

MRS. NIEDERMEYER PASSES SUDDENLY DUE TO EMBOLISM

Charlotte Niedermeyer passed away at a local hospital Monday noon after a brief illness due to embolism. She was born in Bohlshausen, Germany, December 25, 1863, and came to the United States with a company of young people in October, 1886, to visit her sister in Nebraska.

Charlotte Bergfeld was married to Louis Niedermeyer, March 2, 1888, at Tallmage, Neb., and to this union seven children were born, five sons and two daughters: Ernest H. Carl P. Otto, Henry and John Niedermeyer, Mrs. Emma Couger and Mrs. Chester Wendt; also 16 grandchildren, all of Medford and all of whom survive. Her husband, Louis Niedermeyer, also survives, as does one sister, Mrs. Henry Niedermeyer of Tallmage, Neb., and one brother, William Bergfeld, of Germany.

The family resided in Nebraska until 1910, when they came to Medford, living here for 12 years, and in 1912 moving to their ranch home in the Jacksonville district. Mrs. Niedermeyer was a woman of fine Christian character, highly respected and a very devoted wife and mother. She will be mourned by a host of friends besides her family. She attended the Presbyterian church of Jacksonville for many years.

She and her husband were always interested in the growth and development of Medford and their ranch. Funeral services will be conducted from the Per Funeral Home Wednesday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock with Rev. E. Iverson officiating. Entombment will take place in the Medford Memorial mausoleum.

Honorary pallbearers will be J. W. Godward, W. W. Hartley, William Bohner, J. W. Wakefield, C. C. Hoover and I. A. Dew.

There are anniversaries and anniversaries, but here is a new one. Ten years ago, Allen McGee came to the Groceries Super Food Markets as the egg inspector. Allen doesn't count his anniversaries by years, but by eggs. Saturday, May 11, Allen inspected his fifteen millionth egg in the Groceries egg department.

Were the statisticians turned loose on this accomplishment, they would at once try to figure what would have happened had nature taken its course.

An incubator big enough to set these eggs would have been bigger than the largest building in the world.

To have accommodated the chicks in a brooder would have required a heating plant large enough to heat all of the homes in Medford.

Had the chicks been allowed to grow to the fryer age, there would have been enough fried chicken to feed nearly all of the people living west of the Mississippi river.

Had they all produced laying hens, the racket would have been loud enough to drown the noise of all of Los Angeles' boosters.

Had all of the eggs been served in one large breakfast, California, Oregon, Washington, and the Hawaiian Islands would have enjoyed a hearty meal.

When these figures were shown to McGee, he studied them a while and turned away saying, "Huh, good thing I'm here."
