Come to Church for Easter Services

Easter, a day of rejoicing, will be observed in the community this Sunday with the annual impressive church services and special Easter music and spring flowers, that always seem to lift the day above all others throughout the year, for celebration of the resurrection of Christ.

The church will be the scene of happy gatherings when people the world over unite for prayer and worship. Special choirs will sing in many of the churches of the city and community, and in many there will be prominent speakers on the programs, which will also include baptism and reception of members.

On Rader hill, just south of Phoenix, many were to gather at 5:00 o'clock this morning for the annual sunrise services, perhaps the most exhilarating and impressive rites of the day. Several churches were to take part in the program, put on under auspices of Crater Lake Christian Endeavor Union. Talks by three members of the young people's organization, special music, scripture readings and prayer have been prepared.

Holy communion will be celebrated at the Episcopal church at 7:00 a. m., and again at 8:00 a. m. There will also be baptismal service and the regular morning service with the sermon at the Episcopal church.

At the Sacred Heart Catholic church, high mass will be held at 8:00 a. m. Low mass and benediction will follow, in the impressive liturgical observance of Easter.

A special Sunday school service will be a feature at the Presbyterian morning worship. The evening Christian Endeavor meeting will not be held, due to the sunrise service at Phoenix.

Every church in the community has prepared something special and church auxiliaries and other societies will add their shares to the observance of this sacred day.

Phoenix Christian Church.

The Phoenix Christian church building has just received a good repairing both inside and out. It is one of the most usable auditoriums in the little town.
Our Easter services will be: Bible school at 10, followed by the regular preaching services and communion; then a noon-day lunch and social fellowship.
The evening services will be composed of Christian Endeavor, and a fine program of stereopticon pictures—Life of Christ—Oregon Views and several good sentimental songs—shown in pictures.
This church stands for the old-time gospel, as taught by Christ and the Apostles, in doctrine, practice and faith.
You are kindly invited to come and have a social hour with us in real Christian fellowship.
M. Brownrigg, minister in charge.

Madonna Lilly

The lily's face is waxen, pale
—As Christ's was pale;
She droops her fair head mournfully
—As did Christ in His travail.
The tears He shed when sore distressed
By man's ingratitude now rest
Upon her face. Sweet is her breath
It speaks of Life . . . in Death.
—Anna Winterhalder.

All-Union Rally At Presbyterian Monday Evening

The all-union rally is held to boost the convention, which is to be held in The Dalles, Ore., next week.

Members of Church Missionary Society Meet, Daniel Home

The Women's Missionary society of the Presbyterian church met at the home of Mrs. R. S. Daniels, 407 Park street, Tuesday afternoon, with a large group in attendance.

Mrs. F. Iverson led the devotions naming Tuesday as the day of controversy and emphasizing the need of prayer now more than ever before. Mrs. Hodgkins sang a solo, "The Old Rugged Cross." Following the business meeting, Mrs. O. J. Gould read some interesting articles from women and missions and Miss Laura Bailey, Echoes From the World's Book of Prayer.

Mrs. Frederick H. Johnson spoke of the Near East, those countries adjacent to the eastern and northern end of the Mediterranean. She gave a splendid review of the Near East Foundation, stressing the point that, though this is not a religious work in itself, as the relief society is not allowed to interfere with the religion and customs of the people, the Christian influence is so strong that it is of great religious value and a great movement for world peace.

Rev. Peterson discussed the religious life of the natives and told some very interesting stories related by Dr. Shedd, who spent years during the war in these countries. He spoke especially of the Armenians, whom he said have been so cruelly persecuted by the Turks, but who have remained steadfast in their faith.

During the social, refreshments were served by the hostess and her committee, Mrs. Luke and Miss Bailey.

Adult Spanish Class Ready Re-entrance

J. C. Hunter, instructor of the adult Spanish classes being conducted at the Senior high school, announced yesterday that those people who were forced to drop their class work because of illness or rainy weather, and particularly those who have purchased text books will still have an opportunity to gain quite a knowledge if they re-enter the classes now. A final course in conversational Spanish, to be held on Tuesdays and Thursdays, will start shortly, Hunter stated, and beginners are also welcome to attend.

All Medford Churches Extend to Everyone A Cordial Invitation To

. . . Now when the even was come He sat down with the twelve . . . And as they were eating, Jesus took bread, and blessed it and brake it and gave it to the disciples, and said, take, eat, this is my body. And he took the cup and gave thanks, and gave it to them saying, Drink ye, all of it . . So transpired the last supper of Jesus and his disciples. And though he knew that one among them had betrayed him, he raised not his voice in wrath, but in prayer to God. The power of His faith has changed the entire history of the world.

The message in His teachings, even though torn and distorted, remains outlasting. Not alone as a symbol of the miracle of his birth nor of his resurrection . . . but purely as the greatest expression of faith ever to be known. That faith, hope and heartfelt good will toward all must forever be an inspiration to mankind; and eventually lead the weak to become strong, the evil to become virtuous, the tortured to know peace. Today, Easter Sunday, we can only echo the song which is left over in our heart and soul. Praised be His name . . .
