RELIEF PROGRAM WAGE CHANGE HIT BY UNION LEADER

and other phases of the $4,000,000-000 work program. Secretary Ickes said today the PWA hourly wage rate would be maintained on PWA projects.

"Every man has a right to a personal opinion," was Ickes' only comment on attacks at the new wage schedule by William Green, president of the American Federation of Labor, and Senator McCarran (D., Nev.).

The wage scale for the $4,000,000-000 program, announced last night, ranges from $19 to $24 a month.

May Be Change. Ickes indicated there might be a change in hours worked on PWA projects.

"I think the PWA wage will certainly be maintained on permanent structures, such as buildings and bridges," he said. "But hours will depend upon whether we have to work on double shifts."

He added the existing 30-hour week on PWA projects might be continued, or "we might have to go to 40 hours (the basic number of hours fixed in the schedule announced yesterday by President Roosevelt)."

PWA wages on a 30-hour week, range from a low of 40 cents an hour for unskilled labor to a high of $1.20 for skilled, varying among three principal regions. A 40-hour week was prescribed for the $5,000,000,000 scale.

Earnings to Vary. Under the wage schedule, the country is divided into four regions, with monthly earnings varying with each according to density of population. There also are four classifications of labor—unskilled, intermediate, skilled and professional-technical.

Ickes announced he had appointed PWA state engineers, acting state directors, and that he had transferred 150 attorneys, engineers and finance examiners to PWA headquarters in the states.

Senator McCarran (D., Nev.) leader of the fight for a prevailing wage in the work relief program, said today the schedule of wages to be paid was a "complete abandonment" of President Roosevelt's promise.

He announced he would do "everything in my power" to fight the proposal announced by the chief executive.

Green Fears Unrest. Asserting he feared "great social unrest" would spring from the work relief wage rates President Roosevelt fixed, Green planned to confer with other federation leaders on a course of action when the conference would be held with uncertainty.

Personnel of the "little PWA" set-up in the states, which will be directed by state engineers named today as acting state directors, included:

Oregon: Legal, Edward C. Kelly, Arnold R. Cutler; finance, P. E. Lawrence.

TOASTMASTER'S CLUB WINDS UP SEASON AS GUESTS WEB CLARKS

Members of the Medford Toastmasters' club and a few invited guests enjoyed a pleasant social evening last night at the summer home of Mr. and Mrs. Webb Clark at Shady Cove. This gathering marked close of the season for the Toastmasters' club and in the interesting business session which followed a tasty buffet supper plans were discussed for the opening of the club's activities next fall.

Brilliant talks by members of the club voiced a farewell to Rex Robinson, public speaking instructor of Medford high school and critic of the Toastmasters' club, who has accepted a position with the La Grande high school. Many tributes to Mr. Robinson's splendid contributions to the successful season of the club were expressed and a resolution of appreciation passed. This resolution will be forwarded to the school board of La Grande. A handsome brief case was presented to Robinson by the Toastmasters as a token of their esteem.

Last night's meeting was presided over by the president of the club, Dr. William F. Boney. Frank Gray is vice-president, and Judge H. D. Hans, secretary. Informal talks by members of the club and guests featured a splendid social evening.

EGG DIFFERENTIAL REDUCED TO CENT

PORTLAND, May 21.—(AP)—The differential between large or special eggs and extras was reduced to 1c, the normal, when an advance of 1c was scored in the latter during the last session of the produce exchange.

The 2c advance in specials and only 1c on extras during a previous session upset the normal differential between the two sizes although the open market failed to follow and continued its usual course.

Receipts of eggs were showing a slight decrease generally with continued good quality. There remained a good demand for storage, but the hot weather of the last few days was expected to slow up the movement into ice houses until it finally ceases.

Despite the recent shading of a half cent a pound on two grades of cube butter on the produce exchange, there remained a steady to firm tone on the open market with former values well maintained.
