

ST. MARKS PLANS 3-HOUR SERVICE ON GOOD FRIDAY

The Three Hours of Service, which in most cities of the land mark the anniversary of that dark period of time that Jesus Christ was nailed to the cross, will be revived at St. Mark's church, Episcopal, this year, with Rev. E. S. Bartlam, rector, conducting the observance on Good Friday as one of the outstanding celebrations of Holy Week.

From 12 o'clock noon, until 3 o'clock, the people of this valley are invited to join all Christian people in this very appropriate service to precede the joyous Easter day. The observance will be non-liturgical and broken up into seven periods, representing the seven phrases, spoken by the Saviour on the cross. Father Bartlam will speak on each phrase, applying it to modern life and weaving it into the unity of the complete observance. Twenty-five minutes will be devoted to each phrase and each interval will be marked by hymns, enabling people, unable to attend the entire service, to come and go without disturbing any unit of the program. It will be possible and permissible for people to leave at intervals and they are asked to do so during the singing of the hymns, of which there will be seven or eight.

The service of course, will be more beautiful to those who are able to remain from the beginning to the end. But it is known that work will make it impossible for a number to do this and the service has been broken into the seven intervals for their convenience. In addition to the service and hymns, an opportunity will be given for silent meditation and prayer. There will be no offering taken, but a plate placed at the church door for voluntary gifts, which will be used in the church's work in Jerusalem, where Canon Bridgman is teaching in a seminary for training in the orthodox church.

DANCING TO 2 A. M. SATURDAY NIGHTS HAS COUNCIL OKEH

Bill, which remains open until 2 a. m. By keeping the young people in Medford, it was pointed out that they can better be supervised and kept from driving over the country roads at dangerous speed to and from dance halls.

The council stated, however, both through Mr. Flegel's report and through Mayor George Porter, that the city of Medford strongly favors closing all public dances in the county at 12 o'clock. Inasmuch as other incorporated cities in the county have passed ordinances allowing dancing until 2 a. m., it is felt that by passing a similar ordinance in Medford the certain moral hazard that may be incurred by dancing the extra two hours is far less than encouraging young people to leave the city by closing the local halls at 12. When other cities close their dance halls at midnight, Medford will be among the first to fall in line, Mayor Porter said.

A dozen representatives of local restaurants and dance halls were present and through Attorney Porter J. Neff addressed the council in favor of the ordinance, stating that, besides reducing the moral hazard, it would encourage patronage of local restaurants.

Petitions Received Several petitions, with names totaling more than 500 of those people favoring closing the dances in Medford at midnight, were received by the council, but, inasmuch as many of the signers were rural residents, the petitions were considered of no great weight.

The ordinance passed at the previous meeting regarding the licensing of marble games and other similar machines was amended last night to read that all operators who place one or more of such machines in places of business and keep an interest in them must pay a license fee of $100. Merchants who purchase one or more of the machines and are sole owners must pay a license fee of $10 for each machine. The machines referred to are only that kind which require some element of skill in operation. Under the new ordinance the city also reserves the right to object to certain locations for the machines, although no such restricted zones have yet been set aside.

Electric Ordinance Stands Other business to come before the council included voting on the ordinance which requires licensees for dealers in electrical merchandise. It was voted to make no change in the ordinance, a discussion having come up at the previous meeting on the ordinance as affecting jewelers.

An ordinance was passed setting the sewage rate in Medford as 6 per cent of the water rate, with the 6 per cent deducted from each water bill, as required by the government.

CLOSE EYE KEPT ON JULIAN DAILY AT COUNTY JAIL

No definite date has been set by the sheriff's office for the transfer to the state penitentiary at Salem of Julian Daily, sentenced yesterday to serve not less than five years in the institution, on conviction of participation in the DeVoe store burglary, which was climaxed with an exchange of pistol shots with city officers.

Daily, a "two-time loser," dreads returning to the "big house," according to county authorities, and is closely watched to prevent escape. Jailer George Ingling reported today that Daily has "break ideas" and is waiting for a chance to employ them. He is lodged in the felony tank of the county jail and is reported to have tried to lure the jailer inside on the pretext the plumbing needed repairs. On another occasion, according to the district attorney's office, Daily was found walking toward the last door.

Authorities admitted they "are taking no chances" and keeping him under close surveillance pending removal to Salem.

Daily, while on the stand in his own behalf, admitted two local burglaries—the Shell Oil gasoline station and the Medford shoe repair shop—but denied any part in the DeVoe robbery.

Daily, according to authorities, was a member of a gang of youths who committed a dozen burglaries in this city two years ago, including the entry of the junior high school, the senior high school and Huson's "What-Not" confectionery. In the latter place the safe was carried away to the hills, broken open and $200 extracted. The district attorney claims money financed Daily's trip to the Midwest. He was arrested when he returned here.

With conviction of Daily only, two alleged members of the gang—Leslie Wilson and Carl Tremaine—are still
