INTERNATIONAL SALES INCREASE

The two big motor truck plants operated by International Harvester, state Dalter W. Abbey, local International motor truck distributor, have been working at full capacity for months filling orders for the new streamlined International trucks.

Mr. Abbey says that buyers right now are showing particular interest in the popular 1 1/2-ton International, the model C-30. The price of this model is now $395 for the 133-inch wheelbase chassis f. o. b. factory—the lowest priced 1 1/2-ton six-cylinder truck chassis ever produced by the Harvester company.

A sloping V-shaped radiator with polished stainless steel molding and aluminum finished grill, deeply crowned fenders, streamline hood and cow all help to make the C-30 a most attractive looking unit. The powerful, high-compression engine with detachable L-head and dome-type combustion chambers develops a 87.5 maximum brake horsepower at 3400 r. p. m.

International Harvester motor truck shipments from the factories are just about double what they were this time last year. In 1934, declared Mr. Abbey, operators of heavy-duty trucks (3 tons and greater capacity) enjoyed a decided preference for International. Registration figures show that 27 1/2 per cent of all new trucks registered last year in the heavy-duty capacity named above were International.

Walter W. Abbey, Inc. reports the delivery of four new International trucks during the past few days. The trucks were to Louis Clark of the Astoria Dairy, the Huber Packing Co. and two trucks to George Backes of Jacksonville.

They also report the sale of a new special six-cylinder Graham coupe to A. W. Anderson of Rogue River, a new Willys 77 sedan to Mrs. Fidelia Woods of Medford, a new Graham sedan to D. R. Sloan of Medford, a new LaParrette sedan to W. H. Klatt of Medford, a new special six Graham sedan to Mrs. Susie B. Nason of the Old Stage Road and a new Graham sedan to Fred Thompson.

BOYCOTT NO BAR, BABE RUTH LURES

ST. LOUIS, May 18.—(AP)—With Babe Ruth the magnet, baseball faithful continued today to flock to Sportsman's park despite an organized labor boycott of the world champion Cardinals.

Watching his turnstiles click with cash customers thronging to get what may be their last glimpse of the once mighty Babe in playing uniform, "Smiling Sam" Bredon, the Cardinal president, fretted over the boycott but said it had not brought any noticeable decline in gate receipts.

"Yesterday, our first home game since the boycott was called, we drew 200 paid fans and 1200 'knock-hole' boys," Bredon said. "That's an average week-day crowd here. Whether the boycott will cut attendance if it continues, I don't know."

Sensational New Car Has V-8 Engine

Discussing automotive engineering trends, William B. Stout, designer of the rear-engine car, cited a recent trip made in the "Scarab." Pointing out that it weighs less than other light cars and yet has more interior space than big cars, he said the "Scarab" averaged 55 to 60 miles an hour, gave 17 1/2 miles to the gallon of fuel and only used one quart of water for cooling over a distance of 7000 miles. This was over all conditions of highway.

"The significant thing," Stout added, "was that we were riding in individual chairs not fastened to the floor, and a table was in place with either ash trays or magazines on it at all speeds.

"In other words, with a car of airplane structure, individual landing gear on each of the four wheels and a V-8 engine for power, we enjoyed road travel that actually lived up to the most extravagant promises.

GEORGIA LEADER SAYS ROOSEVELT SCARES BUSINESS

NEW YORK, May 18.—(AP)—Governor Eugene Talmadge of Georgia says he will do everything in his power to prevent the re-nomination of President Roosevelt next year.

He predicted that, if the president is re-nominated, he will be defeated. "I think the real American people want the interference with business stopped and want the present crazy orgy of spending stopped," he said in an interview last night.

He contended that in the past a Democratic president had been able to bring about his re-nomination. "But they never before had such crazy goings-on as they have done here in Washington," he continued.

"All the business people down in my country are scared white, the little business man and the big business man. That goes for the one-horse farmer with a potato patch. He doesn't know whether to plant potatoes or to wait until some one comes along and tells him what to do."

PORTLAND YOUTH SUED FOR ATTACK

REDWOOD CITY, Cal., May 18.—(AP)—Two civil suits for $50,000 each charging criminal assault, were filed today in superior court by parents of two Palo Alto girls, aged 12 and 18, against Fred Frank, 19, Merida college student and son of a Portland, Ore., merchant. At the same time, Frank was sentenced to 18 months' imprisonment in Preston reformatory for boys, following his confession of the attacks before Judge Maxwell McNutt in juvenile court.

BIG CROWDS SEE HIGDON SISTERS IN CIRCUS ROLES

The lure of the "big top," with all its color and clamor, crept into the spirits of Golda and Deah Higdon a few months ago, and even through they both had satisfying jobs, the two former Medford girls answered a newspaper want ad one day that gave them positions with the Al G. Barnes circus that came to town yesterday.

Billed in separate lines throughout the big performance, Golda and Deah danced, swayed with trick horses, posed and swung on dizzy ladders yesterday before many in the audience who had watched them go through school in Medford. The home crowd gave them both stage fright, according to the girls, but not so that the audience could notice it. Their performances were the center of a great deal of interest, and are the source of a great deal of pride to the circus, according to the management.

And do they like it! Clean, wholesome, fun that keeps them busy from morning until night is what they call it. They both joined the show in Baldwin Park, Cal., and have been with it only for the past nine weeks, the first month having been spent in training in winter quarters. Before the season is over they will have traveled more than 2000 miles, visiting every major city in the United States and Canada.

With their home a Pullman berth and in the dressing tents, they are thrilled with the circus life and improved with the wholesome routine. Ten changes of costume every day—and the circus is performing seven days a week—keep them busy. Besides, there's the necessary practice and training, by which they hope to advance as their experience increases.

While in school here they took an interest always in sports, excelling in dancing and acrobatic work. Neither plans to make the circus a life work—two full seasons will be enough, they said yesterday during their Medford stint.

Catholic Unity Urged

VATICAN CITY, May 18.—(AP)—Vatican prelates said today that Pope Pius would invite all churches which had separated from the Roman Catholic faith to return to the "one fold of the one Shepherd" in an appeal to be made here tomorrow on the occasion of the canonization of the British martyr, the blessed Thomas More and the blessed John Fisher.

LABOR THREATENS IF WORK-RELIEF WAGE SCALE CUT

WASHINGTON, May 18.—(AP)—With more than a billion dollars in projects stacked before him, President Roosevelt today sought a solution to a thorny problem, blocking actual cash outlays from the $4,000,000,000 fund—laborer wages.

Until it is determined just how big to make the monthly pay envelopes going to unemployed setting jobs, relief officials said today Mr. Roosevelt's approval of the $1,001,802,000 in projects recommending by his allotment board will mean little.

They added that none of the jobs expected to shift from direct to work relief can receive wages until the pay level is set.

This was the problem Mr. Roosevelt took with him on a week-end cruise today, forewarned of organized labor's bitter opposition to re-approval of a tentative work-relief wage scale 30 per cent below prevailing construction levels. Federal leaders said today they would go directly to the White House on the issue and one spokesman added that if work-relief pay drops below prevailing rates "we'll raise hell."

Meanwhile, the machinery for receiving and sitting the flood of projects arriving here was near completion.

147 Scholarships
CORVALLIS, Ore., May 18.—(AP)—E. B. Lemon, chairman of the inter-institutional committee on high school contracts, yesterday sent out notifications that 147 scholarships ranging from $18 to $54 each are to be available in the Oregon state system of higher education next year.

DISTRICT CONFAB OF '20-30' CLUBS HERE NEXT JULY

Another convention was held for Medford yesterday by Harry Finneo, president of the 20-30 club, who states that the district convention of the 20-30 club will be held in this city, July 27 and 28.

Medford is in the eighth district of the 20-30 organization and three hundred delegates will be in Medford at the time of the convention from northern California and the state of Oregon. The 20-30 club is an organization of younger business men which devotes its energies to civic work in cooperation with the chamber of commerce and other organizations.

At the suggestion of the Jackson County Chamber of Commerce, the local 20-30 club has cleaned up the Jacksonville cemetery. Members of the organization have for the past five or six weeks been visiting the cemetery on Saturday mornings and have cleaned up the graves of pioneers, burned trash and have painted the entrances. The 20-30 organization has only recently been established in Medford and chamber of commerce officials have expressed their pleasure that the organization put over its first project in such a capable manner. It was announced at the regular meeting of the club on Thursday, by Stewart Waite, district governor that June 18 will be charter night at which time the official presentation of the charter will be made and officers will be installed so that the club may be duly instituted in order to carry out its program of civic activity.

President Harry Finneo announced his committee chairman last Thursday as follows: Membership, Herb Brown; fellowship, Fruit Cantzall; club correspondent, Abe Gerr; club historian, Lyle Lindley; sick visiting, Art Anderson; publicity, E. B. Custer. The board of directors of the organization is composed of the following: W. A. Grim, Ivan Harrington, Herb Brown, Leo Laurin, Del Cox, Harry Finneo.

Medford now has two service clubs for younger business men, the 20-30 club and the Active club and chamber of commerce officials stated yesterday that these organizations will fill a long wanted need in the community, as from time to time the chamber of commerce requires the services of the younger business men in order to carry out its program. "I am proud of the work done by the 20-30 club in cleaning up the Jacksonville cemetery," stated Mr. Harter yesterday. "And I sincerely hope that the younger business men of Medford will take a more active part in those community affairs in which our chamber of commerce is interested."

It was also announced at the meeting on Thursday that an invitation to a hard time dance will be sponsored by the 20-30 club on May 25, full details of which will be announced later.

HASKINS OPENING ATTRACTS THROG

Under management of Leon B. Haskins, the West Side Pharmacy, completely redecorated and restocked, opened officially Saturday with a highly successful first day's business. Carnations were given away to friends and old time patrons of Mr. Haskins, who has been connected with the drug business in Medford for many years, and the future popularity of the new store was assured. Many floral tributes were received from local business houses.
