

PROWLER STEALS SILVERWARE FROM EPISCOPAL CHURCH

Medford's meanest sneak thief is again on the prowl, a report at the city police station reveals. Some time during Sunday night, a lone prowler with small, muddy feet entered through the side door of St. Mark's Episcopal church, by means of a pass key, stole a silver wine chalice and a communion paten, drank a considerable amount of the altar wine, and leaped, taking with him the chalice bags used to cover the sterling plate.

The loss was not discovered until this morning, when E. S. Bartram, rector of the church, entered and found the sterling gone. He immediately notified the police, who are making a search for the sneak thief today.

The gardener of the church noticed the open side door on Monday morning, but assumed that it had been left open after the Sunday evening service, and merely locked it, thinking nothing was amiss. Tracks of small feet, indicating a young prowler, were discovered in the soft mud outside the side door today, and these tracks showed clearly the entry through the side door. There were only one set of mud-prints apparent. Finger prints on other silverware that was not taken are being checked by the police today.

Rev. Bartram said today that the plate would cost approximately $50 to replace.

GOODRICH HOSTS TO FREE MOVIES

Said by critics to be one of the finest contributions to public safety and law enforcement ever made by the motion picture industry, a full-length feature "Highway Patrol," produced by The B. F. Goodrich Company, Akron, Ohio, will be presented here in the Rialto theater, Tuesday evening, May 7, under the sponsorship of Lewis Super Service Station, Goodrich tire dealer.

The story of "Highway Patrol" moves quickly and contains thrills galore woven about the famous Pennsylvania State highway patrol.

In addition a hilarious comedy featuring Harry Langdon will be shown together with a news reel, both of which were produced by Goodrich.

In the comedy the Hollywood comedian violates 12 to 17 ordinary traffic regulations with his automobile and at the close of the film the audience may compete in a contest for a number of valuable merchandise awards by the Lewis Super Service Station.

Blanks will be distributed listing 32 traffic rules and the person or persons who see the greatest number of violations in the film will be rewarded for powers of observation and knowledge of traffic regulations.

In order that the children may see this film arrangements have been made for a matinee at 4:25 p. m. Tuesday. Tickets will not be required for this children's matinee. For the evening show for adults tickets may be obtained without charge at the Lewis Super Service Station.

Sea scallops, heretofore believed rare in North Carolina waters, recently were found in great numbers 20 miles off shore.

Three Hundred Attend Artisans' May Day Dance

May Day was celebrated enjoyably last night when about 300 couples attended the May Day dance at Oriental Gardens sponsored by the Medford Active club. The scene was a gala one, with spring the motif, as the social season for the spring of 1935 was officially opened with this occasion.

The music of Archie Legg's orchestra was a hit with the crowd and everyone felt that the dance was a success. It will become an annual affair, according to the Active club, promising to take its place as one of the outstanding social events of the year.

The general committee was Jack Butler, chairman, John Niedermyer, Harold Larsen, Earl Simms and DeWight Findley, and the committee for the evening was Carl Johnson, Chet Hubbard, Glen Fabrick, Kenneth Anderson, Jimmy Moore, William Heath and Harry Eldon.

Proceeds of the dance will be used to send a Boy Scout from Medford to the national jamboree.

Mrs. Kendrick Elected Women of Rotary President

Mrs. K. W. Kendrick was elected new president of Women of Rotary yesterday at the regular luncheon meeting of the club, held at the home of Mrs. B. E. Harder on the Old Stage road. Other officers elected were Mrs. Jack Swann, vice-president, and Mrs. Joe Marshall, secretary-treasurer, who with Mrs. Kendrick, will take office next fall. Mrs. Kendrick replaces Mrs. George Henselman, Mrs. Swann replaces Mrs. Kendrick and Mrs. Marshall takes the place of Mrs. Owen Schenck.

At contract bridge, the prize for high score was awarded Mrs. Charles Ellis.

Madrigal Club Will Appear Before Grange

Madrigal club is presenting several numbers before the Central Point grange Friday evening at 8 o'clock, with Catherine Wendt the soloist. Elsie Carlson Strang is the director and Mrs. Warren Butler is accompanist. A large attendance was had at the rehearsal for the presentation, and an interesting program has been arranged according to those in charge. The club, which meets every Tuesday evening, is sponsored by the American Legion Auxiliary.

Mesdames Perl, Wilcox Entertain at Luncheon

Mrs. Frank Perl and Mrs. Dave Wilcox were hostesses yesterday at Mrs. Perl's home on North Oakdale to several of their friends, invited for a May Day bridge luncheon. Beautiful spring flowers about the room made this one of the most delightful of the many spring social events which are being held this week. At bridge Mrs. B. C. Wilson shared honors with Mrs. Karl Janouch.

Fifty Present at Birthday Surprise For D. W. Beebe

D. W. Beebe of the Watt-Er-Lou poultry farm, was given a birthday surprise at his home near Central Point Saturday evening, by about fifty friends and relatives. As most of those present were members of the Central Point Grange, the entertainment was in form of a Grange burlesque.

After the guests arrived and were seated the honor guests "Watt" and "Lou" were escorted to seats. Mr. and Mrs. A. W. Beebe were then escorted to seats by the honor guests. Faye Ritzinger then gave the welcome speech to invited members of the Watt-Er-Lou Poultry company. Officers of the company then took their places: president, Faye Ritzinger; vice president, Melburn Pierce; Jack-of-all-trades, Everett Atkins; helpers to Jack, Velma McCredie and Marion Blackford; chaplain, Mrs. Bonney; keeper of funds, Everett Atkins; door keeper, Mr. Bonney; vegetable man, John Blackford; orchard man, Ed Lull; lower gardener, Vince Ritzinger; music maker, Lola Blackford.

In taking the pass word, Watt was found to be an intruder, so a committee was appointed to decide whether he should be allowed to become a member. The minutes, which were entitled "Watt's Past Life," were read by Hazel Atkins. Communications of friends and relatives, not present were also read. The committee gave a favorable report and the balloting was begun. This was done by using a nest of eggs, some black and some white. This caused much hilarity in the crowd as the black eggs were transferred from the nest to the bucket.

Initiation followed, given with the aid of a spanking machine, and then Watt was a full-fledged member of the company. One very unique feature was the flag, which was four light stripes and one colored, and two stars in the corner. A song was sung by the company which explained the flag. The four light stripes were the four daughters and the colored one was for the one son. The two gold stars were for Watt and Lou.

Short talks were given by friends including jokes, usually on the honor guest. Two retired masters of the Central Point Grange also spoke. Mr. Patterson, in behalf of the Grange members present, presented Mr. Beebe with a beautiful fountain pen. The following program was then given:

Reading, "Grandpa Didn't Know," Leonard Atkins; instrumental solo, Lola Blackford; "Fathers Day Too," Eva McKee; reading, "The Song of the Lazy Farmer;" "Prayer for Mother," Faye Ritzinger. Round—Watt's 71.

Three beautifully decorated, bird-day cakes were exhibited. These were baked by Sadie Knoler, Marion Blackford and Hildegard Pierce. A beautiful bouquet of tulips was given the honor guest by Miss Mary Maury.

Paper aprons decorated with a birthday cake and with the words "Happy Birthday, Watt," were passed to the serving committee. A dainty lunch of cake, jello and coffee was served. All departed wishing Watt many happy returns of the day.

Pythian Leader

Craterian Holding Chevrolet Contest For Essay Writers

Entry blanks are rolling in at the Craterian theater and at Rogue River Chevrolet, Inc., for the Chevrolet-Craterian theater essay contest. Ten passes to the showing of "The Whole Town's Talking," starting today at the Craterian theater, have already been mailed or contestants advised of their winning, for prompt answer to the question "Why is the whole town talking about the new de luxe master Chevrolet?"

Regardless of their winning the local prizes, all contestants will have their essays forwarded to the national contest judging committee in Detroit, at which point selections for the national awards will be made, headed by five shining Chevrolet automobiles, ranging from the luxurious Master Deluxe Town Sedan to the dashing Standard Coupe.

The contest is simple. All that is necessary to do is to write 100 words or less on the above question. Readers can get entry blanks and brochures explaining the outstanding points of the new Master Chevrolet at the Rogue River Chevrolet, Inc., or at the Craterian theater.

Passes issued to the local prize winners will be accepted only for the showing of Edward G. Robinson in "The Whole Town's Talking," which starts at the Craterian theater today and will play until Saturday.

Long Lost Ring Found by Grader

GREENSBURG, Pa., May 2.—(AP)—The clanking of a road grader is real music to Mrs. William B. Graham. One of them has just turned up the wedding ring she lost 35 years ago.

Although it had been part of a roadbed all that time, it was not greatly damaged and the initials of Mrs. Graham and her husband were still legible.

More than 27,000 Kentucky school children have been given free lunches daily since last fall by the Kentucky emergency relief administration.

AIRPLANE TOOLS TAKEN BY THIEF

Some person in Medford has left an unpleasant memory in the minds of those in charge of the Ford trimotored plane that has been making flights over this city for the past few days. This morning sometime after the hangar was opened, some person or persons sneaked into the big shed and stole a steel tool box, one-by-100 feet in size, which contained special tools and replacement parts, which will do the thief no good whatever, in that they were made especially for this ship, and will fit no other.

The owners and officials of the Western Air Distributors, sponsors of the flights, have offered a $25 reward for the return of their property, or for information leading to its recovery. No questions will be asked, they said, and no prosecution will follow the return of the tools.

The big ship is leaving at noon tomorrow, and anyone having information on the subject may obtain $25 by getting in touch with Tom Culbertson, manager of the Medford airport.

MRS. SLOAN'S ILLNESS POSTPONES SENTENCE

No definite date has been set for the passing of sentence upon Myrtle Eleanor Sloan, convicted by a circuit court jury six weeks ago of passing a spurious check upon the local branch of the Piggly Wiggly grocery at the time set for sentence recently. Mrs. Sloan, the mother of children, was ill. The district attorney's office reported today her physical condition precludes appearing in court. The jury in finding her guilty, recommended leniency.

In her defense, witnesses were produced who testified that Mrs. Sloan did not leave her home, on the day of the commission of the crime.
