DAILY SENTENCED TO 5 YEARS FOR DEVOE BURGLARY

(Continued from page one.) Daily has served two state prison terms and one more felony conviction will place him under the "habitual criminal act" with a mandatory life imprisonment. The records show he first became involved with the law in 1925, for theft of an auto in this city, and was sentenced to the state reform school. Then followed felony convictions in this county and Portland.

In passing sentence the court said: "This man is avowedly of the underworld. Two prison terms, with plenty of time for reflection, have not changed his attitude. There is nothing to warrant the court granting 'leniency.'"

Attorney Otto Frohmayer, representing Daily, asked "for a short term, that whatever there is good in the young man may be salvaged." He told the court Daily impressed him as one "realizing the error of his ways."

Factors in the quick conviction of Daily were his identification by City Policeman William Peck as one of the trio who exchanged shots with him when surprised while robbing DeVoe's in May, 1934, and the confession of Glen Stringer, serving three years in state prison, implicating Daily as a participant or having knowledge of 14 burglaries in this city two years ago. Daily, on the stand, admitted the Shell Oil company and Medford Shoe Repair store burglaries, but denied any part in the DeVoe robbery and gunplay.

Nine shots were exchanged between the prowlers and city police during the flight from the DeVoe robbery.

Rose Expert Dies—PORTLAND, April 16.—(AP)—Dr. Spencer S. Bullinger, 81, president of the American Rose society, and widely known as curator of the international rose test gardens here for five years, died at his home in Tacoma last night after having been ill a week with bronchial pneumonia. He suffered a stroke more than a year ago. He will be buried at Tacoma tomorrow.

REP. HAMILTON IS SPEAKER AT NOON ROTARY MEETING

An interesting talk on activities and accomplishments of the 38th legislative assembly was given before the Medford Rotary club at the luncheon at the Hotel Medford today by Representative Moore Hamilton. The program was sponsored by A. J. Anderson, chairman of the program for this week's Rotary club meeting.

The fact that no legislation was enacted involving additional taxation was stressed by Representative Hamilton, as a genuine "accomplishment" of the recent session. This, together with the passage of acts enabling municipalities and irrigation districts to refund bonds with resultant reduction in interest, vitally affects Oregon taxpayers, according to the speaker.

Legislation, briefly discussed by Hamilton, included the Rogue River closing bill, effective in June, if a referendum is not secured; the timber acquisition act, which provides for private sale of timber lands to the government; the truck and bus act and the act reducing the liquor permit fee.

Representative Hamilton asked for the cooperation of the Rotarians and the public in the plan of the present administration to effect a consolidation of state boards and departments. He pointed out that the sum of approximately forty million dollars is collected every two years through licenses and other means, and the governor controls only a comparatively small portion of the disbursements from this huge fund.

"The governor has not a hand on the pocketbook of the state," the legislator said in pleading for the public to interest itself in efforts to simplify Oregon's complex governmental system in the interests of reduced taxation.

In concluding his interesting talk, Hamilton spoke briefly of his impressions at the 38th assembly, stressing the important part that "compromises" play in law making activities at Salem. He explained the widespread use of "vote swapping" and defended the activities of lobbyists, who confine, he said, their activities mainly to dispensing needed information.

Reverend E. S. Bartlam will act as chairman for next Tuesday's Rotary program, and the entertainment planned will probably include selections from Fra Diavolo, presented by Mrs. Esther Bristol and Mr. James Stevens.

Optometrists to Meet—The southern district of the Oregon Optometric association will meet in the office of Dr. Robt. E. Lee tonight at 7 o'clock. Dr. Judd Erickson is chairman in charge of local arrangements. Subjects for discussion will be: "Concise and Definite in the Visual Problem," "Fundus Examination," and "Orthoptics."

Wins Story Contest—L. R. Chandler of the Crater Lake national park service, author and poet, received word from Ray Schrenkelsen, story contest editor of Field and Stream, that he won a $5 prize in the "hardest escape from death" story contest recently conducted by the magazine. Chandler's story told of an experience he had years ago near Mexican Hat, Ariz., in which he was bitten on the back of the hand by a rattlesnake. Chandler said his life was saved by a Ute Indian, who gave him some medicinal tea.

DOG OWNERS WILL SEEK TEST OF LAW SETTING PENALTY

Twelve complaints, charging failure to procure a dog license—five in Gold Hill justice court and seven in Medford justice court—have been filed and await further action. The complaints were signed by agents of the Jackson County Humane society, which has charge of the dog tax collections.

It is reported that a number of the defendants will ask a jury trial and thus provide a test case of the dog license law penalty provisions. Time of trial is expected to be set today.

The district attorney's office reported today that a number of the defendants claimed they had proffered the regular dog tax without the penalty of $1, effective since March 15, and ordered by the court for license delinquents. The chief objection, county authorities said, was to paying the penalty. The regular tax is $1.50 for male dogs and $2 for females. Many of the defendants claim they are financially unable to pay both the penalty and license fee.

To date 2673 dog licenses have been issued by the county clerk's office. This is 2000 more than were issued last year. It is estimated there are still close to 500 unlicensed dogs in the county.

Complaints filed in the Medford district justice court were signed by J. W. Arraves against J. T. Herford of the Talent district, O. D. Berry of the Howard school district, C. J. Walker of 1126 West Ninth street, Medford; J. C. Berrang of Phoenix and C. J. Logan.

KIDNAPED BY "COLD GERMS"

He seemed a different person in winter. He lost his sunny summer disposition. Constant "colds" kidnaped his vitality, and made him irritable. And all so predictably. Today, in vitamin A, science has developed a powerful weapon against the common cold. This magic food element helps keep "colds" from getting a foothold in your body.

McKesson's VITAMIN CONCENTRATE TABLETS or COOP LIVER OIL contain an abundant supply of this vitamin, together with "sunshine" vitamin D. And they are the only vitamin concentrate tablets that furnish the important minerals, calcium and phosphorus.

Each tablet brings you all the vitamins in one teaspoonful of U. S. P. N. (revised 1934) Cod Liver Oil. Six tablets daily will help your body to brush aside cold germs and gain new strength and vitality. At all good drug stores. $1 for each bottle of 100 McKesson's VITAMIN CONCENTRATE TABLETS.

Portland, April 16.—(AP)—On the produce exchange butter showed a loss of 2 1/2c lb. with only 1/2c lb. differential between top and bottom scores. Only extras showed the spread, all others being at the same price, something unusual ever for the local exchange.

The cutting of butterfat 4c lb. indicated that the trade was not willing to share the price of butter with the producer although the late ruling of a former department of agriculture head, cutting the selling spread on butter, was considered a factor in lowering the buying price on fat.

Market for eggs continued to show a firm tone locally.
