

I G A Stores Hosts 'To Children At Rialto's Showing of "Cimarron"

ADMISSION LABEL OR ADV. CLIPPING

Southern Oregon youngsters are looking forward to a free movie and carnival at the Rialto theatre Saturday morning, May 11, beginning at 10 o'clock, sponsored by the I.G.A. stores of Medford and vicinity. There will be balloons and surprise gifts for boys and girls under 15 years of age who attend the special show. Little more than one day remains in which to secure the required label from some I. G. A. advertisement in the Mail Tribune. These may be exchanged for the free theater tickets at any of the local members of this grocery organization, according to Sauln Gibbs, manager of Mason, Ehrman company in Medford. "Cimarron," a spectacular picture starring Richard Dix and Irene Dunne, which made a big hit when it was shown here the first time, will be shown to the young guests of I. G. A. Saturday morning. In the cast are the following popular actors as well as many others: Roscoe Ates, eccentric comedian; Jess Riekey, bibulous printer; Sol Levy, philosopher, is played by George E. Stone and Robert McWade is the glum undertaker. PORTLAND, Ore., May 9.—(AP)—William Moore and Marcus Wisbarth, members of the seamen's union, were convicted in circuit court here today on charges of mistreatment or riot. They were accused of having beaten a restaurant owner and helper.

MARTIN MAY MAKE WASHINGTON TRIP

SALEM, May 10.—(AP)—Governor Charles H. Martin may soon go to Washington, D. C., to officially carry Oregon's campaign for federal public works and rehabilitation funds direct to President Roosevelt. Secretary takes and other department needs, by whom the $4,000,000,000 work relief program may be administered, it was learned today. Though reluctant to leave his desk here, still congested with problems of state governmental reorganization and a maze of details imposed by destruction of the capitol building and the possibility of an early special session of the legislature, the governor declared he felt that if Oregon was to receive its full share of federal work relief funds, it must "go and get it." Standard Oil Has Novel Advertising Household Products

A large advertising campaign which will blanket the west with more than 30,000,000 newspaper messages has just been released by Standard Oil company of California. This extensive campaign will promote Standard Oil household products and the Mail Tribune has been selected to carry it in the Medford area. In this advertising, comic cartoons, humorous take-offs on human situations, are used. These drive home the Standard fly spray selling story. "You can't kill insects one at a time—kill them wholesale." The Standard Oil Company of California has timed its fly spray campaign to meet the warm weather demand for insect killers. These striking advertisements will appear in this paper on Fridays. They're amusing—and well worth following. Fungus of the Dutch elm disease has been grown on 22 kinds of trees other than elms, but has been found only on elms in a natural state.

DRY STRAW HAT DAY SURPRISES PORTLAND

PORTLAND, Ore., May 10.—(AP)—Whoops! Thursday was "straw hat day." And for the first time in several years the annual event wasn't spoiled by rain. The straw hat "apree" will last three days. Like most of the events of similar nature it was sponsored by the Chamber of Commerce and the Retail Merchants' association. Read the Mail Tribune classified ads.
