$90,700 RANSOM MONEY FOUND

News Behind The News

By PAUL MALLON
(Copyright, 1935, by Paul Mallon)

WASHINGTON, June 11.—The war of headlines is on again in the Mediterranean and the Far East. Big Gun Mussolini is firing blank cartridges at Britain. The Japanese are going him one better in Tokio, leveling a diplomatic barrage over the heads of the entire world.

PAUL MALLON

But, if you will notice, their troops are moving in a direction opposite to their words. Mussolini's are getting ready to grab the rest of Ethopia; the Japanese are moving to demoralize a growing resistance to their domination in China.

The guiding spirits of American diplomacy are silent but unexcited. They have catalogued both steps definitely in their own minds as further "bulldozing diplomacy."

Herr Hitler is making similar bulldozing threats against Russia. His purpose is precisely the same as that of the Italians and Japanese. He wants to frighten the world into silence while he prepares the way for colonial expansion eastward. Although you hear little about it in this country now, you will later. The reds have become so excited they can almost hear the Nazi legions goose-stepping eastward to the strains of the "Horst Wessel," which sounds as if it might be a horse whistle, but isn't.

Even diplomats have to smile when they think of the latest Hitler moves. He turned a honeymoon into a diplomatic threat. The honeymoon was not his, but that of his first lieutenant, General Goering.

The general was sent off to lead his bride in the same direction which may some day be taken by the great German air force which he built up. The honeymoon party included two secretaries of aviation, and confidential officials from several ministries, as well as Prince Philip of Hesse, a brother-in-law of the king of Bulgaria. Incidentally, the bride also went along. The honeymoon party visited all the countries which Germany is trying to win over.

It is not the first time that Mars has been disguised as Cupid.

No authority here doubts that all these steps are more or less important incidents leading up to war. Niether is there any doubt that a major war will be avoided for the present.

Japan will extend her empire through China by degrees. The Soviet will not fight; both Britain and the U. S. are too busy.

Mussolini will crush Ethiopia and extend his imperial colonization there. Britain will not like it because it places him more threateningly on the trade route to India, but will not cause a war.

Hitler will absorb and colonize the states to the east toward Russia. The reds will view with alarm, but keep their swords in their scabbards.

There continues to be much gossip about Mr. Hoover being the power behind the "grass roots" convention; about the Hoover crowd getting back

WALEY DISCLOSES HIDING PLACE OF 'HOT' BANK BILLS

G-Men Believe Weyerhaeuser Abduction Was Work of Two Men and a Woman — Cache Near Salt Lake

ANACONDA, Mont., June 11.—(AP)—A concentration of federal agents was reported from police headquarters here in the hunt for William Mahan, asserted Weyerhaeuser kidnaper.

TWIN BRIDGES, Mont., June 11.—(AP)—A man who scurried to cover like a fox was arrested by swiftly-moving department of justice agents and Police Chief Jere Murphy of Butte as a suspect in the Weyerhaeuser kidnap case this afternoon.

After questioning him, Chief Murphy said, however, he believed the man had no connection with the kidnaping but would be held for further investigation.

The man, whose name was not disclosed, fled to timber when a farmer near here saw him walking along the road.

WASHINGTON, June 11.—(AP)—Recovery of an additional $90,700 of the $200,000 ransom paid for return of the kidnaped George Weyerhaeuser was announced today by the justice department.

There were simultaneous indications the department believes the abduction was a two-man job aided by a woman.

J. Edgar Hoover, chief of the bureau of investigation, said the money, found buried near Salt Lake City, brought the total recovered to $116,000. He did not account for this amount, however.

The $90,700 was located as a result of the confession of Harmon M. Waley, under arrest at Salt Lake City since Saturday, Hoover said.

In addition, he said that between $15,000 and $16,000 was left behind in a car by William Mahan, sought in the kidnaping when he fled officers at Butte, Montana.

Burned $1,000.

Waley burned $4,000 of the ransom money because "things became too hot," he said, and Mr. and Mrs. Waley—she is under arrest also—spent $300.

Hoover said Mahan "probably has the balance either on his person or buried."

These two men, he added collected all the ransom paid to release little

ROOSEVELT BACKS EFFORTS TO HALT ABUSE OF PAROLE

HYDE PARK, N. Y., June 11.—(AP)—The renewed weight of President Roosevelt's influence was behind efforts to prevent parole abuses today—an incidental result of the Weyerhaeuser kidnaping case.

Praising the bureau of investigation's study of criminal records of two men accused in the abduction—one a paroled robber and the other an ex-convict—the president telegraphed Attorney General Cummings, in part:

"Every decent citizen is interested in humane parole systems which seek rehabilitation of offenders but at the same time we should seek to prevent abuses of parole, especially in cases of habitual criminals; therefore I am glad that you are having a special study made of these two cases, investigating all facts relating to their previous records in every jurisdiction where they have been apprehended or paroled."

The telegram, dispatched last night was Mr. Roosevelt's only known contact with Washington.

Give Fly Swatter And Bag of Salt With Cake of Ice

MARTINSBURG, W. Va., June 11.—(AP)—For 15 cents you can get a 100-lb. cake of ice in Martinsburg. Also a fly-swatter and a big bag of salt.

After a price war got the ice down to 15 cents a hundredweight, one bright dealer started offering the swatters and salt as inducement to purchasers.

Woman's Arrest Is 'Break'

The abduction of George Weyerhaeuser, 9, in Tacoma, was believed solved by the arrest of Margaret Waley (top) of Salt Lake City, and her alleged confession. Her admission, G-men said, resulted in the arrest of her husband, Harmon, and the spreading of the dragnet for William Mahan, alleged participant in the kidnaping. Mrs. Waley's arrest came when she attempted to pass one of the ransom bills in a Salt Lake chain store. The two attractive girls (lower) Edythe Moreley (left) a clerk, and Marion Samuel, cashier, handled and identified the note which was offered in the store in payment for a cheap cigarette case.—(A. EUGENE BICYCLIST KILLED BY AUTO

EUGENE, Ore., June 11.—(AP)—Glenn Estes, 15, was killed almost instantly when struck by a car driven by Clifford Troland, Portland, a student at the university, yesterday evening. Estes was riding his bicycle on East Thirteenth street near the city limits and apparently started to turn across the street in the path of the Troland car, witnesses told police.

The machine swerved to the left in an attempt to avoid the accident, but the right fender struck the bicycle, throwing Estes into the air and against the windshield. Witnesses said the car traveled a distance of 294 feet with the boy on the hood before coming to a stop.

After an investigation District Attorney W. H. Broke announced there would be no inquest.

BOY FOUND SAFE NEAR MT. ADAMS

WHITE SALMON, Wash., June 11.—(AP)—Ray Cork, 12-year-old boy who was feared to have perished in the Mt. Adams country of southern Washington, was found safe today by a party of searchers. The youth was last seen Sunday night near his father's fishing camp.

Reports to Trout lake, 27 miles north of White Salmon, said the boy was tired and wane but otherwise in good condition. He was found on a trail by a group of men including Virgil Wridge and Lester Spencer.

The youth disappeared Sunday when he left his father, Thomas Cork, with supplies for another camp four miles away in the rugged hill country. His tracks were followed in the snow Monday but when he emerged into the more swampy land the trail was lost. The camps were about 40 miles northwest of White Salmon.

NEW LEGISLATION TAKES EFFECT IN STATE TOMORROW

Change in Regulations Will Permit Constabulary to Intervene in Labor Disputes — Rogue to Close

By CLAYTON V. BERNHARD
Associated Press Staff Writer

SALEM, Ore., June 11.—(AP) While the Oregon state police, under orders from the governor, have been active in quieting strike disorders in various parts of the state the past month, the specific law which permits it to intervene in labor disputes does not go into effect until tomorrow, 90 days after the adjournment of the 1935 legislature which made such provisions.

The new state police regulations, along with 317 other new acts become effective June 12. The legislature passed 451 new and amendatory acts, but of these 128 had the emergency clause and became effective upon the signature of the governor.

To Vote on Student Fees

Of the remainder the change in primary dates will be submitted to the voters, as will also the compulsory student fees, a referendum on the latter having been filed with the secretary of state yesterday. Tonight is the deadline for other referendums, but none was expected. Several acts specified other effective dates.

The law under which the state police has been operating since the constabulary was established in 1931 was amended by the 1935 session after a hard battle, eliminating one clause having to do with labor disputes. That clause, the repeal of which is operative tomorrow, is as follows:

HIDE-OUT HOUSE BEING GONE OVER BY FEDERAL MEN

SPOKANE, Wash., June 11.—(AP)—Working with the greatest of secrecy, department of justice identification agents were locked in the George Weyerhaeuser kidnap "hideout" house here today, presumably gathering evidence to be used against the kidnapers when they are brought to trial.

Although a strong police guard was set up around the old story-and-a-half, brown and white house, soon after it was identified as the "hide-out," lights behind tightly shaded windows indicated the men worked all night. Reporters who attempted to gain admittance today were told that new orders had been received "from Washington" to bar everyone but department of justice agents.

Whether nine-year-old George still was in Spokane was as much a mystery to the public as what the interior of the house looks like. Apparently George was rushed back to Tacoma soon after he emerged from the rear door of the house, escorted by a group of department of justice agents, at 8:40 o'clock last night.

HIGHWAY, CAPITOL FUND HOPE FADES

SALEM, June 11.—(AP)—Construction of major highway projects and possibility of obtaining funds for a new capitol building out of the federal work relief bill appeared doomed today following interpretation of regulations received yesterday from the bureau of public roads at Washington.

Allocations of the work relief money will be restricted to projects capable of giving employment to a maximum number of men at an average expenditure of $1,140 per man per year for materials, and in the case of highways $1,400 per man.

The restrictions, as interpreted, would apply to all work relief projects, whether grants or loan-grants, road jobs or other highway construction included in the $4,000,000,000 of work relief money.

MOUNT HOOD LOOP OPEN TO TRAFFIC BY SUNDAY

THE DALLES, Ore., June 11.—(AP)—State highway officials today announced the Mt. Hood loop highway would be opened to traffic by next Sunday. Road crews broke through the major drifts yesterday.

CALIFORNIA PEAR PROSPECTS HIT BY PESTS AND RAINS

Washington and Oregon Expectations Seen Good — Apple Prospects in Northwest Regions "Spotted"

WASHINGTON, June 11.—(AP)—Pests and bad weather are reported by the agriculture department responsible for a short fruit crop in California this year.

In its monthly forecast, the department's crop reporting board said deciduous fruit crops on the west coast would be well below average, but that there would be a nearly average crop of oranges. Citrus prospects in Arizona were reported especially good.

It was estimated the crop of California Valencias, the main source of supply at this time, would be 24,200,000 boxes. Production of grapefruit was improved, the report said.

Of deciduous fruits, the report said the prospect for the country at large was slightly better than last year. However, the pear crop was expected to be far below normal due to heavy crop losses in California.

Peach crops also were said to have been damaged materially in Cali-

Housing Official Says Newspapers Aiding Movement

CHICAGO, June 11.—(AP)—Increased sales of more than 43,000,000 agate lines of advertising in newspapers of the United States in the last ten months was credited to the government's better housing program today by H. Dorsey Newsom, chief of the newspaper section of the federal housing administration.

Addressing the newspaper advertising executives' association here in connection with the Advertising Federation of America convention, Newsom asserted that the support of the newspapers as a whole, has been one of the most effective aids to the success of the better housing program.

MARTIN RECALL TO BE TOPIC AT GRANGE CONFAB

McMINNVILLE, Ore., June 11.—(AP)—Internal politics apparently centering around the suggested recall of Governor Martin faced members of the Oregon State Grange who met here today for the initial sessions of their annual convention.

A portion of the sessions, officers said, would be closed. Ray Gill, master of the State Grange, was to make his report at one of the closed meetings this afternoon, after which Paul Kelty, editor of the Oregonian, was to be the speaker at a general session. Speakers tonight include L. J. Taber, master of the National Grange, and Albert Goss, Federal Land bank commissioner.

Registration this morning approached the 900 mark. No general election is to be held until next year.

In a preliminary meeting, C. A. Schooling of Junction City was elected to succeed B. F. Harlow of Eugene as a director of the Grange fire relief association. Fred Shepard of Bend was re-elected. The annual report of the fire relief association showed a net profit for the year of $1500 after paying all losses.

P.-T. A. OPPOSES ROSE SHOW DRILL

PORTLAND, June 11.—(AP)—The Portland council of the Oregon Congress of Parents and Teachers last night went on record opposing the participating of children in mass formations and calisthenics during the annual rose festival.

The school board was asked in a resolution to support the council's contention that such participation should be barred. It was asserted that no physical examinations preceded the training, that classroom work was missed, that at least 20 had to be carried from the field Saturday from over-exposure to the heat, that medical aid was inadequate, that child participation is regarded by managers of the festival as a money-getting portion of the program and that each pupil had to expend a dollar for costumes.

LOS ANGELES, Cal., June 10.—See where my old friend "Alfalfa" Bill Murray says he is with the constitution if he has to be a Republican to do it. With Bill joining the supreme court that makes 10 men on it. The very thing that must be avoided is to raise the number.

But now that the little joke is over, let me tell you something about Bill Murray. My daddy was a member of the constitutional convention that made Oklahoma's scenario and he told me, "Willie, this Murray guy that's running this convention is smart on constitutional law." Say, Bill has majored in that, with a 40 years' course.

Will Rogers.
