Jolson and Keeler in Unusual Film

"Mr. and Mrs. Is the Name," might well be the sub-title to "Go Into Your Dance," which opens tomorrow at the Craterian theatre. Al Jolson and the Misses (Ruby Keeler to you) head the cast of this different sort of musical romance. Aside from songs and dances "Go Into Your Dance" promises something by way of story material more than the hackneyed back-stage troubles connected with producing stage shows. It gives the flavor of Mexico below the border, moves to Chicago and brings in gangsters to propel it to the final punch. Al Howard (Jolson) is just a plugging singer in a Tijuana honky-tonk when his sister (Glenda Farrell) finds him after a long separation. She conveys the idea of getting him a partner who can boat (Ruby Keeler), and their success is instantaneous. Shift scenes to Chicago, where a gangster's moll (Helen Morgan), gets sweet on Al. She gets the gangster to put up the capital to open a new night club for Al. There are crossings and threatened double-crossings until it looks like Al would be taken for a ride before he can get started on his new venture. There is a dramatic way out, which will not be revealed in advance.

TRAFFIC SAFETY BOWN'S TOPIC AT ACTIVIAN DINNER

"Traffic accidents and deaths won't be stopped until the driver educates himself to think as fast as the machine he is driving moves. In nearly all of the traffic accidents reported, the responsibility lies directly with the operator. He is the most important part of the automobile, not the horn nor the brakes." Elaborating upon this theme, Captain Lee M. Bown of the state police delivered a very interesting talk to the Activians, at their regular dinner meeting at Hotel Medford last night.

Captain Bown pointed out the appalling toll of lives that automobile crashes have taken in the past few years, and indicated that an observance of the "basic rule" was the best preventative. Citing a particular type of case, he pointed out that many times the officers investigating a wreck have had to jump wildly out of the way to avoid being struck down by wild drivers who have completely ignored the danger signals placed well at each end of the wreck.

The captain also outlined the work of the state police, pointing out the speed attained in capturing criminals when a centrally organized body is available. Another factor in speedy capture of offenders is the recently passed federal statute against a fugitive crossing a state line after commission of a crime. The offender then comes under federal jurisdiction and can be tried at the point where he is captured, saving the expense of extradition. Under the new law, witnesses may also be returned across a state line, up to 1000 miles distant.

The state police, Bown said, are a cooperative and friendly body, and the members must be gentlemen, or they will not be retained on the force.

After Captain Bown had concluded his interesting remarks, regular club business was taken up, with two important committees appointed. The committee on convention publicity, with Glen Fabrick as chairman and Harry Eldon as an active member, was instructed to start the drive to acquire the 1936 Active convention in this city.

The inter-club activity committee, Foster Cone, chairman, will consist of the following members: Frank Bash, Lea Welsberger and Gene Dowling. Chet Hubbard and Bruce Bauer were appointed on the convention stunts committee.

A ladies' night, featuring a covered dish luncheon and dancing, will be held in the near future, it was announced.

"Love In Bloom" Is Comedy Pair's Best

A flock of new Gordon and Revel songs, crisp, crackling comedy and a touching love story of young love in Manhattan are the ingredients which help to make the new Burns and Allen film "Love in Bloom" now at the Biakto theatre, the best that the madcap comedy team has turned out to date.

Joe Morrison, the handsome young tenor, and Dixie Lee are the young lovers, struggling to get along in Manhattan. Dixie has run away from her father's carnival show with no intention of ever returning. But when her goofy brother and sister-in-law, George and Gracie, turn up in the carnival callopo on their honey-moon, she knows that she can't escape them.

All the young couple's savings go to bailing out Dixie's father and setting the show back on its feet. Finally Dixie Lee runs away from Joe Morrison at the altar because she fears that she cannot make him happy.

The young couple are happily brought together at the close of the film, although they are for a time hindered by Burns' and Allen's crazy efforts to help their romance.

'Caravan' Coming to Roxy For Two Days

Madcap romance, enacted against the lavish and colorful background of life in the vineyards of Europe, to the haunting, tantalizing strains of native melodist Briefly, this describes "Caravan," which is coming to the Roxy theatre tomorrow and Friday.

Boasting settings of vivid beauty, a story centering about the romance of a devil-may-care nomadic song-maker and a lovely young countess, a notable cast and exquisite music, "Caravan" promises to reveal itself as something eminently distinguished.

The cast bristles with stellar names. Charles Boyer, idol of movie fans on the continent, makes his starring debut before American audiences, as a captivating song-maker who loves a capricious countess. In the latter role will be seen Loretta Young, while Jean Parker appears as Tinka, the other girl. Phillips Holmes has the role of a dashing young lieutenant.
