WE DO OUR PART. Shotguns experts are greasing up their weapons for the trapshoot in June, when three (3) tons of birdshot will be fired into the air.

Ye Smudge Pot. "Hall! the straw hat!" was the slogan of our merchants Thursday, and there were a few show-ers.

Some business women gave a breakfast last Monday am. for which Mrs. Johnson got up before breakfast, to deliver an address.

Several charming couples are reported ready to lay themselves liable to a shirazee in June.

A West Side speeder strayed over onto East Main St. last Wed., and was overwhelmingly outstripped by a boy on a velocipede.

Dewey Hill, the prospect hired man, came out the B. Falls ball game, which he entered with a twisted thumb, sprained ankle, cut leg, and a wrenched back, with nothing more serious than a busted hat.

Rogue river has been closed again, after a hard fight. Now there will be a hard fight to have it opened.

Noxious growths of all kinds—including the well known, stench weeds—are flourishing, where not combated.

Many farmers have had down, and were amazed when same was rained upon.

Parents and all their allies for attending, flocked to the circus Sat.

The fair sex are about in their new hats, worn at odd angles. If a man wore his lid thusly, people would think he had been wrestling, and forgot to adjust his headgear.

A number of citizens have started seeing like they would run for something in the spring of 1936, subject to the mandate of the people.

From the Wall St. Angle

NEEDLESS to say Roger W. Babson is a capitalist. He was born a capitalist, he has lived a capitalist, he makes his living as a capitalist out of other capitalists.

Yet Mr. Babson does not join his fellow capitalists at the wailing wall, weep crocodile tears over the passing of the good old days, and maintain that all is lost unless they are brought back.

Many Roosevelt policies Babson criticizes and criticizes severely, but the main purpose of his administration he commends.

THE famous economist and financial expert recently completed a trip from one end of this country to the other. He occupied a stateroom in a Pullman as no doubt befits his social and financial standing.

Continuing his observations Mr. Babson, who was one of the few economists to predict the 1929 financial collapse, expresses his belief that President Roosevelt will not only be re-elected, but by a large majority.

WE put no great faith in Mr. Babson's political predictions, or any other political predictions at this time—too many things may happen politically in the next year and a half.

It certainly indicates pretty strongly that President Roosevelt is still popular with the American people as a whole.

No one likes to have a government that is spending more than it is taking in, but after all, having such a government, is far better than having no government at all!

Several charming couples are reported ready to lay themselves liable to a shirazee in June.

It was just two years ago this month that an alert, wide awake, pleasantly spoken man stepped breezily into the local chamber of commerce and announced he had come to make Medford the headquarters of an extensive CCC camp area.

Twenty-four hours later, such headquarters had been established and was functioning—it has been functioning, growing and enlarging ever since, until today, Medford is the center of one of the largest and finest CCC administrative units in the United States.

WE need hardly enlarge upon what this has meant to Medford and Southern Oregon. Everyone knows about it. It has by and large been the greatest boon to this section of the state, that has been experienced during the post war era.

FROM the first somehow Major Armstrong seemed to talk the Medford language. He had what we are disposed to call the Medford spirit. He was keen, hustling, up to date, and also, a very agreeable and charming gentleman.

And now—as also everyone knows—the major is about to leave. Medford hates to lose him—but that was to be expected—the U. S. army is always on the move—it's the army theory of all around development and varied experience—it's the army tradition.

On Thursday night of this week, the Jackson County Chamber of Commerce gives a dinner in honor of Major Armstrong on the eve of his departure, and needless to say the SRO sign should be hung up early and undoubtedly will be.

Certainly there is no dining room in this halliwick large enough to accommodate ALL the people who would LIKE to say goodbye to him, express their appreciation of his services here, and wish him success and good luck, in his new field of activity—whatever and wherever it may be!

SEE NO MONOPOLY BY ZELLERBACH CO. WASHINGTON, May 18.—(AP) The federal trade commission today announced it was entering an order directing its compliance against the Crown Zellerbach corporation, of San Francisco, in which violation of the Clayton act was charged.

Personal Health Service

By William Brady, M.D. Signed letters pertaining to personal health and hygiene not to disease diagnosis or treatment will be answered by Dr. Brady if a stamped self-addressed envelope is enclosed. Letters should be brief and written in ink.

EAT BEFORE YOU SLEEP. Many wisecracks harbor the morbid notion that it is injurious to take food at or near bed time.

Don't tell me that good food taken late at night causes "indigestion." There is no such thing. Have another sandwich and pleasant dreams.

QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS. Several times I have noticed in your column articles about Raynaud's disease (dead fingers), but at the time I was not interested.

Boy of fourteen, healthy, but hands covered with warts. (Mrs. W. E.) Answer—See that he scrub his hands thoroughly with hot water and strong laundry soap at least twice daily.

How much boracic acid to the pint of water for an eye wash? (P. A. O.) Answer—Teaspoonful in the pint of boiled water. Have it comfortably warm when you use it.

Ed. Note: Persons wishing to contribute with Dr. Brady should send letter direct to Dr. William Brady, M. D., 265 E. Camino, Beverly Hills, Calif.

last year too late to be of much publicity value for the 1934 park season, may yet be obtained at the Medford post office and other local postoffices.

On top of this, A. F. of L. locals in several auto plants have served notice that, if the Wolman board tries to call an election among the men to choose bargaining representatives, they will call their men out again.

The first thing Frank Walker did in his new relief superintending job was to frame the six relief principles laid down by Mr. Roosevelt in his message to congress.

No estimates have yet been made about the rate of spending the new relief money. The president has ordered the treasury to receive advance estimates and prepare a periodical (probably weekly) check on the flow of funds, but no spending scheme has been worked out yet.

One of Postmaster General Farley's friends has been dropped by the NRA from his code authority job. The dropping was called a resignation, but wasn't. Violations of the code in his section are supposed to have been behind it.

A constituent has written Senator Hatch of New Mexico, asking him to use his influence with the supreme court to get the new move to keep him from his seat, when his birthday arrives.

A congressman recently received an appeal from a constituent for a seat on the Med Tribune want ads.

NEW YORK DAY BY DAY

By O. O. McIntyre. NEW YORK, May 18.—A group of the Ohio home folk had a dinner the other night and drafted resolutions asking my wife and me to return for a visit.

I am in reverential awe of the old Gallic town, whose origin has been splendidly romanticized in W. G. Sibley's "French Five Hundred." It is emblematic of all the wholesome simplicities of the old world.

There are no rich in Gallipolis, as we know in larger cities. But there are no slums, no record of a man, woman or child going hungry.

I always resent the implication that small towns are viciously cruel with regard to their automobiles.

Funeral services for Mrs. Anna Clark, mother of Mrs. H. N. Brewitt, Mrs. William Strain and Mrs. Josephine Jerome will be conducted from the Per Funeral home today (Sunday) at 2 p. m. with Rev. W. H. Eaton of the First Baptist church officiating.

Mrs. H. N. Brewitt arrived Friday evening from Bakerfield, Cal. and Mrs. William Strain arrived Saturday from Longlois, Ore. to be in attendance for the funeral services.

Mrs. Elizabeth R. Cromar, Mrs. Elizabeth Ruxton, Cromar, passed away at her home, 346 South Holly street, Friday night at the age of 75.

Such a gesture they have indulged toward me in inviting me back, however, proves the friendly currents are still running strong.

But one look at me as a hero would prostrate the populace with laughter. I'd prefer to slip into town quietly some night when everybody but perhaps the night-watch was deep in sleep and next morning take up life where I left off as though I'd never been away.

Judge E. E. Kelly was principal speaker at the regular quarterly meeting of the Southern Oregon Law Enforcement Officers' association held at the Hotel Medford last night.

SALEM, May 18.—(AP)—The state printing department, far in arrears with work as the result of a capital fire which destroyed many printed forms and stationery, will seek authority from the board to place some of the work with commercial printers, it was made known today.

The printing office has been working two eight-hour shifts but was reported more than 300 large jobs behind schedule. It was expected the board would make the requested authorization.

ALL camp commanders of the Medford CCC district met here Saturday in conference with Major Clyde H. Armstrong, district commander, and Major George R. Owens, who will assume command of the district next month.

THE Medford CCC district will have 33 camps this summer, an increase of six over the last enrollment period.

Communications

She's Through With Feh! To the Editor: Believing that at this time that I should make my position clear to the people as regards Earl H. Feh! I request that you publish this communication.

On account of Feh!'s incarceration in the penitentiary, that I had reason to be his friend, I take this means of clarifying the atmosphere.

In August, 1933, I learned that Earl H. Feh! had settled the "Parr Judgment" for one thousand dollars or less, on April 10, 1933, and furthermore, that he had been receiving his salary directly on the county from that date.

I was in constant attendance at the trial held the week of May 13, 1935, as I believed that the truth of the "Parr settlement" would be brought out. I heard Earl H. Feh!, himself, testify that this settlement did take place on the tenth day of April, 1933, and furthermore, admit that he drew his salary himself from that date on.

About the last week in May or the first week in June, 1933, at a picnic meeting held at Lake Creek, Ore., I heard Feh! publicly state that he had never received one cent of salary from the county.

As my knowledge, many people, under the impression that Feh! was practically destitute, were giving him not only money but foodstuffs. Many of these people could ill afford these contributions, still Feh! accepted them.

Feh! had an opportunity to make good that seldom comes to any man. He had the confidence and backing of the majority of the people. But in his betrayal of the people and his betrayal of friends like Ted Heimroth and J. B. Thomas, who came to his rescue with fifty-three hundred dollars ($5300.00), some of which Mr. Heimroth even borrowed thinking on Feh!'s representation to them that he was about to lose between forty and fifty thousand dollars worth of property, I believe that Feh! has forfeited any right to kindly consideration of the people of Jackson county.

FORMER CATHERINE APPLIGATE, DIES AFTER OPERATION

Mrs. Catherine Applegate Martin, 25, youngest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Frank L. Applegate of this city, passed away at a Weed, Calif. hospital yesterday morning at 6:30, from complications which set in following an operation for appendicitis undergone Friday, April 10.

Mrs. Martin was born in Klamath Falls, April 15, 1910, and attended school there until 1918, at which time her family moved to Astoria, Ore. She also attended nurses school at St. Vincent's hospital in Portland, and the Doernbecker children's hospital here. She graduated from the Sacred Heart hospital in 1933, going immediately to Dunsmuir, Calif., where she took up nursing work.

It was there that she met her husband, Edwin C. Martin, a former member of Theta Chi fraternity at Oregon State college, and at that time employed in the forest service at Dunsmuir. They were united in marriage only 13 months ago, on April 14, 1934, at the Sacred Heart Catholic church here.

Surviving are her husband, her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Applegate, two sisters, Mrs. Thomas Barry and Miss Ella Applegate, both of this city, and two brothers, Richard Applegate and John Lindsay Applegate, also of Medford.

Her husband, her mother, her sister Mrs. Barry, and Richard, her brother, were with her at the time of death. She was beloved by all who knew her, having a wide circle of friends in this city, where she was known as a charming and vivacious girl.

Two classmates from the Sacred Heart training school are also with her at the end, Mrs. Richard Mann, and Miss Nannie Barry, both of this city. Funeral arrangements will be announced later.

Obituary. Mrs. Anna Clark. Funeral services for Mrs. Anna Clark, mother of Mrs. H. N. Brewitt, Mrs. William Strain and Mrs. Josephine Jerome will be conducted from the Per Funeral home today (Sunday) at 2 p. m. with Rev. W. H. Eaton of the First Baptist church officiating.
