Bigger'n Better Than Ever

"Bigger'n better than ever" never a more truthful saying in describing the great Al G. Barnes Circus that arrives tomorrow for two performances.

CIRCUS RETURNS TOMORROW WITH OLD-TIME THRILL

After an absence of two years, tomorrow is circus day once again... There's only one thrill that the little-boy-you-remember carried over to the man-you-are, and that's the shivery, blissful anticipation of circus day. If you have children of your own, you deck them out in their best clothes, and take them down to see the "Big Show"...

That spirit will be abroad tomorrow, when the big Al G. Barnes circus—with its trumpeting bands, red wagons, spangles, and pink lemonade, invades Medford after its two-year absence. The first section of the special all-steel railroad trains will start to arrive about 4 a.m. over the Southern Pacific railroad from Montague. Consequently, no end of youngsters will go to bed tonight with the alarm clock set for some unearthly hour, and will dream of a sea in the very front row, with the prettiest bare-back riders and acrobats blowing him kisses from the back of a galloping horse, or out of a trapeze swinging miles high in the air. But the sound of the alarm clock will dispel all such startling happenings, and at the first streak of dawn there is bound to be a goodly gathering of youngsters and grown-ups around the railroad yards as almost everyone knows the circus has grown to such enormous proportions that it is impossible to hold the old-time street parades any more. But the unloading of the brightly-painted railroad cars of their burdens, the heads of elephants stepping down from their side-door Pullmans, the hundreds of horses, yaks, camels, zebras, and cage after cage of wild animals, promises to be a real free show that will not be overlooked.

Enormous new displays have been introduced on the Al G. Barnes circus this year. Over 200 acts will be shown. A magnificent extravaganza, entitled "The Fiesta of the Rio Grande," depicting the charm and gaiety of Old Mexico, serves as a prelude to the circus performance proper. Hundreds of people take part in this elaborate and colossal presentation, yet it is but one of the many features which the show will feature. A magnificent Bengal tiger display, in which 17 of these ferocious animals go through their paces in the big steel arena; Captain Terrell Jacobs in another arena with 10 lions and tigers; Walter McLain and four herds of performing elephants; Robert Thornton, circus performer of the greatest circus of riders, featuring Maria Bennett, youngest member of the family, with her backward somersault from the back of one galloping horse to the back of another; the Great Waiters troupe; the Canastrell family; the Escalante family and the Dazzling Burbans—present circus performance ever witnessed. Little folks will be glad to hear that the addition of a score of European clowns has increased the fun-making contingent to an even 60.

Each season the Al O. Barnes circus exhibits in more than 200 cities. It travels from its winter quarters in Baldwin Park, California, and makes a transcontinental tour from coast to coast. It covers more than 20,000 miles, and in 25 years has grown to be one of the world's largest amusement organizations.

Every day more than 2000 meals are served in the spacious dining tent. Its policy has always been to see just how much can be given to the patrons, and the enormous seating capacity in the big main tent enables the management to give so much for so little.

There will be two performances given here, starting at 2:00 p.m. and 8:00 p.m., with the doors opening an hour earlier to enable visitors to view the managers and listen to the music of Professor Charles Redrick's military band in a program of interest.

General admission tickets, and individual, numbered, grand stand chairs will be on sale circus day at Heath's Drug Store, 29 N. Central. Jackson school, the white ticket wagon will be open all day for the grand stand chairs, and the red wagon, with general admission tickets will open at the same time the doors to the big tent open.

Botkin, and Rosie River National Farm Loan Association, a corporation, with interest against each of them, for the sum of $65.00, with interest at the rate of 8% per annum from the 18th day of July, 1932;
