LIQUOR COMMISSION CANCELS 8 LICENSES OF BEER DISPENSERS

PORTLAND, April 30.—(AP)—Continuing its campaign of clamping down on beer and wine shops which do not adhere to the regulations of the law, the Oregon liquor control commission today revoked licenses of eight places, and denied rehearings of license revocations on seven other places.

Licenses revoked included: Lucas G. Vogt of Grants Pass, accused of selling liquor to a minor; Pauline Wason of Empire, accused of unlawfully selling whisky; Max Neff of Waldport, on the same accusation; James McCutcheon, North Bend, accused of selling whisky; Melcoma Club, Marshfield, same charge.

After checking on its findings in revoking and denying licenses, the commission denied rehearings to Log Cabin Inn, Eugene, because no new evidence was introduced to justify a rehearing; M. L. Cherry of The Grotto, Salem, rehearing denied because place is too near a church; Mrs. Laura Robertson, Grants Pass; four beer places already in same block, and no more needed; R. E. Higgins, Keystone auto camp, Grants Pass, because beer places there now.

Activians' Dance Wednesday Night

The committee in charge of the May Day dance which is to be held tomorrow night at Oriental Gardens, sponsored by the Active club, reports that all is ready for one of the largest, biggest events of its kind of the year. Jack Butler is chairman of the committee and is assisted by Frank Perle, Jack Walker and John Niedermeyer.

At tonight's regular meeting of the club final preparations will be made and the final drive for ticket sales will be made. Officials report that a large crowd is expected, drawn by the ever-popular Archie Legg and his band, who have been secured for the occasion.

The dance is being held as a benefit to the Boy Scouts and proceeds will be used to help send a member of Boy Scout Troop 16, which is sponsored by the Active club, to the national jamboree in Washington in August.

RAINS PROVE BOON TO GROWING CROPS

Current rains, according to County Agent Robert G. Fowler, come as a boon to grain crops and gardens, particularly to spring sown wheat. The top soil had begun to dry out and the gentle rains supplied the needed moisture to the growing crops.

Fowler describes the condition of the "fall sown wheat as fine," and the spring sown wheat as "coming along good." Barley and alfalfa also benefited from the prolonged showers.

The rains, according to County Engineer Paul Rynning, checked road work in various parts of the county. Operations have been under way the past month to put several routes in shape for oiling under the county co-operative plan with districts. The oiling is not scheduled to start until after June 1.

NAME SUCCESSOR EDUCATION BOARD WEDNESDAY, WORD

The governor implied he had not received a copy of the letter. Mrs. Pierce was reported to have written to friends refusing to resign as a member of the education board, but he did not make a definite statement to that effect. The executive ignored further queries as to whether or not he received the letter.

In her 6000-word letter Mrs. Pierce hurled charges of political animosity at Governor Martin, ranging from his citing charges of her absence from the board meetings to calling the battleship Oregon a "blemish."

Mrs. Pierce, as secretary to her congressman husband, has been in Washington, D. C., for many months.

Non-Attendance Reason.

Mrs. Pierce was reported to have said she was busy while in the east selecting a chancellor for the Oregon higher educational institutions, which was interpreted to be her answer to the executive's charges.

No recourse from removal by the governor can be accorded a member of the board, since no appeal from his decision has been provided. Appointments were made for a term of nine years. Mrs. Pierce, former state librarian before she married the congressman, was appointed by Governor Meier for a term ending March 2, 1940.

The lone cause for her removal, definitely set for tomorrow, will be her non-attendance at sessions of the board, the governor reiterated.

WASHINGTON, April 30.—(AP)—Mrs. Cornelia Marvin Pierce, wife and secretary of Congressman Walter M. Pierce (D. Ore.), declared today she had no comment whatever on the request of Governor Martin of Oregon that she resign from the state board of higher education because of her non-attendance at regular meetings.

"I have received numerous letters on the subject from various people," she said, "but I have done nothing about it, and do not intend to do anything."

Denies Discussing Matter.

She said, further, in contrast to information published in Oregon, that "I have not discussed the subject with anyone or written anyone regarding the statement that Governor Martin would ask me to resign." She has, she said, not mentioned her intentions to anyone.

In Portland today what purported to be a 6000-word letter from Mrs. Pierce in connection with the governor's demand was published with the prefatory note that Mrs. Pierce said she originally had intended to release the letter to the press, but ultimately had decided to send it only "to friends." The reason given was that "it gathered from Mr. Pierce that he would very much regret anything which would continue the strife between factions of the Democratic party."

PORTLAND, April 30.—(AP)—Charging Governor Charles H. Martin with political animosity and refusing his demand that she resign from the Oregon board of higher education, Mrs. Cornelia Marvin Pierce, wife of Congressman Walter M. Pierce, has replied to the governor's demand for her resignation, according to the Oregonian today.

Governor Martin charged Mrs. Pierce with non-attendance at board meetings due to her residence in Washington, where she is secretary to Congressman Martin. She was ordered to resign and to defend herself at a hearing May 1.

"My removal was animated by the same spirit which led you to attempt to brush aside all obstacles to your complete domination of the Oregon scene," Mrs. Pierce was quoted by the Oregonian. She contended the law changed the board, fixed nine-year terms of tenure, apparently as a provision against removal by incoming governors.

Mrs. Pierce said she wanted to remain and be of assistance in selecting a new chancellor for higher education in Oregon through her opportunities to confer with authorities in Washington.

"I am most fearful of the educational tragedy which may befall Oregon and remain with us for a quarter of a century or more if the board is so changed that the result is to the election of a reactionary, dictatorial chancellor, who will put Oregon education in a straight-jacket," Mrs. Pierce was quoted as saying in her letter to Governor Martin.

174 HOMEMAKERS OF COUNTY HOLD CONCLAVE TODAY

Bertha Glasgow of Valley View and Mrs. Mabel Thornton of Fish Lake. One of the high lights of the forenoon session was the talk by Dr. E. C. Ladd, dean of schools of agriculture and home economics at Cornell university, New York. Coming to Medford last night from California on a tour of the United States, Dr. Ladd gave an enlightening outline of present phases of the agricultural situation in which he declared that the machine age is not responsible for the downfall of the nation's economic system.

Other speakers this morning included Miss Claribel Nye, state leader of home economics; Mrs. Azalea Sanger, clothing specialist from Oregon State college, and Mrs. Mabel Mack, county home demonstration agent. Mrs. Effie Birdseye, of Rogue River, presided during the forenoon session, with Miss Gertrude Skow, home demonstration at large, leading recreation.

Guests introduced during the luncheon period by Mrs. Bertha Glasgow, who acted as toastmistress at the close of her 15 years of work on the executive committee were: Mrs. Ida Sweeney of Medford, mother, honorary members of the state council and the executive committee; County Commissioner Ralph Billings; County Agent R. G. Fowler; Dr. Ladd; Mrs. Ladd, former home demonstration agent; Mrs. Effie Birdseye; Miss Marian Birdseye from Washington, D. C.; Miss Gladys York, secretary of Mrs. Mabel Mack; Mrs. Sarah Wertz, demonstration agent from Josephine county; Mrs. W. S. Feaster, unit member of Josephine county, and Judge Earl B. Day, who gave a short talk on the present relief situation. Miss Claribel Nye also spoke during the noon program.

This afternoon session was devoted principally to interest group meetings for formulation of the work program for next year. Mrs. Rita Myers presiding.

ELKS ELECTION WEDNESDAY NIGHT

There will be election of officers for Medford Elks' lodge Thursday night at the regular lodge session, with competition for two offices, leading knight and lecturing knight. Exalted Ruler Butler urges that all lodge members be present to express their choice for these two offices.

Secretary Ernest Scott announced today that there will be an Elks' dance Saturday night at the temple. The dance will be for Elks and their out-of-town guests. The usual good time is promised by the committee, which is headed by Stan Sherwood.

LIONS AND YREKA WILL CROSS BATS IN YREKA SUNDAY

The Jacksonville Gilmore Lions will go to Yreka Sunday to play that aggregation, according to Bud Conlin, Gilmore manager. Lowell Brown, the speed demon and curve artist who wriffed the Ewanna Box company into the discard at Jacksonville, will be with the bunch and has promised an attempt to do as much for Yreka.

The Lion outfit is made up mostly of young men, whom Conlin declares more than ready to learn. Many Gilmore fans believe that they already know more about the game than many oldtimers.

Yesterday a message came to the Tribune office, stating that several Lion fans would like to see a game between that team and the Medford merchants, and offering to cover all Merchants' money. The message was anonymous but may develop into some easy money for someone or other.

For 23 years Bud Conlin has been playing baseball and in that 23 years he declares that he has never played with a more willing bunch. To Lowell Brown he hands the bouquet of being the most promising southpaw twirler Conlin eyes have ever gazed upon.

The Lions boast the fastest infield in southern Oregon and Yreka attaches the same honor to herself in the northern California circuit, so Sunday's game will evidently be an infield battle. Gilmore turned in a no-infield error game Sunday.

The Yreka game is called for 2:30.

6. P. SCHOOL PLAY 'TRAPPED' TONIGHT

The annual senior class play will be presented at the Central Point high school this evening at 8 o'clock when the curtain will rise on "Trapped," a mystery-comedy.

"Trapped" is a play that combines laughter and thrills in equal portions. It has to do with the adventures of a group of house party guests who find themselves beset by a strange vindictive power which seems bent on their destruction, with the excitement centering around a Hindu idol which is said to have been stolen from a temple in India many years before.

The characters in "Trapped" are of unusual types and every member of the cast has an unusual opportunity for effective work. This clever comedy affords an evening of fun and excitement, unfolding an absorbing story that has strong appeal wherever it is presented.

Those having parts in the play are Lawrence Martin, Robert Virtue, Donald Richardson, Vance Notts, Harold Doershuk, Melburn Atkins, Peggy Lawrence, Leona Yakel, Fern Cherryholmes, Phyllis Turpin, Loretta Williams and Jerry Jones.

GIRL WOULD SPRING NEGROES DEATH TRAP

SPRINGFIELD, Mo.—(UP)—Authorities turned thumbs down on the request of Thelma Rediger, 20-year-old college student, who asked that she be allowed to spring the death trap for a condemned negro murderer here.

"No," said Sheriff Scott Curtis. "In the first place, it's an unpleasant job; secondly, the law provides that I must do it."

The girl made the unusual request

WARN S. F. YACHTSMEN OF ALCATRAZ PERILS

SAN FRANCISCO, Cal.—(UP)—Yachtsmen who do not want to have their sails, or their persons shot full of holes must keep away from Alcatraz Island federal penitentiary on the bay.

Warden James B. Johnston posted orders that any yacht or power cruiser within 300 yards of "Devil's Island" will get a bullet chucked across its bow.

The government is taking no chances that friends of Al Capone, or any of its other prize prisoners might use a regatta race as an excuse to come close to the island and pick up an extra deck hand.

Oregon Weather Unsettled; rain tonight and Wednesday; snow over mountains; freezing temperature east portion; moderate changeable wind off the coast.

4 Reasons WHY IT IS SOUND JUDGMENT TO See the Norge before you buy

1 UNUSUAL ECONOMY
2 UNSURPASSED CONVENIENCE
3 LIFETIME MECHANISM
4 MANUFACTURER'S RESPONSIBILITY

When you buy a new refrigerator, you want a good one. You want to know that it's a good one. You buy it for its economy and convenience. You expect it to have a long-lived mechanism. And you want it to bear the name of a responsible manufacturer.

Norge is certainly the economical refrigerator to buy and to use. Actual figures from Norge owners show savings—in food and refrigeration costs—up to $11 a month. Some report even greater savings.

"Don't know how I ever kept house without Norge," is the way owners express their idea of Norge convenience.

Mechanically, Norge is unsurpassed. The famous Rollator Compressor, the cold-making mechanism, is simple, surplus powered, almost everlasting. And by actual test, it improves with use.

Norge is backed by a tremendous manufacturing organization. Borg-Warner, of which Norge is a division, has fifteen factories and manufactures parts for nearly every automobile built today.

From any and every standpoint, it is good judgment to see the Norge before you buy.
