IRON MAN HUBKA PINIONS HEALY IN FURIOUS GRAPPLE

Big Jim Healy of San Francisco was in a bad humor last night in his headline match at the Armory, but he wasn't quite tough enough for popular Joe Hubka, "Iron Man" Hubka, after undergoing a pummeling and kicking, turned loose some clean, fast fireworks of his own and in three and a half minutes won the deciding fall with a Boston crab.

The match started slow and easy and it was 20 minutes before Healy, 221, opened up with Sonnenbergs and knocked the Nebraska gas-gas, winning the first tumble with a body press. Healy gradually worked up a temper—he was tired from a 300-mile drive from Portland just before his match—and before long, in the middle of the period, he was letting loose the uppercuts right and left.

Hubka, 204½, put a stop to it with his deadly Sonnenbergs, however, and after five minutes of high-powered wrestling he applied one of his beautiful flying body scissors, rolling over backwards to pin Healy's shoulders for the second fall.

The last session was crammed full of action and saw the clever Hubka using his wily legs from all angles of the ring. When Healy ran under the ropes, Hubka went after him with his feet, and once dragged him over the hemp with a perfectly-executed flying head scissor.

Referee Ray Frisbie took a hand in the other bout, by pinning Angelo Cistoldi of Italy, a newcomer who out-managed the Masked Marvel, when the Italian persisted in using his fists on Glen Wade, grappler from Winnebago, Neb. Frisbie gave the deciding fall to the Nebraska, but Cistoldi objected and came to grips with the arbiter. Ray, however, proved himself the master of the situation and not only flattened the irate Italian, but poked him in the eye.

Cistoldi, one of the most unscrupulous grapplers seen here, resorted to unorthodox wrestling throughout the match. Wade took the first fall in 14 minutes, with a series of Sonnenbergs and a pile-driver hold. The Italian won the middle fall with a body press. Wade was listed at 214 and Cistoldi at 215 pounds.

In a warm-up bout, Rusty Stevens, 142, won from Harold Hubbard, 139, in three minutes with a press.

YOUTHFUL DODGER PERMITS ONE HIT TO DEFEAT PHILS

(By Associated Press)

If the New York Giants fail to finish at or near the top of the National league it apparently won't be the fault of Bill Terry's pitching "big four."

The quartet already has made a highly promising start even though Fred Fitzsimmons has been belted out twice.

Carl Hubbell out loose with a great three-hit effort Wednesday, and yesterday Roy Parmelee came through with another three-hit performance to beat the Braves 2 to 1.

The Brooklyn Dodgers, however, continued to outshine the Giants in pitching as well as in other departments, and retained the league lead on the strength of an outstanding mound performance by 21-year-old Johnny Bashish. Johnny hurled the second one-hit game of the National league season against the Phillies to win 6-0. The first was tossed by Cy Blanton of Pittsburgh.

Only an eighth-inning single by Mickey Haslin, substitute third baseman, spoiled a near perfect game for Bashish.

Cincinnati's Reds hopped back into third place with a 6-0 triumph over the Pirates with Benny Frey hurling a six-hit game. The Cubs continued to pick on the Cardinals' Dean and Dean combination, nipping Brother Paul for the deciding runs in a 7-5 triumph, after having defeated Dizzy in a similar relief role Wednesday.

Wilshire blanked the Senators with two hits as the A's won 10 to 0, with the aid of an eight-run second inning. Broaca hurled a less spectacular seven-hit game against Boston and the Yankees put on a similar rally, scoring seven times in the fifth to smother the Red Sox 12 to 4.

Another seven-run inning sent the White Sox along to their fifth victory in six clashes with the champion Tigers, 9-8. The Indians captured the junior circuit lead by coming from behind to defeat the Browns, 7 to 6.

G. P. REORGANIZES COUNTRY CLUB TO SAVE GOLF LINKS

GRANTS PASS, April 25—(Sp.)—Reorganization of the Grants Pass Country club by deeding the club's local golf course to a holding company and taking a lease in return, was voted Wednesday night at a special meeting of the club's stock membership.

The plan provides for the holding company to pay delinquent and current taxes immediately and lease the property to the golf club for the annual taxes and interest on $6,000 capitalization, the lease to continue as long as these payments are continued.

The golf club itself suspends all stock memberships and throws its membership lists open to all men who pay $24 a year dues, all women who pay $18 a year dues, and all high school students who pay $10 a year dues, with a membership campaign to be started in a few days, in which between 40 and 50 new members are expected to be secured.

With the club free of all debt and the dues reduced from their recent figure of $48.20 a year, including federal tax, the membership drive is expected to place the club on a continuing basis of financial stability. There is no federal tax upon the reduced schedule of dues.

The dues will be $2 a month for men, but will be collectible at the rate of $3 per month for eight months beginning March 1 each year. The student membership dues are expected to provide for play during week days to promote the game among younger players and possibly to allow for golf classes with school supervision.

WOMEN GOLFERS WIN BY 4 POINTS IN G. P. TOURNEY

A team of 12 lady golfers from Rogue Valley course defeated the Grants Pass team at the Climate City yesterday by four points, in the first of a series of tournaments for possession of the coveted McCaskey trophy. The four-point margin will carry over until May 15, when the Grants Pass team will visit Medford in the return tournament of the 1935 two-tournament series.

Aside from the 12 team members and two substitutes, eight or ten other players made the trip and the tournament was described as highly successful. The series of 36 holes, 18 of which were played yesterday. The other 18 will be played here. The tournament will continue for three years.

The team members are Mrs. D. R. Wood, Miss Anna Mae Fuson, Mrs. J. C. Thompson, Mrs. George Gooding, Mrs. Anne Fuson, Mrs. F. G. Bunch, Mrs. W. S. Thurlow, Mrs. Aletta Vawter, Mrs. E. C. Jerome, Miss Roxane Ruhl, Mrs. Lillian Wilcox and Mrs. Larry Schade. The substitutes were Mrs. Gordon Green and Mrs. Ray Moran.

Mrs. Vawter was captain. Mrs. Gooding, chairman of the tournament committee, announced today that Mrs. J. H. Fletcher has been elected captain of the "B" division, and Mrs. W. S. Bolger of the "C" division.

Called at the end of the fifth inning because of darkness, the Snider's nine completely outclassed the DeMolay team, 43-3. In the five innings played Short Line drives would get tangled up with arms and legs, while the Snider lads romped in over the plate monotonously.

In a closer battle, the Christian church nudged out the 20-30 club, 11-8, with the aid of the breaks and Oliver's pitching.

post of relief administrator to take care of those remaining on relief rolls until the goal of the works campaign is reached.

This is the removal of 3,500,000 persons from relief rolls and giving them jobs.

Mr. Roosevelt said again today he expected the states and municipalities to take over the case of unemployables on relief rolls.

Big Four in Confab.

Tonight's White House conference will include the big four of the $4,000,000 undertaking—Frank C. Walker, director of the emergency council; Secretary Ickes, chairman of the allotment board; Hopkins, and Rexford G. Tugwell, head of the division for rural resettlement.

Robert E. Wood, Chicago business man, will be the representative of the business advisory council on the important allotment board which will pass on the distribution of funds for the projects.

The White House announcement said accurate information must be available on the actual number of employables whose names are on relief rolls.

"As the works relief program is intended to take care primarily of these people," the statement said, "the projects must be allocated in proportion to the numbers within a given work area. The progress division will be in charge of these figures and will keep the other divisions informed at all times."

NO INSURANCE ON STATES SCHOOLS NOW - SAMMONS

PORTLAND, Ore., April 26—(AP)—Demanding to know why the state should gamble in the matter, Edward C. Sammons, member of the state board of higher education, said here today that as a result of the destruction of the state capitol, "it is a stinging burns now on the poorest building of the Oregon State high school system, we have not a penny to replace it."

For several months Sammons and other members of the board have been decrying the inadequacy of the state's policy of "carrying our own insurance."

"On my desk," Sammons said today, "is a statement which shows that the state has a grand total of $18,000 in its so-called restoration fund to replace burned structures.

"Naturally the loss of the capitol has wiped out that pitifully inadequate fund. There is not a penny left.

"It seems to me that common business practice and intelligence should require better protection than that."

SUNDAY DEADLINE FOR TOURNEY QUALIFYING

To all Rogue Valley golfers who care to participate in the annual spring handicap tournament, which opens at the course tomorrow, Bro Jack Huoston announced that qualifying scores must be turned in before Sunday night.

It is necessary that cards be given the pro, so that drawings may be made and announced the first of the week. The first bracket of match play will be completed before the following Sunday night.

Sixty-four will qualify. One bracket will be completed each week until the finals, which will be held on Decoration day, May 30.

TIGER BASEBALLERS PLAY CENTRAL POINT

The Medford high Tigers baseball team will play the second of their early season practice games tonight when they meet the Central Point high school at Central Point. The Medford diamond is still undergoing repairs, with bleachers going up today, and all of the first several games for the school will be played away from home.

Games are being arranged with Eagle Point, Sams Valley and Ashland, and when all of those teams have been met, return engagements will be made at the Medford field, Assistant Coach Hal Sowers said today.

In tonight's game, Erickson and Lewis will wish them to Bayless.

Pick Of Trackmen In Relay Carnival

PHILADELPHIA, April 26—(AP)—The pick of the east, south and midwest track stars swing into action today in the 41st renewal of the University of Pennsylvania's classic relay carnival.

Indications are records will be toppled by the army of 3000 athletes from some 300 schools and colleges.

BOTH 'FRISCO TEAMS BEGINNING TO CLICK; ACORNS TRIM DUCKS

(By the Associated Press)

Though there be no joy in Mudville —not maybe among the fans of southern California, either—the sun is actually shining for a chance on San Francisco's baseball stadium today. For both home teams are coming through at last.

The Seals yesterday downed Los Angeles for the second time in a row to take the series and pop into undisputed third place in the league. The Seals won, 5-2.

Missions came from behind in the eighth to score a 6-4 victory over Hollywood and sweep the series.

Oakland moved a notch farther ahead of the league by taking the second straight game from Portland, 6-3. The Ducks took runs off Chandler in the first and another in the second, but the Acorns collected three runs in the fifth when Al Gould went wild. Later Frank Hawkins, Oak infielder, banged out a homer.

Sacramento collected four runs in the eighth inning to take their only game of the series with Seattle, 9-3.

ASHLAND LITHIANS MONICKER OF NINE

ASHLAND, April 26—(Sp.)—Ashland's baseball team will be known as the "Ashland Lithians," and George F. McConnell will get to see all the home games free.

This was the decision of Judges Billy Hulen, John K. Miljus and Bill Eberhart, in the contest sponsored by team officials to find a suitable name for the newly formed club.

The winning entry, a "natural" for any team sailing under Ashland colors, was submitted by Mr. McConnell, who, incidentally, pitched the first curve ball ever seen in Jackson county, several decades ago, and is an enthusiastic baseball fan at the age of 79.

Prize Winner McConnell had already been chosen as the notable to toss the first ball when the league opens here against Medford, on May 12.
