

SPEED, EFFICIENCY AIM OF ROOSEVELT IN WORK PROGRAM

ed as lack of interest in or disapproval of many other important proposals that are pending.

"We are losing no time," he said. "In getting the government's vast work relief program under way..."

"This," he said, "is a great national crusade to destroy enforced idleness which is an enemy to the human spirit generated by this depression. Our attack on these enemies must be without stint and without discrimination. No sectional, no political distinctions can be permitted."

"It must, however, be recognized that when an enterprise of this character is extended over more than 2,000 counties throughout the nation, there may be occasional instances of inefficiency, bad management or misuse of funds."

"When cases of this kind occur, there will be those, of course, who will try to tell you that the exceptional failure is characteristic of the entire endeavor. It should be remembered that in every big job there are some imperfections. There are chiselers in every walk of life, there are those in every industry who are guilty of unfair practices, every profession has its black sheep, but long experience in government has taught me that the exceptional instances of wrong-doing in government are probably less numerous than in almost every other line of endeavor."

"Vigilance Needed

"The most effective means of preventing such evils in this work relief program will be the eternal vigilance of the American people themselves."

"The social security legislation now before congress, he said, 'is a necessary part of the future unemployment policy of the government.'"

"While our present and projected expenditures for work relief are wholly within the reasonable limits of our national credit resources, it is obvious that we cannot continue to create governmental deficits for that purpose year after year. We must begin now to make provisions for the future. That is why our social security program is an important part of the complete picture."

"Of the hotly disputed utility bill, which he described as 'legislation to provide for the elimination of unnecessary holding companies'—the president said:

"Needed For Recovery

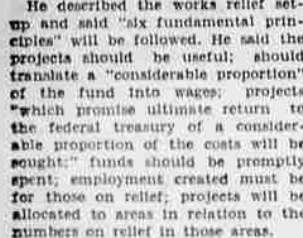

"I consider this legislation a positive recovery measure."

"The absentee management of unnecessary holding company control has lost touch with and has lost the sympathy of the communities it pretends to serve," he said. "Even more significantly it has given the country as a whole an uneasy apprehension of over-concentrated economic power."

"Of banking legislation, also surrounded by controversy, he said 'certain proposals to amend the federal reserve act deserve prompt and favorable action.' He also called for transportation legislation, including regulation of interstate bus and truck business."

"He described the works relief set-up and said 'six fundamental principles' will be followed. He said the projects should be useful; should translate a 'considerable proportion' of the fund into wages; projects which promise ultimate return to the federal treasury of a considerable amount; funds should be promptly spent; employment created must be for those on relief; projects will be allocated to areas in relation to the numbers on relief in those areas."

UNDERPRIVILEGED TOTS TOPIC OF REV. BARTLAM AT MEETING OF KIWANIS

"The Underprivileged Child," was the subject of Rev. E. S. Bartlam, rector of St. Mary's Episcopal church, at the regular luncheon meeting of Medford Kiwanis club at Hotel Medford today.

Reverend Bartlam told of his experiences during the earthquakes in California, comparing conditions then with present day conditions. He said that the old world is "getting shakier," politically and economically, and that the people for the most part are sitting down and wondering what will happen next.

The speaker gave promise of wonderful opportunities in the future, however, and that the present rumors of war and general unrest are signs that from it all something better is coming. In making these statements, Reverend Bartlam led up to his point that the future of the race is in the hands of the children, who are molded by environment, which all business men should work hard in hand to improve.

Guests at the meeting were Gene Thomas and Charles W. Spencer.

AUTOS WILL TAKE VOCATIONAL CLASS

Young men of the city who are planning to attend the meeting of all groups of the vocational classes this evening at the packing plant of the Southern Oregon Sales, Inc., south of Medford, are asked to meet at the chamber of commerce tonight at 7:30 o'clock. Transportation to the plant will be furnished, according to Frank Hull, chairman of the administrative committee.

Fathers of the young men and their friends are invited to also enjoy this interesting and instructive meeting. Lectures will be given covering the operation of a large packing plant and other phases of the fruit industry by A. S. V. Carpenter, Shelby Tuttle and other members of the S. O. S. organization.

The five groups will meet at their scheduled places Tuesday evening.

VOLUNTEER FIREMEN MEETING NEXT WEEK

The volunteer firemen's meeting, which has been erroneously announced for this evening, will not be held until a week from tonight, it was announced at the fire hall today.

D. L. Dinskeep will be present at this meeting to instruct the firemen in using the inhalator that was recently acquired by the Medford fire department.

MORGENTHAU, MEXICO AGREE UPON SILVER

WASHINGTON, April 29.—(AP)—Secretary Morgenthau announced today he had concluded mutually satisfactory conversations with representatives of the Mexican government concerning the silver situation.

Mr. Morgenthau also advanced the information that there will be no announcement tonight on a possible change in the price the treasury will pay for silver.

Modern Bathroom Luxury

The last word in modern bathroom planning and equipment is illustrated here. Utility gives no ground to luxury but both are found in the above arrangement in happy combination. Modern mirror and lighting installations suggest spaciousness. Simplicity is also the order of the day. Note the compact but roomy tub, the graceful, two-legged wash basin. Built-in towel cabinets are answers to many housewives' prayers. The floor plan is an adaptation of economy of space.

Assassin Suspect Grabbed By Cops

BOSTON, April 29.—(AP)—What police interpreted as an attempt to assassinate Augusto Rosso, Italian ambassador, was frustrated in the hall of flags at the state house today with the arrest of a suspect, who carried a dirk in his hand. The arrest was made just as the ambassador was entering the hall after visiting Governor James M. Curley.

Detectives noticed the weapon in the man's hand and sprang ahead of the ambassador's party to snatch it from him.

15 Cent Boost In Sugar Price Today

PORTLAND, April 29.—(AP)—Advance of 15c per hundred pounds in the price of all grades of refined sugar was announced by Johnson-Lieber company, representatives of California-Hawaiian Refining company. Local jobbers have for some time been practically 20c below the refinery basis but the basis quotation would be $5.45 for 100c of cane and a dime less for beet waffle bales would be a dime more.

LOGGERS LEGION FOR WAGE BOOST

PORTLAND, April 29.—(AP)—Wage increases for 4-L employes have been recommended by the wage board of the Loyal Legion of Loggers and Lumbermen.

The reaction today to this recommendation of Saturday was that the 4-L had taken the step in order to "get the jump" on "demands" made by a newly organized union of timbermen, affiliated with the A. F. of L. The new union has threatened a general lumber strike May 6 unless the demands are met by operators.

The present 4-L schedule calls for a minimum wage of 45 cents an hour, 2 1/2 cents above the code minimum. No announcement was made as to what the increase recommended by the wage board may amount to.

DEFEAT OF BORAH SEEN BY BOURBON

WASHINGTON, April 29.—(AP)—Mrs. Frank E. Johnesse, Idaho Democratic state chairman, today said she believed the Democratic party "has a good chance" to defeat Senator Borah, veteran Republican from that state, when he comes up for re-election next year.

Mrs. Johnesse, the only woman to head a state Democratic organization in the United States, carefully qualified the prediction, however, by pointing out that a "great deal depends on Democratic success in the senatorial election" on the popularity of the national administration at that time.

"If the Democrats should put a good strong man in the field against the senator, I believe we would have a good chance of defeating him," she said.

seekers he had virtually completed all major appointments and advised applicants not to renew their requests. More than 10,000 applications for jobs were lost in the fire.

Job Seekers Busy

Earl H. Goodwin, former secretary to the governor and now with the World War veterans' state aid commission, wrote the executive he was busy answering phones regarding the lost applications. Martin, in reply, suggested these not be renewed.

"It is impossible with our small staff of two stenographers to acknowledge receipts of applications. I have only three or four more appointments to make of a major nature, and all subordinate appointments will be left with department heads," the governor declared.

The executive added further that any other appointments he may have will be delayed because he was "too busy" with the present situation to devote any time to these matters at the present.

FOREST FIRES FEARED IN VANCOUVER REGION

VANCOUVER, Wash., April 29.—(AP)—General uneasiness prevailed over the forest lands of this area today as fire hazards increased and weather conspired against the firefighters. George Heger, state district fire warden, said "conditions are none too good."

A total of 32 fires were burning at one time or another in this vicinity yesterday.
