BONUS VETO UPHHELD BY SENATE

News Behind The News

By PAUL MALLON
(Copyright, 1935, by Paul Mallon.)
WASHINGTON, May 23.—A leading non-partisan financial prognosticator has burst into headlines with a prediction that President Roosevelt will be re-elected next year. This is a substantially the private view of some of the most astute Republicans in congress, as expressed in the last two weeks.

What they believe is that the Democrats have "a man many" the country, as they call it. What they mean is that Mr. Roosevelt's associates have built up strong precinct organizations out through the country. These certainly comprise the strongest national political organization the Democrats ever had.

The nucleus of the old party, the Republican in postmasterhips and largely federal offices. The Democrats have doubled or tripled the extent of this old organization through various government organizations. For instance there are 3,000 county agents in the A.A. who have their hands always on the grass roots.

In addition, the administration will spend upwards of four billions in the country during the next 18 months before election.

No opposition can hope to match these two practical technical influences, the importance of which is recognized by all who study the science of politics.

These underlying advantages have been overlooked by all except the politicians lately, because the opposition has had an edge in publicity. For the first two years of the new deal, the opposition publicity could not get started. Pro-administration agitation predominated in the newspapers, on the radio, etc.

During the last six months, this advantage has been gradually weakened until now the opposition is getting as much or more public attention than the new deal.

VETERAN FORCES READY TO START ANOTHER DRIVE

54 to 40 Vote to Override Roosevelt Far Short of Required Two-Thirds — Oregon Delegation Split

WASHINGTON, May 23.—(AP)—The senate today blocked enactment of the Putman inflationary bonus bill by refusing to pass the legislation over President Roosevelt's veto.

The veto to override was 54 to 40. The senate originally passed the Putman bill 55 to 33. The house yesterday voted to override the veto by 222 to 98.

The senate action killed the bill, but opened the way for a new drive for similar legislation. Cash bonus forces were ready to offer an alternative proposal as a "rider" to the pending naval appropriation bill.

President Roosevelt was having a meeting of the cabinet board when the vote came. He was notified immediately but made no comment. Gratification was expressed elsewhere at the White House.

The vote came after the senate had listened to widely conflicting claims ranging from an assertion the legislation may "lead to ruin" to another that it would be "good business" to pay off the obligation now.

The senate roll call sustaining President Roosevelt's veto follows:
Democrat: A. D. M. Black; Bone; Bulger; Byrnes; Cawaway; Clark; Copeland; Coughlin; Donahay; Duffy; George; Hitch; Lewis; Logan; Long; McAllister; McAdoo; Moore; McGill; McKelvey; Minton; Moore; Murray; Russell; Schwelbent; Sheppard.

CRATER ENTRANCE OPEN FOR TRAVEL FRIDAY MORNING

Road Clear of Snow Up to Government Headquarters — Balance to Be Clear by June 15 Is Announcement

The south and west entrances to Crater Lake park will open early tomorrow morning for the first traffic of the season, and cars will be able to drive past the checking station at Annie Springs as far as park headquarters, three miles from the lake rim. It was announced today at Crater Lake national park offices.

The regular $1 entrance fee will be placed in effect immediately, with two weeks later by resumption of the station, where information will be available on the best available route for hiking over the snow between headquarters and the lake. That distance is less than a mile by trail and three miles by road, the latter route providing visitors an opportunity of watching snow plows at work.

Equipment is being used in double shifts in order to clear the remaining stretch of highway of a heavy accumulation of snow as early as possible. The deep drifts are expected to attract many tourists and the snow is still in suitable condition for skiing. Bears may also be seen frequently at this time of year.

The park concessions, including the lodge, store and cafeteria, will not be in operation until June 15, followed by the restaurant and the boat service. Officials of Rogue River national forest announced today that due to excessive snow in the Diamond Lake region, the highway to that lake will not be open before June 3. Bull dozers in operation along the road have proceeded to Hamacker Junction, 10 miles from the lake, where drifts between six and seven feet deep were encountered. The work of clearing the road further was abandoned until the snow melts more completely.

The road from Fish Lake to Lake of the Woods and thence to Fort Klammath is also open, and in comparatively good shape. The trip into Fish Lake may now be made either via Eagle Point and McAllister Springs or through Butte Falls.

Hand of God Seen In Sudden Death Enraged Husband

MONROE, Wash., May 23.—(UP)—Devout Monroe residents today believed God took a hand in the affairs of Mr. and Mrs. George Bielen. Police said Bielen, 78, objected when his wife, 68, sat up late to read the Bible, and struck her with a hammer. A neighbor, Jacob Niefer, interfered and Bielen said a butcher knife. As he raised it to attack Niefer, he dropped dead of heart failure. Mrs. Bielen was taken to a hospital.

YOUNG HUSBAND SOBS IN STORY OF SLAYING WIFE

NEW YORK, May 23.—(UP)—Joseph Lieb Steinmetz, 23, sobbed out to his murder trial jury today an unfinished story of his love for "the most beautiful girl I ever met."

The young divinity student killed this girl, his 17-year-old actress wife of two weeks, and a Catholic priest, Father Joseph Leonard, when he found them together in the cleric's hotel room last November 28. All were intoxicated.

Steinmetz was abruptly called to testify in his own defense when prosecution closed the state's case at mid-afternoon. His story, told with difficulty between sobs, as he affirmed he still loves Ruth Armstrong Steinmetz, was unfinished because Judge Charles G. Hoyt, Jr., adjourned court until tomorrow, when Steinmetz broke down with emotion before his dramatic recital reached the death scene.

Earlier, the defense scored heavily when James C. Conner, assistant manager of the Knights of Columbus hotel and a prosecution witness, admitted the courtroom by candid admission he had "gone over" his testimony.

PICKETS BEAT UP FOUR IN OUTBREAK AT COTTAGE GROVE

Guard Will Call Troops if Disorder Continues Is Threat—Strike Situation in Other Areas Brightens

PORTLAND, Ore., May 23.—(AP)—Union reprisals and the threat that the Oregon National Guard would march into action against disorderly pickets or unruly mobs, fanned labor strife into a crucial flame in a small area of Oregon's fir producing area today.

After having declared that "the guard is ready to proceed at once," Governor Charles H. Martin announced that whether or not the troops are ordered out "rests entirely with the method in which the picketing is done."

The big $800,000 Stinson lumber mill near Cottage Grove was the scene of this most critical labor trouble in Oregon since the waterfront strike of last summer. About 300 union pickets had gathered in an attempt to force closure of the non-union operation. State police and 55 special deputies, heavily armed, protected the mill and workers and held the threat hurlers beyond the entrance.

Four Beaten Up
Four men including a press photographer, were beaten by the pickets. Threats of serious violence should they work today were made last night to members of the Stinson staff.

While this disorder was restricting the serious attention of state and county officials, the outlook in the rest of the Pacific northwest lumber strike area had begun to brighten. At St. Helens, Ore., the 250 employees of the McCornick mill returned to work at higher pay after successful negotiations with the union. Other negotiations were nearing completion, it was said, in Oregon and Washington.

NEW YORK, May 23.—(AP)—American Federation of Labor, declared this evening before a mass meeting of 50,000 workers at Madison Square Garden that unless labor's demands for a two-year continuation of the NRA and other legislation were met, organized labor would lay down its tools in a general strike.

"If it comes to that point," Green declared as the massed crowd cheered his appeal, "we will refuse to work and will mobilize our entire economic strength of the United States until we get our rights."

"That is no idle statement, I mean just what I say. Furthermore, the workers can mobilize our political strength and order those men who deny us to stay at home when they stand for re-election."

WESTERN TIMBER WORKERS STRIKE

EUGENE, May 23.—(AP)—Failure of negotiations between officials of the Western Lumber company and Sawmill and Timber Workers' union led today to a general strike of the Western mill today, officials of the union declared.

When the whistle blew at 1 o'clock approximately one-third of the 200 men employed at the mill reported for work, it was said. These men went through the picket lines established by the striking workmen without interference, it was announced.

Officials of the mill could not be reached for a statement today and it was not known whether they would make an attempt to keep the mill open under a short crew.

Previously workers in the woods about the mill walked off their jobs yesterday, it was reported.

BALDWIN PARK, Calif., May 23.—(AP)—A corner's jury today spared the life of "Prince," 7000-pound elephant who stamped in winter quarters and died in death his trainer, Joe Reed.

CHAIN STORE TAX BILL SEEN LOST

SACRAMENTO, Calif., May 23.—(UP)—A bill to tax chain stores was believed dead today after the senate revenue and taxation committee had, for the second time, refused to give it a favorable recommendation.

The measure would tax multiple unit stores on a sliding scale of from $1 on the first store to $500 on the 10th and each above 10. Opponents claimed it was a discriminatory bill sponsored by independent merchants.

Committee members voted 7 to 3 against giving it a do pass recommendation and split 6 to 6 on a motion to table the measure. As a result, the bill remained on file in committee, where it was expected to stay during the closing rush unless proponents attempt successfully to draw it onto the floor of the senate.

KARPIS UNCAUGHT SAYS G-MAN HEAD

WASHINGTON, May 23.—(AP)—J. Edgar Hoover, chief of the federal bureau of investigation, today denied that a man who allegedly identified himself under arrest in Omaha as Alvin Karpis—the much sought outlaw—was in fact Karpis.

An airplane stewardess in Omaha had said a masked airplane passenger in the custody of two men, gave his name as that of the public enemy number one.

When the word aped to Washington, however, inquiries at the department of justice brought the quick denial from Hoover.

"We would be glad to hear it, if true," he said.

EIGHTH GRADERS TO GET DIPLOMAS ASHLAND FRIDAY

Tomorrow is the big day for eighth grade graduates of Jackson county. At that time they will assemble for the awarding of the eighth grade diplomas at the junior high school in Ashland.

The exercises begin promptly at 10 o'clock in the morning and close in time for the eighth grade classes, for teachers and friends to enjoy their basket picnic dinners in Lithia Park.

The afternoon will be used in further enjoyment of the park, as the playground will be open. Ashland's swimming pools always prove places of popular amusement for the eighth graders and many take advantage of the matinee at the Lithia theater. Reduced prices for students at the swimming pools and the regular low matinee price at the theater make it possible for many to attend.
