleming, Mrs. Bertha Timmerman, Mrs. Ruth Bolton and daughter, Mrs. Stinson and Don Marvin.

Mrs. Sparrow Tells Travel Club of Trip Thru Old Mexico

Travel Study club met Monday at the home of its president, Mrs. Walter Frazer Brown, with a large attendance of members and visitors.

The study topic for April was Mexico. Mrs. Alex Sparrow, who had recently returned from a three week trip to that land of enchantment, entertained the club with an interesting account of her trip. She repeatedly stressed the courtesy of all whom she had occasion to contact, either socially or in business way. Of absorbing interest was her description of inspiring scenery, as they sped over wide, hard-surfaced mountain roads, of the beauty and grandeur of churches and cathedrals with their priceless paintings, sculptures, tapestries, and hand-carved wood work and of pyramids with terraces and wonderful carved stairways.

Mrs. Sparrow also told of her meeting with the president of Mexico at Mexico City, and of his interest in and plans for the betterment of his country and its people. His plans include better education of the masses, distribution of land, minimum wage laws, higher standards of living, improved foreign relations and religious freedom, Mrs. Sparrow said.

Mrs. Newton Chaney reviewed "Old Mother Mexico," by Harry Carr. He portrays the tragedies, Mrs. Chaney said, as well as the charms of that land of high adventure, contrasts and sudden change of scenes.

Mrs. Chaney's first hand knowledge of Mexico made the review exceedingly interesting, as well as instructive. She told of the early discoverers, the development of the country, and the characteristics of its people. She stressed the authors glowing tribute to the cruel but courageous Apache Indians. Also Father Kino's beneficent work with more than fifty missions to his credit, and civilization's appreciation of Mexico's gift of beautiful shrines, churches and cathedrals. She also gave glimpses of the lives of the poets and of the hacienda of that interesting and colorful country.

The topic for study in May is Central America.
