JAYNE'S VERMIFUGE
Most parents think worms no longer exist. But the U. S. Government says, "From 28 to 45 out of 100 children in certain school groups had worms. Boys suffered most."
Worms are brought into the stomach on lettuce, cabbage, spinach, carrots in drinking water on flies' legs on the fur of cats and dogs.
Any one of these signs may point to worm infection: Pale faces, thin bodies, poor appetite, crumblings and irritability, constant nose picking, hiccuping, bad dreams, grinding of teeth in sleep, or vomiting.

"Vagabond Lady" at Craterian

Romance rife with comedy in "Vagabond Lady" coming to the Craterian theater for tomorrow only.

Robert Young plays the part of "Tony," fun-loving son of a millionaire department store owner, who returns home from an around-the-world cruise in a sailing ship just in time to upset the marriage plans of his brother "John," played by Reginald Denny.

Evelyn Venable is the girl, Josephine Spigans, daughter of the department store's irresponsible head janitor, a part played by Frank Craven.

It is the father, who desires Tony for a son-in-law instead of the dignified John, who throws a monkey-wrench into the prospective marriage by getting himself drunk on the eve of the wedding, only to have the marriage definitely arranged for another date. How, in spite of everyone's plans, including the prospective bride and groom—Tony finally wins the girl, makes the picture lively, merry entertainment.

Paul Muni Heads Rialto Program

Paul Muni, the "Fugitive from the Chain Gang" and Bette Davis, the man-wrecker of "Of Human Bondage" are teamed in the strongest roles of their careers in "Bordertown," opening a three-day run at the Rialto theater today.

Muni is the foreign youth who rises to riches and power in a resort town on the border. Miss Davis is the wife of his partner, who murders her husband in the hope of gaining the younger man's affections.

Margaret Lindsay and Eugene Palette are also featured.

CHICAGO, June 11.—(P)—Charles "Chuck" Mucha, 203-pound guard from the University of Washington, has signed a contract with the Chicago Bears of the National Professional Football league.
