

COUNTY EXTENSION COMMITTEE PLANS SESSION SATURDAY

Jackson county extension committee will hold a special meeting Saturday, May 25, at the home economics extension office in the court house.

The committee will meet with Miss Charbel Nye, state leader of home economics extension, and Mrs. Mabel Mack, county home economics agent, for the purpose of planning the county extension program from June 1935 to June 1936. This county program will be based on the recommendations that were made by the members of the home extension units of the county at their annual county home-makers' day held in Medford, April 30.

The meeting is called for 10:00 a. m., and will adjourn at 3:00 p. m. Covered dish luncheon will be served at noon in the court house auditorium. Members of the county committee who will attend this meeting are: Miss Alice Hanley, Medford; Mrs. Bertie Glasgow, Medford; Mrs. Maude A. Purr, Jacksonville; Mrs. Effie Birdseye, Gold Hill; Mrs. Bertina Young, Eagle Point; Mrs. Susie Maust, Phoenix; Mrs. Mabel Thomson, Plain Lake; Mrs. Rita Myers, Medford; Mrs. Dick Straus, Gold Hill; and Mrs. Jennie Hutchinson, Trail.

Miss Nye will arrive from Corvallis this evening. She will be accompanied by Mrs. Thornton who has been attending a home crafts school in Corvallis for the past week.

'SELL OREGON' ADVICE INSTEAD OF LOCAL ADS

SALEM, Ore. (UP)—"Sell Oregon" is State Director of Agriculture Solon T. White's slogan.

The name of the state should take preference over localities in the advertising of fruit and vegetables, he believes.

"Instead of Hood River apples, Medford pears and Grand Island peaches, the name of Oregon should predominate in the labels with the locality occupying a secondary position," White said.

"California has forged ahead of Oregon in this respect. You always see the name California on its produce."

RAT GIVES FAMILY CAT TOUGH TIME IN TUSSLE

SILVERTON, Ore. (UP)—Mrs. J. D. Drake's big Persian cat was rubbing its paw today and wondering how come a respectable tabby can't eat without being beaten up by a rat.

The cat, ordinarily considered quite a hand with rats and even gophers, was poking around the basement when a rat lunged out, clamped its teeth into the cat's jaw and held on until driven away by Mrs. Drake.

BIGHEAD DISEASE OF SHEEP WILL BE OBJECT OF STUDY

BOZEMAN, Mont. (UP)—Government scientists are on the trail of a mysterious disease which has plagued Rocky Mountain area sheep herds for more than half a century.

Arthur B. Clawson, U. S. department of agriculture, will direct an intensive summer probe of "bighead," a strange malady which has scarred herds in Utah, Idaho and Montana for years.

Clawson's headquarters will be at Salt Lake, Utah, but he and his assistants expect to study representative sections of the northern Rockies' livestock ranges.

The scientists hope to establish further definite proof that the sheep disease, "bighead," is caused by "coal oil weed," or "spineless horsebrush." They began a definite study of the disease a year ago.

For at least 50 years "bighead" has brought heavy losses to Western sheepmen, many of whom have accepted it as something which could not be avoided.

The most serious outbreaks occur in fairly definite places along the trails, or on the bed grounds while sheep are being moved from winter ranges to lambing grounds.

It was found that either "coal oil weed," or "spineless horsebrush," is abundant in every area where "bighead" is dangerous, but they are found only in small isolated patches on other ranges. The period when the plants are poisonous coincides with the season when "bighead" occurs. The conclusion is that these plants may be the cause.

DON'T TAKE BLAME IN AUTO SMASHUP ADVICE TO DRIVERS

SALEM, Ore. (UP)—If you have an automobile accident, don't admit that you have insurance or that the crash was your fault.

This is the advice of J. M. Schon, assistant state insurance commissioner.

"The statement that one should not admit liability after an accident may be a surprise, coming from a state employe," Schon said.

"I feel that the majority are willing to assume obligations. But the nature of and the lack of understanding especially of public liability insurance by the public, the jurists and some courts make it necessary that the citizen protect themselves. Ambulance chasers are ever alert to pounce.

"Although in automobile damage cases the courts will not permit knowledge that the automobile was insured, many times the knowledge does reach the jury and court. Then a sort of sympathy begins to work against the insured like this: John Jones sees Bill Smith in distress and is so affected he is willing to go down into Tom Brown's pocket to help Bill Smith.

"Many owners and operators of motor vehicles, who carried no liability insurance, have been shorn of their entire life savings through large judgments awarded claimants. There is no limit under the Oregon law for personal injury."

Wife of Cattleman Suffers Broken Leg

EAGLE POINT, May 24.—(Sp.)—The many friends of the Dixons of Fort Klamath, in Eagle Point and vicinity, will be sorry to learn of the misfortune of Mrs. Seth Dixon in having one of her lower limbs broken in three places. Particulars as to how the accident occurred have not been learned here. It will be recalled by some that Seth Dixon is the owner of the herd of 2,000 steers which was driven from the Cold Springs ranch on the upper Crooked river to the feeding grounds in Fort Klamath, the first of March of this year and Mrs. Dixon rode and helped with part of the drive; other days keeping in touch with the herd by automobile.

MILITANT PASTOR MADE MODERATOR OF PRESBYTERIANS

CINCINNATI, May 24.—(AP)—An active, militant, 71-year-old reformer who believes in using constitutional methods to meet weaknesses of an organization instead of "making irresponsible attacks" heads the Presbyterian church in the U. S. A. today.

The Rev. Dr. Joseph Anderson Vance, pastor of the First Presbyterian church of Detroit, elected moderator by the church assembly yesterday, spoke directly but briefly of himself today as he discussed church troubles and his personal philosophy of life.

"I am a constitutional presbyter," he said vigorously. "I believe in using constitutional methods instead of irresponsible attacks in meeting weaknesses in the church structure. And I shall so deal with the doctrinal disturbances in the church today."

Born in Sullivan county, Tennessee, in 1864, the son of a Confederate soldier, Dr. Vance has kept in tune with modern economic and social developments.

"I am intensely interested in present economic movements," he said. "I believe in abolition of child labor, in old age pensions, in some form of unemployment insurance."

Speaking of religious tenets, Dr. Vance characterized himself as "a
