

39 CCC GRADUATE AT COOKS, BAKERS SCHOOL AT WIMER

CAMP WIMER, June 10.—(Sp.)—The fourth session of the Medford district CCC cooks and bakers school ended here Friday with graduation of 39 men. Frank Applegate, 16 Park Place, was the only Medford boy to receive a diploma from Captain W. C. Ryan, district welfare officer, who made the commencement address. Applegate is a first cook.

Since the organization of the district schools at Wimer January 7, 1935, 120 boys have been graduated from the cooks and bakers school, and 50 from the mess stewards school. The clerks school at Medford headquarters has graduated 82. As rapidly as classes are graduated, new classes are organized so that instruction is practically continuous. Since the heavy demand for trained men created by the expansion of the CCC, the district schools have proved invaluable.

Men enrolled in the schools are given four weeks of intensive training in their trades with daily classes and laboratory work. Upon graduation, they are returned to their camps where they can put theory into practice. By the time they have practiced their trades for an enrollment period those who have aptitude are ready to take good jobs outside the CCC. The schools thus do much to carry out the fundamental idea behind the organization of the CCC which is to facilitate the absorption in industry of the boys who belong to this economically handicapped generation.

The fame of the district schools has spread so that letters have recently been received from members in other districts requesting permission to take the period of training here. Medford was first to institute schools of this type.

The faculty of Wimer's schools includes Captain Guy W. Saunders, Lieut. Andrew J. Hamstreet and Dr. L. B. Hanson, assisted by the Wimer kitchen staff.

JAIL FATHER AND SON FOR ASSAULT ON G. P. WOMAN RELIEF AGENT

A fine of $25 is being served out in the county jail by Herman Tooley who was found guilty on an assault and battery charge by Justice of the Peace E. W. Madison Saturday. Oscar Tooley, father of Herman, was given a suspended sentence of six months when judged guilty of the same charge.

The two defendants had pleaded not guilty to a complaint charging them with laying hands on and threatening Mrs. Glenn Tucker, social service supervisor for the Josephine county relief committee, Thursday, when the defendants tried to have their names placed back on the relief rolls.

In the hearing the plaintiff said that she had taken the Tooley name from the relief rolls because the mother of Herman Tooley has work and Herman has been offered employment but refused it. When Mrs. Tucker had started to explain this, she was seized by the arms, in wrenching free, she twisted a muscle in her right shoulder, she said.

The defendants said they were not receiving necessary relief and had gone to the relief office to demand supplies.

Plaintiff's witnesses were Mrs. Tucker, Mrs. Vesta Beer, Miss Edith Cougle, Truman P. Bissel and Earl Thompson. Those for the defense were Oscar and Herman Tooley, Mrs. Hattie A. Clark and Mrs. Rosie Howard.
