FARMER'S WIFE RUSHED TO HOSPITAL BY CCC

CAMP WIMER, May 30.—(Spl.)—Wimer's Jack Creek side camp was probably instrumental in saving a life here today. Mrs. W. C. Perry, wife of a farmer near the Jack Creek camp, became so violently ill that she could not be removed by car to the hospital for an operation.

When her husband appealed to the CCC camp for aid, Foreman Earl Coffman sent a truck with four men under Leader Marshall. The boys moved the woman with her bed to the Josephine county hospital, where she was treated. Mrs. Perry is reported to be resting nicely.

RIGID ELIGIBILITY TESTS TO GOVERN HOLC APPLICANTS

Home Owners Should Make Certain That Case Comes Within Genuine Financial Difficulty Regulation

WASHINGTON — (Spl.) — Dealing with the amendment to the home owners' loan act, signed Wednesday by President Roosevelt, which permits the Home Owners' Loan corporation for a period of 30 days to accept new loan applications, John H. Fahey, chairman of the corporation, today issued the following statement, emphasizing that such applications will be accepted only from home owners who are clearly in distress, and are threatened with the loss of their homes through foreclosure:

"The same tests of eligibility of HOLC applicants which have applied in the past will, in general, continue in full force under this new legislation. The corporation intends to make every effort to assist home owners who are in genuine financial difficulty, but it will be forced to reject every application which is not clearly eligible.

"No home owner should apply for a loan until he has first made certain that his application will be eligible under the corporation's restrictions. He should realize that the rejection of an ineligible application, on grounds of deliberate default on existing debts, is likely to cause the home owner the loss of his property, because of the unwillingness of his present mortgagee to carry the loan following such default.

"Largely as a result of more than 2½ billion dollars in bonds already disbursed to them by the Home Owners' Loan corporation, lending institutions are in a far stronger position today than they were a year ago. They are well able to recast and carry reasonably sound mortgage loans, instead of coercing, or even encouraging such borrowers to make application to this corporation.

"The tests of eligibility are as follows:

1. The applicant must have been in involuntary default on his home loan on June 13, 1933, and unable to carry or refund his present mortgage, unless it can be shown to the corporation's satisfaction that a default occurring later than June 13, 1933, was the result of unemployment or other misfortune beyond the applicant's control. The corporation was created to protect honest home owners who are in temporary difficulty, and not for the purpose of saving lenders from the results of their own past mistakes in making excessive loans, or in lending to persons not entitled to credit.

2. The past record of the applicant for integrity is a vital factor. Any applicant will be rejected as ineligible if his general record is unsatisfactory, particularly if he has deliberately defaulted on his existing indebtedness and has a record of not paying his bills when he is able to do so.

3. To redeem the home from forced sale or voluntary surrender, such sale or surrender must have taken place since January 1, 1930.

4. The applicant must be in actual distress with his mortgage indebtedness and threatened with the loss of his home by foreclosure. Applicants who have no present or prospective income of any character, and clearly could not meet the indebtedness, are ineligible unless their notes are also signed by responsible parties.

5. The property must be used by the owner as his home or held by him as his homestead and, as a rule, it must have been his home on June 13, 1933.

6. The home must have a value not exceeding $20,000 as appraised by the corporation. No loan may be made for an amount exceeding $14,000 or 80 per cent of the corporation's appraisal of the property, whichever is the smaller.

7. Ordinary farm property is not eligible unless the applicant draws his main livelihood from non-farm occupations.

8. No applicant will be granted a loan if such refinancing is intended only to protect a bank loan or other business obligation.

9. The corporation will not refinance the home of an owner who can continue to carry his present loan."

Big Applegate

BIG APPLEGATE, May 30.—(Spl.)—While en route to her home in Chicago after spending the winter in Arizona, Mrs. J. R. Revira arrived here Saturday for a brief visit with her niece, Mrs. A. N. Krause. This week Mrs. Krause and her sister, Miss Enid Funk of Medford, expected to accompany Mrs. Revira to Portland.

Mr. and Mrs. Wm. B. Harlow motored to Ashland Saturday, where they visited Mrs. Harlow's brother, Chas. Swartzfager, whom they report to be much improved in health following a long illness. They were accompanied to Medford by Miss Opal Spour, who had spent several days here as their guest, and were accompanied on their return by Walter Hulbert of Phoenix, who is spending the week at the Harlow home.

Mr. and Mrs. Hale Wheeler of Medford spent Sunday here at the home of the latter's father, Fred Offenbacher.

In the first scheduled baseball game of the season here, the Palmer Creek nine defeated Williams Creek players, 8 to 9, Sunday, with Ernest McIntyre of Jacksonville as the local pitcher. A return game will be played Sunday on the Williams diamond.

Mr. and Mrs. Cullen Campbell returned Friday from a brief wedding trip to coast points. Mr. Campbell and Mrs. Iris Norman, both of the community, were united in marriage Tuesday, Mrs. Campbell, formerly of Washington, is a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. High Roundtree of this community. The couple will make their home with the groom's father, Geo. Campbell.

Before returning to her home in Portland for the summer vacation, Miss Eleanor Maule, teacher at the Uniontown school, is visiting friends and relatives in Medford, including Miss Ella Parks and Mrs. Tom Merriman.

Mrs. Anna Crum of Medford is spending several days here at the home of her son, Edward Warford.

Members of the play casts presenting "Hugo in a Hurry" and "Cabbages" here in April were complimented with a card party at the community hall Saturday evening, which was given by the Applegate home extension unit. Ten tables of whist were in play, the total attendance reaching 75. Prizes for high score were awarded Mr. and Mrs. Maud Kubli and Lance Offenbacher, consolation going to Mrs. Tom Mee and John Herriott. The evening was completed with lunch.

John and Henry Head were among local people spending Sunday at Squaw Lake. They report excellent fishing there and that a large number of people were visiting the resort.

Returning from a two weeks' journey to Victoria, B. C., Mr. and Mrs. L. A. Svenson and Miss Tinnie Parker were guests of Mr. and Mrs. B. M. Clute before continuing Saturday to their home at Oakland, Cal. While here, the Californians attended the eighth grade graduation exercises in Ashland, William Clue being one of the graduates.

Seven of the Ashland Camp Fire Girls, including Miss Frances Port of this community, spent the week end at Squaw Lake, where boating and swimming occupied most of their time. The group was accompanied by their director, Miss Mary Magoon.

Recent guests at the home of Mrs. Lilla Haskins included Mrs. W. D. Peckham of Williams Creek and Mr. and Mrs. Frank Fiege and daughter, Miss Mabel Sweat, of Grants Pass. While in the community the Grants Pass group were guests of Mrs. Fiege's father, Newton Haskins.

Miss Lois Straube is expected to return to her home here this week, having completed her sophomore year at Glendale high school.

Howard Kubli is spending the week here at the home of Mrs. Maud Kubli, having also visited his mother, Mrs. Winnie Sanford, at Medford. He will return soon to Marshfield, where he makes his home with his grandmother, Mrs. R. A. Breceda.

Members of the fire crew at the Star ranger station were dispatched to Palmer Creek slope Saturday, where they extinguished a fire covering three-sixteenths of an acre, believed to be a smoker's fire. The ranger station also gave assistance in handling a small fire near Ruch Saturday resulting from explosion of a wood saw operated by Carroll Poe.

Mrs. Nellie Williams and daughter, Igerna, left Friday for their home at Etna, Cal., after visiting relatives at Medford and Applegate, among whom were Mr. and Mrs. John Penoli and Mr. and Mrs. John Harriott.

Mr. and Mrs. Orville Rowden of Hilt visited the former's parents, Mr. and Mrs. T. M. Rowden, near Ruch Sunday. The marriage of the couple, which occurred several weeks ago, only recently was revealed to local friends, the bride being the former Miss Delma Lyons of Medford.

COLVIG RANKS HIGHEST IN OREGON JOURNALISM CURRENT EVENTS EXAM

UNIVERSITY OF OREGON, Eugene, (Spl.)—In a recent current events test given students in the school of journalism at the University of Oregon, Fred Colvig, junior in that school from Medford, made the highest score. The test is the second one held under the auspices of "Time," weekly news magazine, and affords a basis of comparison of the knowledge which students have of current affairs. It is given in universities and colleges throughout the country. The questions cover several fields of activity, including national news, foreign news, dramatics, literature and music.

In the first "Time" test which was held several months ago, Ruth McClain, senior in journalism from Hood River, tied for national first place. Colvig placed third in that examination.

Colvig has been active on student publications ever since his arrival on the campus. He has held a position on the editorial board of the Oregon Daily Emerald this year, and was regarded as an outstanding candidate for the editor's job next year. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Colvig.

Ye Poet's Corner

SALUTE

You come, Old Soldier,
Bowed of head
And with slowing step.
Civilian clothes you wear,
But to me—I see
A uniform
Of blue with buttons bright.
And as you pass,
Though lips are mute,
I humbly step aside
And in my heart salute.

A child I was
When you and others came
To our small town
To honor those who died,
And memory paints this picture
For me yet.

Marching!
Up the street they come.
We hear the martial notes,
War-like, shrill and clear,
Childish faces
Tense and eager
Turn and watch as they draw near.
We see the flag!
Red, white and blue
And golden fringed.
Ah, proud is he
Who bears the flag.
Unsullied now as then.

We watch
As on they come.
How proud they march!
These soldier men.

Up the steps
Into the church
The music summons on.
They go—soldier men
And soldier wives
And children from the school.

Within the church
They talk to us
And sing the songs
They used to sing,
And wrinkled hands
Brush back the tears
Called up by thoughts
Of comrades here no more.

They played for us,
These soldier men,
And I—I thought the music
Merry then,
But now I know
Why soldier eyes
Were clear and stern
And men set and grave.

They knew,
They knew the price
Of that great war,
They knew the heartache
And the pain
And ne'er again
Could greet the day
As we do now
Who do not know
What killing means.

They thought of us!
The growing flower
Of their Homeland,
And prayed for us—
No war should mar
The peace and growth
Of our young lives.

And after they had talked
To us and played
And sung their songs
We left the church
And marched away
With silent step
To where the brother
Comrades slept
In clue and gray.
And at each head
We placed a wreath
To honor him
Who lay beneath
His flag so proudly flying.

Today my heart grows warm,
My spirit stands attention
As you pass.
Within my ears
I hear that throbbing stir
Of drums and fife
And heart beats
Stir and throb
Within my breast
For memory
Dear and sweet,
Your face recalls to me.

O Soldier of bygone day,
I salute!
