

The Weather
 Forecast: Cloudy tonight and Friday;
 moderate temperature.
 Temperature:
 Highest yesterday 76
 Lowest this morning 51

MEDFORD MAIL TRIBUNE

Good Business
 It is good business to use the classified page of this newspaper. These little ads bring surprising results and in most cases prove to be a good investment. Try them.

Thirtieth Year 20 Pages, 2 Sections MEDFORD, OREGON, THURSDAY, JUNE 13, 1935. No. 71.

MARTIN ANSWERS PICKETS DEFIANT

News Behind The News
 Copyright, 1935, by Paul Mallon.

WASHINGTON, June 13.—The steam of enthusiasm seems to be running a bit lower than the country realizes inside the new deal boiler. The old pressure for high-stakes action is not what it once was. Anyone who has called on any dozen of the stokers in the last few days can see the situation.

It is not entirely the supreme court decision which is Paul Mallon causing the fires to run low, although that undoubtedly played a part. Nor is it the enthusiastic activity of the Republican bucket brigade, although that also has had a dampening influence.

To get the right slant on what is happening, you have to go back a bit. President Roosevelt started reforming his new deal from within about six months ago. He moderated the NRA, got Johnson out, reformed the AAA, got Tugwell out, altered policies and personnel gradually and mildly, in preparation for a new new deal.

Now, suddenly, a rush of economic as well as legal, political and personal developments appears to have taken his reformation entirely out of his hands.

You can see it best in the AAA. There the loss of foreign cotton markets has thrown the AAA program out of gear. It will have to be reorganized from this standpoint as well as from the legal standpoint.

At the headquarters of the new works program, you will find Frank Walker in all as a result of a week's work. He has been unable to get the thing going. At federal housing, cliques are contending with each other about how to proceed, while the administrator is serving only temporarily. At the securities and exchange commission, you will get defensive arguments about the constitutionality of their phase. And at the export-import banking house of George Peek, where no business is being done, you will meet with details that Mr. Peek's activities now are entirely useless.

To give you a rough and inadequate idea of the situation at NRA: A number of young men in the compliance division of NRA were sitting around amusing themselves the other day by driving paper wads at a window across the street. The occupants of the residence became annoyed, called the division on the telephone, said she wanted to make a complaint. NRA's young men responded: "Sorry madame, the NRA isn't taking any more complaints."

More important phases of the same spirit are evident among the members of the strong liberal element of new dealers. They came here originally full of eagerness for reform, willing to work long hours, at ordinary wages, for their various causes. Now you will hear a number of them wondering whether it is worth while talking about getting outside jobs.

An out-of-town labor writer, returning from a trip, talked to the most important men in this group (Continued on Page Ten)

State Police Force Ordered Mobilized To Halt Disorders

PORTLAND, Ore., June 13.—(AP)—An injunction seeking to restrain state police and Multnomah county officials from interfering in the picketing of lumber mills was being sought in circuit court here this afternoon. The hearing was asked by two members of the local Sawmill and Timber Workers' union. A decision from Circuit Judge James W. Crawford was expected late today.

By CLAYTON V. BERNHARD (Associated Press Staff Writer)
 SALEM, June 13.—(AP)—Orders for the immediate concentration of the entire state police force and a statement that "it will be just too bad for any interference," was Governor Charles H. Martin's reply today to threats that 8000 Union men would picket the Bridal Veil Lumber company plant near Portland.

Threats that thousands of men would be sent to the scene of yesterday's strike disorders followed dispersing of a group of about 175 men by state police last evening. Governor Martin, in a press conference, told newspapermen his only notice of the threat reached him through the morning papers.

Meaning insurrection, "It will be just too bad for the 8000," the governor declared, "it means nothing but insurrection and defiance of the constituted law authority. There will be no crowd permitted at that mill if it is necessary to place the full authority of the state behind the order."

The order for immediate mobilization of the state police force from the entire state, consisting of about 140 men, was issued to Superintendent Charles P. Pray at 10 o'clock today. He ordered Pray to be ready to "meet any and all threats of insurrection."

Mobilize in Salem. The governor did not announce where the men would be assembled, but it was believed they would be brought to Salem first, and perhaps later sent to Portland. The police force constitutes a staff of highly trained officers. Their handling of strike disorders to date was highly complimented by the chief executive.

The governor stated he ordered 40 (continued on page nine)

LASKA WILL SEEK ACQUITTAL ORDER IN URSCHEL CASE

OKLAHOMA CITY, June 13.—(AP)—The government rested at 11:58 a. m. today its case charging Ben E. Laska, Denver attorney, with receiving $10,000 of the $200,000 Urschel kidnap ransom.

Resting of the case for the prosecution came just before the noon recess. Claud Nowlen, defense attorney, gave notice that immediately after court convened for the afternoon session he would ask for a directed verdict of acquittal of the charge against James C. Mathers, 30-year-old Oklahoma attorney, charged with receiving $1,000 of the Urschel ransom.

A number of government witnesses were excused to return to Denver. The recovery of $44,500 of the ransom cash on the ranch of Mrs. Feldman's father at Green Mountain, Wash., and on the farm of Melvin Scott at Medford, Ore., was described by C. G. Spears, Portland, Ore., government agent.

He said the money was buried in tin cans, fruit jars, vacuum jars and all sorts of containers and added that Mrs. Feldman and her son pointed out the hiding places to officers.

$150,000 LIQUOR FUND TO RELIEF COMMITTEE
 SALEM, June 13.—(AP)—The state liquor control commission today turned over $150,000 to the state relief committee from its license and revenue receipts. This makes a total of $250,000 turned over this year from the two sources.

The turnover did not include any profits from the sale of hard liquors by stores and agencies.

ITALY EXPELS YANKEE NEWSPAPER REPORTER
 ROME, June 13.—(AP)—The Italian government press bureau today expelled David Darrach, the Rome correspondent of the Chicago Tribune. Darrach and his wife were forced to leave immediately.

The reason for Darrach's expulsion was given as the writing of anti-Italian articles. It was said Darrach had attacked the financial structure of the country and the allegiance of the people to the fascist regime.

Hunger Forces Mahan Out of Hiding

What New NRA Does.
 WASHINGTON, June 13.—(AP)—The NRA resolution as approved by the senate would:

- Extend a vastly-reduced NRA until April 1, 1936.
- Eliminate all compulsory codes.
- Permit business men to make agreements governing collective bargaining, minimum wages, maximum hours, child labor, and unfair competitive practices which are outlawed by existing statute or which constitute unfair methods of competition under the federal trade commission act.
- Restore the anti-trust laws to full effect.

By CLARENCE M. WRIGHT (Associated Press Staff Writer)
 WASHINGTON, June 13.—(AP)—Final congressional approval of the NRA extension resolution by tomorrow night was indicated today when President Roosevelt told house leaders he was willing to accept the measure, passed earlier in the day by the senate after crushing a 1 1/2 hour filibuster by Senator Long (D., La.)

At a White House conference with house leaders, the president said he also would accept the Borah amendment to tighten enforcement of anti-trust laws.

Just before the conference, Chairman O'Connor of the rules committee, commenting on the senate addition of the Borah amendment, said:

"To hell with them. If their amendment is what I understand it to be, the house wouldn't stand for it and I shall fight it."

The senate adopted the NRA resolution extending an abbreviated NRA until next April 1 at 8:10 a. m. Some senate leaders expressed opinion that Long, white faced and weary, had given up at 4 a. m., leaving Senators Schall (R., Minn.), and McCarrin (D., Nev.) to carry on. They emphasized he was not refused recognition later by the chair, but just "gave up."

The final vote on passage was 41 to 13.

Since parliamentarians said it would take unanimous consent to get house approval of the senate measure today, the schedule was to bring in a special resolution tomorrow making it in order to accept the senate resolution.

Time Is Essence
 Although at least one of these conditions (Continued on Page Ten)

Governor Gives Grange His Attitude on Oregon Agriculture Problems

McMINNVILLE, June 13.—(AP)—Taking advantage of the invitation accorded him to address the Oregon State Grange in its annual meeting here, Governor Charles H. Martin this afternoon outlined his position as regards Oregon agriculture and the problems and at the same time took occasion to again rebuke those who question his attitude toward farmers and farm problems.

"Unfortunately," said the governor, in expressing his appreciation of the invitation extended him, "there have been misunderstandings as to methods and procedure in attaining the objectives we all desire."

"In my interest in agriculture and agriculturists, I feel in my own heart that I am as sincere and as well-intentioned as any of those with whom I have had differences. My actions have been calculated and premeditated; my ideas promoted by the best interests of the people at large and the farmers in particular. I welcome and will continue to welcome counsel and advice from those capable of giving sound counsel."

"But I retain to myself the prerogative of making my own decisions and carrying them into execution." Asserting his "sympathy with the aims of American labor—to improve the standards of living among our large consuming population," Governor Martin pledged his complete support to labor organization "in dealing with their ranks those who stir up trouble, discord and violence, and even resort to blackmail."

The text of his address, in part, follows:

CLIPPER REACHES PEARL HARBOR IN EIGHTEEN HOURS

HONOLULU, June 13.—(AP)—The Pan-American Airways Clipper plane arrived at Pearl Harbor, near here, at 6:20 a. m. today (11:30 a. m., eastern standard time) from Alameda, Cal., 2410 miles away.

The Clipper's time from the take-off until she sliced the waters of Pearl Harbor was three minutes under eighteen hours, which apparently was the schedule on which she was running.

She came out of the east over Diamond Head flying very fast.

The plane shot over Honolulu, circled over the airbase at Pearl Harbor in a long sweep three miles seaward, then settled down in the long arm of the channel for a perfect landing.

Among the first to greet Captain Edwin L. Musick and his crew of five were the plant inspectors of the department of agriculture, who were waiting to give the craft a routine inspection.

There was little more fanfare than the daily return of navy flying boats from regular exercise.

Captain Musick, poker faced and as usual calm, said the plane may go to Midway Island, 1323 miles west, Saturday. He said he probably will know about this by tomorrow.

The trip to Midway, he added, will be a daylight flight and the plane will remain there a day or two.

Theoretically the Wales's pleas yesterday put them in the position of fighting the Lindbergh law charges although the alternative is Washington state's new death-for-kidnapers statute.

Prisoners Nonchalant
 Apparently they hope to "beat" the accusation which put the case under (Continued on Page Nine)

WILL ROGERS SAYS

BEVERLY HILLS, Calif., June 12.—Well, I got a kick out of that bunch of unemployed old-timers who call themselves the "Grass Root Boys." They just met and "denounced" and "re-denounced." Give a prize to the fellow that called the president the most names, but they all do it.

When Mr. Hoover was in the way the other side did the same thing. In fact, I think it's the same names they called him, for neither has ever been original enough to think of new ones. That's what makes politics such a high class gentleman's game.

Priestfighters meet and fight and then are called lowbrows for saying, "Well, the best man won." Yours, Will Rogers.

© 1935, McNaught Syndicate, Inc.

Income Shares
 Quarterly income shares 1.33 bid; 1.47 asked.

BASEBALL

National	R.	H.	E.
Pittsburgh	0	4	0
Brooklyn	3	6	0
Blanton and Grace, Mungo and Lopez.
(First game)	R.	H.	E.
Cincinnati	2	4	0
New York	7	10	0
Hollingsworth and Campbell; Schumacher and Mancuso.
(2nd game)	R.	H.	E.
Cincinnati	1	6	2
New York	9	12	1
Frey, Hollingsworth and Lombardi; Parmelee and Danning.
(First game)	R.	H.	E.
Chicago	12	15	3
Philadelphia	6	14	1
Warneke and Odes; Moore, Prim, Bowman, Puzello and Todd.
(2nd game)	R.	H.	E.
St. Louis	1	9	0
Boston	3	6	1
P. Dean and Delaney; MacPhayden and Hogan.
(First game)	R.	H.	E.
Boston	1	8	2
Detroit	6	11	0
Rhodes, Walberg, Vandenberg and R. Ferrell; Bridges and Cochrane.
(2nd game)	R.	H.	E.
Washington	6	14	0
Chicago	10	12	0
Hadley, Pettit and Beltou; Kennedy and Sewell.
(First game)	R.	H.	E.
Philadelphia	3	8	1
Cleveland	6	12	0
Wishers, Carter and Berry; Hildebrand and Pytkar.

SENATE CRUSHES LONG FILIBUSTER; ADOPTS NRA BILL

Vote Is 41 to 13 for Extension of Skeletonized Recovery Program—House Expected to Act Friday

By CLARENCE M. WRIGHT (Associated Press Staff Writer)
 WASHINGTON, June 13.—(AP)—Final congressional approval of the NRA extension resolution by tomorrow night was indicated today when President Roosevelt told house leaders he was willing to accept the measure, passed earlier in the day by the senate after crushing a 1 1/2 hour filibuster by Senator Long (D., La.)

At a White House conference with house leaders, the president said he also would accept the Borah amendment to tighten enforcement of anti-trust laws.

Just before the conference, Chairman O'Connor of the rules committee, commenting on the senate addition of the Borah amendment, said:

"To hell with them. If their amendment is what I understand it to be, the house wouldn't stand for it and I shall fight it."

The senate adopted the NRA resolution extending an abbreviated NRA until next April 1 at 8:10 a. m. Some senate leaders expressed opinion that Long, white faced and weary, had given up at 4 a. m., leaving Senators Schall (R., Minn.), and McCarrin (D., Nev.) to carry on. They emphasized he was not refused recognition later by the chair, but just "gave up."

The final vote on passage was 41 to 13.

Since parliamentarians said it would take unanimous consent to get house approval of the senate measure today, the schedule was to bring in a special resolution tomorrow making it in order to accept the senate resolution.

Time Is Essence
 Although at least one of these conditions (Continued on Page Ten)

PENDLETON YOUTH RETAINS LAURELS AS SKEET CHAMP

Glenn Bradley, 14, Breaks 38 Out of Possible 50 Clay Pigeons in Opening Event of State Trapshoot

M. G. Henkle of Portland, carried off the Oregon State trapshoot senior skeet championship here today, by cracking 47 out of 50 "birds" in the opening event of the competition which will continue through Sunday, J. F. Moore, of Medford placed second with 46 out of 50 and Thomas D. Wyatt of Redding, Calif., broke 45. Wyatt, although ineligible to aspire to the Oregon title and trophy, being shot for this year for the first time, was high gun among out-of-state entrants.

Glenn Bradley, 14, of Pendleton, Ore., retained the junior skeet championship of Oregon by breaking 38 out of a possible 50 in the state trapshoot which opened here today. Clair Miller, 12, of Corvallis, broke 31. Ernest Carsten, Jr., 17, of Camano, Cal., participated, though ineligible for the state title. He scored 36 breaks.

Boy Gunners occupied the spotlight today as the Oregon state trapshoot opened at the Medford Gun club. With an overcast sky and virtually no breeze, conditions for shooting were ideal when the first squad lined up for the senior and junior skeet championship, the initial event on the program.

Eyes were centered upon Glenn Bradley, the 14-year-old junior Oregon skeet champion, and Clair Miller, 12-year-old challenger. As these were the only two Oregon boys entered in the contest, the competition took on added zest.

Young Bradley held securely to his crown in the first round, breaking 20 of the 25 targets offered him. The Miller boy ended the first round five targets in the rear, cracking 15 of the clay pigeons.

The only other junior shooter in the meet was Ernest Carsten, Jr., 17-year-old schoolboy of Camano, Cal. Being from another state, he was not eligible for the Oregon title, though (Continued on Page Two)

FIST FIGHT NEAR WHEN PUGS MEET FOR WEIGHING-IN

NEW YORK, June 13.—(AP)—Max Baer, heavyweight champion, will have an edge of almost 20 pounds on Jimmy Braddock in their 15 round title fight in Madison Square Garden bowl tonight. The champion scaled 209 1/2 pounds at the official weighing-in today; Braddock, 191 1/2.

A near fist fight marked the proceedings before the fighters finally hopped on the scales, with Baer as the principal target.

Braddock was first to arrive at the New York state athletic commission offices. He had to sit around a while, waiting for the champion to arrive.

"How you feeling, Jimmy?" he said merrily, extending his hand.

The challenger brushed aside Baer's hand and replied curtly: "I don't want to talk to you. I'll do all my talking in the ring."

Baer appeared a bit nonplussed and before he could recover, Joe Gould, Braddock's manager and about half the champion's size, stepped up and shoved the champion away from him.

"So you're the guy that kills guys in the ring," he sneered. "Well, get away from here now. We don't want to listen to any campaign speeches from you."

AIMEE CONTENT WITH HUSBANDLESS STATE
 NEW YORK, June 13.—(AP)—Aimee Semple McPherson, back from a trip around the world, plans for permanent continuance of her widowed state.

"Jamals encore!" was her sentiment in French on the matter of a possible fourth spouse, and a nod of her head was indication that she means "Never again" in English, too.

She was a passenger on the liner Rex.

BEGGED FOOD AT LIVINGSTON HOME G-MEN ARE TOLD

Waleys Held Incommunicado in Jail at Olympia—Are Nonchalant and Amused While Entering Pleas

LIVINGSTON, Mont., June 13.—(AP)—Hunger drove William Mahan, hunted like a wolf in the Weyerhaeuser kidnaping, into the home of a Livingston woman where he begged for food and gave their first definite tip on his whereabouts today.

"Carrying a little black satchel that might have contained the missing $89,000 of the Weyerhaeuser ransom, Mahan boldly entered the garden of Mrs. C. E. Jeffries.

"Please, lady, could you give me something to eat?" he asked.

Mrs. Jeffries, struck by his peculiar dress, Oxford gray suit, dapper colored hat, kid gloves and neat black satchel, was suspicious and turned him away.

"He was too well dressed to be a beggar, but I did not recognize him immediately as the hunted man," Mrs. Jeffries said. "It was Tuesday when he called. After I thought it over I notified authorities."

(Copyright, 1935, by the Associated Press)

TACOMA, June 13.—(AP)—Capture of William Mahan, slippery fugitive last seen in Montana Sunday, is the next order of business in the Weyerhaeuser kidnap case, a department of justice spokesman said today.

He indicated that Mr. and Mrs. Harmon M. Waley may remain incommunicado for some time following their pleas of not guilty here late yesterday to Lindbergh law charges of kidnaping George Weyerhaeuser, 9, and conspiring to use the mails to defraud his parents of $200,000 ransom.

He refused to explain why the federal men apparently had muzzled all U. S. and state authorities even reportedly connected with Waley's custody, and why the "G-men" kept up the fiction of not knowing that they had secretly incarcerated the Waleys in the Thurston county jail at Olympia, themselves, last night.

G-Men Bar Photographers
 He also referred all questions to department of justice headquarters at Washington, D. C., on why the Waleys are incommunicado and why federal agents so solicitously shielded the Waleys from photographers after their arrival here from Salt Lake by plane yesterday.

Asked about a published reputed exclusive interview with Mrs. Waley at Salt Lake City before her sudden and unexplained removal here with her husband yesterday, the federal man laughed and said "She's still incommunicado." Mrs. Waley was incommunicado at Salt Lake City, too, he said.

Theoretically the Wales's pleas yesterday put them in the position of fighting the Lindbergh law charges although the alternative is Washington state's new death-for-kidnapers statute.

Prisoners Nonchalant
 Apparently they hope to "beat" the accusation which put the case under (Continued on Page Nine)

WILL ROGERS SAYS

BEVERLY HILLS, Calif., June 12.—Well, I got a kick out of that bunch of unemployed old-timers who call themselves the "Grass Root Boys." They just met and "denounced" and "re-denounced." Give a prize to the fellow that called the president the most names, but they all do it.

When Mr. Hoover was in the way the other side did the same thing. In fact, I think it's the same names they called him, for neither has ever been original enough to think of new ones. That's what makes politics such a high class gentleman's game.

Priestfighters meet and fight and then are called lowbrows for saying, "Well, the best man won." Yours, Will Rogers.

© 1935, McNaught Syndicate, Inc.