

KANSAS GOVERNOR CARAVAN OF ELKS MAY FILL ROLE IN LEAVING AT 7 P. M. NATIONAL POLITICS FOR GRANTS PASS

Alf M. Landon Looms As Possible Candidate of Republican Party for Presidency — Career Short

TOPEKA, Kan. (UP)—Alf M. Landon, the Republican governor of Kansas, who quite possibly may fill a big part of the presidential picture next year never held a public office until 1932 and never before sought one.

That year he was elected governor of Kansas despite the Roosevelt landslide. Two years later, seeking re-election, he weathered the new deal landslide with ease, and it was then that he began to attract national attention.

Governor Landon, though only 43, has earned a comfortable fortune as an independent oil man and is ready to give politics an ample share of his time in the future.

"I am no glutton for wealth," he once replied to the charge that he was an oil millionaire. "That is one reason that I have been turning away from business and into politics."

Landon has had his ups and downs in business, but he has been uniformly successful. Many call him lucky, and cite as an instance the week in 1932 when he won the Republican nomination, became the father of a son and had a 500 barrel oil well come in. Landon demurs to the lucky appellation.

"If thinking things out and then executing them constitutes luck then perhaps I am lucky," he smiles.

Smile Big Asset
That smile, slow and infectious, and his battered felt hat were great assets when Landon stumped the state the first time. They probably explain why he is known as Alf and not Alfred, even when the name is signed to official documents.

Landon's home is at Independence. He has lived there since his parents moved to Kansas from Pennsylvania in 1904. His first wife died in 1918 and in 1930 he married Miss Thea Cobb, daughter of a Topeka banker. A daughter, Peppy Ann, 18, is a student at Kansas university. Two children of the second marriage, Nancy Jo and John Cobb Landon, were born in 1932 and 1933.

A caravan of Elks including the Elks band will invade Grants Pass tonight to visit the Grants Pass lodge of Elks. Such exchange of visits between the Elks lodges has done much to create good feeling among the communities of the valley, and the Elks themselves have a lot of fun on the trips.

The caravan leaves the Elks temple promptly at seven o'clock and Exalted Ruler H. N. Butler invites every Elk to make the trip whether he has a car or not as transportation will be provided at the club.

A similar jaunt to Ashland will be made next Wednesday, the band also going along.

On both the visits an invitation will be extended to the two lodges to come to Medford on May 31 and attend the reception and banquet given for the Elks National Good-Will ambassadors.

Exalted Ruler Butler announced at last night's meeting that there was about half a day's work to be done on the picnic ground road and called for volunteers to go out Sunday morning and help with this job. A picnic lunch will be provided by the lodge.

The lodge initiated into the Order last night C. J. Chord, C. V. Kleinhammer, and W. H. Cady. Next class will be initiated June 27.

Dates of interest to Elks as announced by the exalted ruler were: May 23, another CCC smoker in the Elks temple; May 31, reception and banquet for the Good-Will ambassadors; June 4, installation of officers; and June 14, the annual Elks picnic and smoker at the Elks picnic grounds. All Elks were requested to remember the dates.
