LEADERS OF G. O. P. SPEED UP EFFORT OF RESURRECTION

Conferences On Battle Tactics Planned at Capital—Immediate Drive for Campaign Funds in N. Y.

WASHINGTON, April 19. — (AP) — With the next presidential convention only about 14 months away, Republican leaders intensified today their efforts to prepare their party for the 1936 campaign. Conferences aimed at revitalizing the party and evolving tactics for the coming contest were planned at the capital.

Officers of the Republican national committee gathered in New York to arrange an immediate drive to raise funds there. It was indicated the campaign would be extended throughout New York state and ultimately over the nation if it proved successful.

White to Help. William Allen White, the editor of Emporia, Kas., and former Senator Henry Allen of Kansas, were expected to begin a series of private conferences with members of congress here during the day.

Why The Easter Egg?

WHENCE comes the Easter egg, the lowly hen-fruit to which the rabbit applies his magic colors? We are all familiar with the tale of the egg Columbus stood on and the egg the magician takes out of your hat. We all know that a hard-boiled person is a three-minute egg, that a fried egg denotes an inebriate, and that a good egg is a term of praise.

The Easter egg comes down to us from ancient history centuries before the first annual egg rolling on the lawn of the White House, the ancients exchanged eggs with each other as tokens of good will because they were regarded as a symbol of fertility and the new life that ails Nature in Spring. Weakly barbarians gilded their eggs.

While the poor hen produces the Easter eggs, the rabbit gets the credit. Sun worshippers once saw in the white rabbit, playing in the bright beams of the Easter moon, a sign of prosperity. Thus the rabbit, one of the most prolific animals, became a symbol of Easter.

The name of Easter comes from Oetera, the Teutonic goddess in whose honor barbaric Nordics did fantastic dances in days of the splendor that was Rome. Long ago there were bonfires, dances and ceremonies to express man's joy over the victory of the Sun God who had saved the world from the clutches of the Ice King, ruler of the Winter months.

This pagan festival of long ago has been converted by Christians today into one of the most popular occasions on their calendar. The fires, ceremonies and songs, and even the festival cakes of the ancients, survive today in hot-cross buns and sunrise services attended by thousands on mountain tops.

The eggs sent by the ancients to show their good will survive in our popular custom of sending Easter greeting telegrams to loved ones and friends far and near.

Norman Rockwell, the famous artist, has painted the beautiful Western Union Easter telegraph blank this year. He has caught the spirit of Easter past and present in his colorful painting, showing a little gnome awakening the Easter rabbit to color the eggs. This will bring the joy and beauty of Easter and the sentiments of friends and loved ones to a million homes.

CONNECTICUT ENTERS APPLE CONTROVERSY BUT REFUSES SAMPLE

WATERBURY, Conn., April 19.—Connecticut executed a flank attack today in the congressional "apple war."

While congressmen in Washington pondered results of a "proof-of-the-ple" exploitation of the argument between New York and Oregon members as to which state produces the best apples, Miss Eleanor H. Moss, home demonstration agent for Litchfield county, unfurled Connecticut's banner.

"Let Oregon and New York furnish the congressmen with inferior pies," she said. "If they wish to sample the best they shall have to come to Connecticut."

The legislators yesterday forked their way through 75 pies which the Rochester chamber of commerce sent by plane after Oregon apples had been distributed.

Miss Moss said Connecticut could ill afford to send any pies to the capital.

"There is such a demand upon housewives to provide apple pies for their own families that any such move would be considered dangerous," she explained.

If colored butters are desired for sandwiches, use pimiento combined with butter for red or pink, while watercress chopped fine will give the desired green and orange or lemon rind blended with butter gives the yellow color.

PRESS SUFFERING FROM INDOLENCE; COURAGE UNUSED

WASHINGTON, April 19. — (AP) — Gove Patterson, editor of the Toledo Blade, told the American Society of Newspaper Editors today that he was "less disturbed about the freedom of the press in the United States than I am about the disposition of too many newspapers not to do anything about it."

Opening the annual convention of the society of which he is president, Patterson declared flatly that the press in the United States "does not suffer from lack of freedom."

"But with notable exceptions, to which we point with pride," he said, "we suffer from editorial inactivity and mental indolence. The press does not lack courage, but in too many quarters courage has grown rusty with disuse."

The Ohio editor said it has been his experience that newspaper publishers "want progressive, constructive, hard-hitting and thoroughly courageous editors."

He predicted the time was almost at hand for a realignment of the major political parties, "possibly under the names of Liberals and Conservatives."

Mr. B sits down on "Coffee-Floating"

FOR THE ten years of their married life, Mr. Brown had patiently tolerated his wife's enthusiasm for antique furniture. During that time, Queen Anne, Chippendale, Sheraton and Jacobean pieces were shifted in and out of their home.

However, when Mrs. Brown started to serve a different brand of coffee each week—"Just for a change," she said—Mr. Brown lost no time in remonstrating.

"Listen, Mary. I'll make a bargain with you. You can float from one style-of furniture to another all you want, provided you stop coffee-floating. There's not one of these brands you've been getting that has a leg to stand on, no matter how you make it, nor what cups you serve it in. You stick to Hills Bros. Coffee. Even though it may cost a little more, you always get more fine cups from a pound than any other brand."
