WORK RELIEF COIN A CAMPAIGN FUND TEDDY, JR., FEARS

Money Will Be Used Largely in Attempt to Buy Votes Is Contention — Specific Examples Are Cited

BOSTON, May 1—(AP)—Col. Theodore Roosevelt, Jr., expressed belief today the new $4,800,000,000 work relief appropriation "will be used in large amounts for campaign purposes, for an out and out attempt to buy the votes of the American people."

Colonel Roosevelt, head of the National Republican club, son of the late President Theodore Roosevelt and a distant cousin of President Franklin D. Roosevelt, made the accusation in an address prepared for delivery at a conference of New England Republican leaders.

Cases Cited.

The Democratic administration, he asserted, has used federal funds for political purposes in Iowa, North Dakota and other states.

In charging "an out and out attempt to buy the votes," Colonel Roosevelt said congress had turned the appropriation over to the president "to spend practically as he pleases."

"All of you know what was done last summer and autumn," he said. ". . . In Maine the present Democratic governor campaigned for re-election with the statement that unless he was re-elected, Maine would not continue to get the federal funds she had been receiving.

Des Moines Example.

"In Des Moines, for example, after a conference with Farley the Democratic state chairman announced the election beyond all doubt will determine whether Iowa will continue to receive through federal agencies the very liberal and much needed benefits coming to our people through these agencies."

"If allowed to continue unchecked," his address said, "Roosevelt policies will crush the small property owner, the home owner, the small business man, and instead of a nation where the vast majority of the people have possessions and comfort, we will become a country where poverty is the rule."

The conference brought together party workers from the six New England states to formulate plans and policies for the 1936 campaign.

FOREST 'PHONE LINE TO MEADOWS FINISHED BY CAMP WIMER CCC

CAMP WIMER, May 1.—(Spl.)—Final work on the 21 miles of forest telephone line from Medford to Meadows has just been completed by the Medford side camp contingent of CCC Camp Wimer, working under the direction of Foreman W. A. White. The newly constructed line connects into the Rogue River-King Mountain-Battle Mountain-Medford line, which will serve as a means of communication between the two lookout stations and District Fire Warden Dwight Phipps' forestry headquarters two miles north of Central Point on the old Crater Lake road. The men who constructed the unit of line, together with Foreman White, have been moved to Camp Wimer, where they will begin to move the Ditch creek line over to the Ditch creek road.

The Wimer side camp near Medford will not again be occupied until June. At that time a contingent of Captain Saunders' men will move in to stand by as a summer fire fighting party, working under the direction of Mr. Phipps. At the present time Wimer, which has its full company strength of 202 men, maintains a sidecamp of 44 men at the junction of Jump-Off Joe and Jack creeks. The rest of the members are working out of the main camp, 11 miles north of Rogue River.

YOUNG TURKS TO TRY GLIDERS, PARACHUTES

ANKARA, Turkey — (UP) — Glider and parachute flights for young Turks of both sexes are to be the program of a new organization known as "the Turkish Bird."

These are considered to be the ABC of aviation, and every Turk over 18 is expected to know the alphabet of flying at least as thoroughly as the alphabet of letters.

The Turkish Bird" is attached to the National Air league, which is a semi-governmental body and which supervises the development of flying.

$10,000 SECRETARY IS APPROVED FOR ICKES

WASHINGTON, May 1. — (AP) — Amid Democratic speeches praising Secretary Ickes, the house today voted to let him have a new $10,000 a year undersecretary.

Only one Democrat said anything uncomplimentary about Ickes—who has just been placed in charge of allotments out of the $4,000,000,000 work relief fund.

FISHER BODY PLANT CLOSED AS RESULT CHEVROLET STRIKE

CLEVELAND, May 1.—(AP)—Officials of the Fisher Body company decided today to close its Cleveland plant at midnight for an indefinite period as a result of interrupted production schedules for Chevrolet automobiles, caused by the strike of union workers at the Chevrolet Motor company's branch factory in Toledo.

The factory makes bodies for Chevrolet and some other General Motors corporation cars.

The Cleveland factory employes about 9,000 workers, Seafe said.

CINCINNATI, O. May 1.—(AP)—Strikes among employes of General Motors spread to Cincinnati today with a walkout of workers of the Chevrolet Motor company and Fisher Body company plants in suburban Norwood.

Demands drafted at union meetings last night, asked the company to meet with accredited union representatives on all questions of company-employe relations; to establish a 7½ hour day and five day week; time and a half for overtime; abolition of piece work; institution of seniority rights; and a minimum wage of 70 cents an hour.

AUSTIN, Tex.—(UP)—Texas' cheapest known auto license went to K. Von Boeckmann, of Austin, this year for $2.53, registration fee for a two-cylindered 1902 model "horseless carriage."

The machine had been bought from a negro after being stored in a junk yard. Boeckmann practiced driving it in his backyard before journeying to the tax collector's office.

SOVIETS RUSHING RAILWAY LINE TO FAR EAST REGION

Move Largely by Way of Military Defense Against Japan—Other Phases Included in Industrial Plan

By Joseph H. Baird
United Press Staff Correspondent.

MOSCOW.—(UP)—Largely as a measure of military defense against Japan, the Soviet Union is in the midst of a tremendous effort to build a powerful Far Eastern industrial state in the area just north of Manchuria.

The central pattern in this new military and industrial design will be a new trunk line railroad from Lake Baikal to the Pacific. It will parallel the existing Trans-Siberian, but will run several hundred kilometers north of it. Thus, it is hoped, communication between Central Asia and the Far East will not be entirely broken should an army advancing from the south be able to capture or destroy the Trans-Siberian.

New Water Routes

But the railroad is only a part of the pattern. New water routes will be opened. Sea and river ports will be improved. New airplane bases and landing fields will be laid out. New mines and factories will be started. In short, the Soviets hope to build a powerful military and industrial country where recently there was wilderness.

Transportation has been the weakest link in the Russian system of military defense for a long time. This is true under Stalin, just as it was under the Tsars. The breakdown of transportation largely was responsible for Russia's defeat by Japan in 1904. Clogged lines of supply caused Russian soldiers in the World War to lack food, their guns to run short of ammunition. The Soviets are trying to profit by these lessons.

Strengthen "Life Line"

Ever since the Japanese advance into Manchuria in 1931, Soviet officials have been working to strengthen their "life line" to the Far East—the Trans-Siberian railroad.

Closest secrecy has been preserved, but travelers say the line now is double-tracked to a point just north of Blagoveshensk, or about nine-tenths of the distance from Moscow to Vladivostok. Completion of this work is a part of the new Far Eastern program.

The new railroad (joining the Trans-Siberian at Lake Baikal) will traverse the northern continental part of the Far Eastern region, passing on a rough line through the sources of the Zeia and Bureia rivers and on to the new town of Komsomolsk-on-Amur in the maritime provinces about 100 kilometers north of Khabarovsk. A line between Komsomolsk and Khabarovsk will connect the new railroad and the Trans-Siberian on the east. Also a system of "feeder lines" will radiate from the Lake Baikal-Komsomolsk route to industrial towns of the Far East.

With the completion of this new line the Soviet Union will be freed of its old fear of being completely cut off from the Pacific in case an enemy should capture the Trans-Siberian.

OLD TIME OIL WELLS STILL PRODUCING IN CORSICANA, TEX., AREA

CORSICANA, Tex. (UP)—Some of the first oil wells in the state's oldest field still are producing after almost 40 years of pumping. They are located in the old Corsicana field.

The predecessor of the Magnolia Petroleum company which recently sold its property in the area to C. L. Brown, Corsicana, brought in the first commercial well to open the gates to Texas' largest industry.

Oil was found in the Taylor formation, from 900 to 1,000 feet. During the first year, 1,450 barrels of crude had been taken from the area. That was in 1898.

After that the industry in the Corsicana field sky-rocketed to 65,976 barrels in 1897 to more than 500,000 barrels the following year. By 1901, the year oil was discovered in the Spindletop area, near Beaumont, the field had produced 2,000,000 barrels.

In the 40 years of its existence, this small field has produced more than 8,500,000 barrels of crude from the shallow sands alone.

The rotary drilling principal was first applied in the field and laid the foundation for well depths of more than a mile and a half.
