From chance published comment of Democratic national leaders, agent of the recent Republican "grass roots" convention, the same was heavier the weed tops than the "grass roots."

Oratorical leaders of the upstate uprising have started emitting militant phrases, that once rang in the ears of Jackson county survivors of the revolution. They are now "standing on their constitutional rights" but, as yet, have not started arriving in this country on the "May-flower."

The lady in the Weyerhaeuser kidnapping is now full of remorse. She is sorry enough over getting caught, to enter a convent for life, instead of a penitentiary.

A touring member of the "Intelligentsia" was here yesterday denouncing capitalism. He knew everything, except that he needed a hair-cut.

No man on relief, or that has just got off, has any business being tempted to get rich quick by hanging around a chain letter store or a slot machine.

The press plans "a campaign of caution" for boy bicyclists in auto traffic. It is hoped the press has better luck than in the longer campaign to keep the boy's papers from knocking trains off crossings with their autos.

The temper of the people has become such that they don't much care what happens if it will only hurry up and do it.

The weather continues like somebody had done something about it.

A number of recent fathers are broad, and the width of their grins equals the length of their steps.

James J. Bradlock knocked the heavy-weight championship crown from the curly head of Max Baer last night, to the great disgust of the latter. Approximately 85 per cent of the people who care about pugilistic capers, hoped it would happen but feared it would not.

A PRINTER WHOLES. (Cherokee (Okla.) Times) The witness said Byers started an alternately and friend the first short cut which struck the elder Anderson in the leg.

Following his own to the stand, the defendant testified that he wanted to Lake Bridgeport after receiving a letter from his wife telling of Byers' mistreatment of her.

Class B Neurotics are just gullible, misguided people who take a 60 mg. dose of this group if you catch him when he tricks "nerves are not usurping all his thoughts."

A diet which just falls short of adequacy, without producing outspoken disease (such as beriberi, pellagra, scurvy, etc.) may lead to chronic gastritis and enteritis with impairment of neuromuscular control of the intestine.

Indeed there is good reason to believe that chronic vitamin B deficiency is responsible for many obscure, indefinite digestive disorders which destroy the happiness of the patient and baffle the physician.

From Mellanby's "Nutrition and Disease" (Oliver and Boyd, London, 1934) I quote: "I shall now briefly describe my experience with cases of disseminated sclerosis . . . treated with a high vitamin A diet . . . a great improvement in early cases . . . the more chronic cases get no better but no worse."

Mellanby also states that the experimental facts adduced make it possible at least to claim that the nervous system is within the pale of nutrition. He contends that "the actual degenerative changes in the nerves (in cases of beriberi, multiple neuritis) are really due to a vitamin A deficiency, while the prostration, weakness and other nerve symptoms are the result of vitamin B deficiency."

Vitamin B, by the way, is now well known to promote carbohydrate metabolism, the oxidation and utilization of starches or sugars. Indeed it assists in the conversion of glucose into energy.

NEW YORK DAY BY DAY

By O. O. McIntyre

NEW YORK, June 14.—Thoughts while strolling: Looking at Skippy generally cures a morning grouch. Bill Lengel lights one cigarette with another all day long.

Sam Blythe will write his memoirs at 70. The right age for looking back — if one is here to look.

Look alike: Charles Laughton and Huey Long. All the dramas full of revolution themes. Anna Held, Jr. has her mother's goo-goo eyes to a T.

Most of the magazine editors are as thin as rats. Talk suddenly becomes the nation's greatest industry. And Barbara's Count is not even in the Almanac de Goths.

What ever became of Bonnie feline? The most nervous star of a New York first night: Katherine Hepburn. Those seashore boys with sun blond hair in the stony roasters.

Shyest of dogs: The dachshund. That bogus Prince Mike seems permanently squelched. Dillettante note: Some of the hardest workers wear spats.

Almost everybody past 30 will remember the name Lee Lash, a signature appearing on many of the old time theatrical curtains—especially vaudeville and burlesque. The Lee Lash curtains were back-drops of street scenes or country lanes blocked with commercial ads.

More and more the art of displaying a breast pocket handkerchief is considered one of the important features of men's dress—as much so as the correct set of a white evening bow. Or the jaunty waist of an evening muffler. Dwight Blake is regarded as

Comment on the Day's News

By FRANK JENKINS.

MID-WESTERN Republicans, meeting in Springfield, Illinois, adopt with cheers and applause a "declaration of principles" which, they assert, will rally support to the Republican party and its candidate in 1936.

HERE are two of the planks from the proposed platform: 1. Justice for veterans, but with no specific mention of paying the bonus. 2. Preservation of the constitutional form of government and state rights, free enterprise against fascism and collectivism.

DRAW your own conclusions, but to this writer it sounds like the old, old line of political bunk—carrying water on both shoulders and scraping for votes on both sides of the fence.

If the Republican party is EVER to come back, in 1936 or at any other time, it will have to display more backbone, courage and statesmanship than these Middle West-erners meeting in Illinois were able to muster.

THIS headline meets the eye: "Road Jobs for Oregon Jeopardized." The new work relief money, it seems—the much-talked-of $4,800,000—restricted to $1140 per man per year as a general average and $1400 per man per year in the case of highway work.

But highway work in Oregon—and elsewhere, for that matter—has been running around $2800 per man per year on ordinary grading jobs, and on structural jobs, such as bridges, around $4000.

So highway work of any magnitude seems to be OUT so far as the big work relief bill is concerned. At least that is the way it looks now.

WHAT does it mean? Well, it APPEARS to mean that the $4,800,000,000 will be frittered away on wheelbarrow jobs and that we will get nothing permanently useful out of expenditure of this staggeringly enormous sum.

News Behind The News

was Postmaster General Farley, who was being rushed up to the senate several weeks ago to save the bonus veto in similar circumstances.

Now Mr. Hurja never has been known as a liberal. Nor does he appear often at the capitol. He did this time—on the run. What he did and how he did it cannot be told officially. But more than one senator will tell you confidentially Mr. Hurja changed four votes; that is, he persuaded four democratic senators not to vote as they intended to vote, but to save the "electrocution clause."

The wheel within all these wheels seems to be a split in the ranks of new deal liberal advisers. Apparently all the former associates of Messrs. Cohen and Corcoran are not going along with them wholeheartedly on this electrocution issue.

The oddsments of humanity seeping to Madison Square at dusk are worthy of a Hogarth pencil. Characters que never sees elsewhere are there—mumbling, shuffling and shifting. Derelicts with matted beards and hair to shoulders, in sandals and bare feet.

A Senator Glass asked all federal reserve board members whether they had seen a copy of the new bank bill before it was presented in the senate, and all answered in the negative.

Senator Copeland rats more candidly than all the rest of the senate combined. One afternoon recently he consumed three five-cent packages of chocolates, two ten-cent fudge bars, and he is a doctor.

Huey Long and his bitterest foe, Carter Glass, were observed the other day, with their arms around each other, Glass laughing uproariously at one of Long's jokes. Times are certainly changing in Glass' rank, and anything that Huey says is funny.

BLAME FIXED FOR AIR LINER'S CRASH

WASHINGTON, June 14.—(AP)—Bad weather plus wrong forecasts by both government and company experts and faulty work by ground personnel were blamed today by the department of commerce for the TWA air crash of May 6 near Macon, Mo., which killed Senator Bronson Cutting of New Mexico and four others.

The report, completed after the taking of more than 907 pages of testimony, also found that five violations of air service regulations were "indicated" and contributed to the accident.

"Such violations will be filed against the company," it said. In a statement accompanying the report, Secretary Roper said: "I am convinced that the accident was due chiefly to bad weather conditions. The two pilots, Bolton and Gresson, made every possible effort to land their passengers safely, but were unable to do so because of the prevailing fog and darkness."

GROCERY LOOTED IN OMAHA RIOTING

OMAHA, June 14.—(AP)—Bioters injured 11 persons, looted a grocery store, damaged street cars and battered police squads early today before order was restored by the police with tear gas and riot guns in a renewal of disorders incident to the two months old street car strike in South Omaha.

The police estimated that a mob of 2,000 sympathizers took part in today's riot. Similar disorders yesterday resulted in four injured, three shot and hundreds, including a six months old infant, being gassed. Numerous disorders have occurred since the strike began April 20. The tram employees walked out after demands for higher pay and closed shop recognition were refused.

SAVINGS AND LOAN CONCLAVE OPENS

PORTLAND, Ore., June 14.—(AP)—Sessions of the second annual Pacific Northwest Savings and Loan conference were under way here today, with delegates from Wyoming, Idaho, Montana, Utah, Washington and Oregon in attendance.

The initial meeting was held last night, with the conference formally opened today. The election of officers is to be held at the concluding session late tomorrow.

BELCASTRO AND HUBKA WIN PENDLETON BOUTS

PENDLETON, Ore., June 14.—(AP)—A series of dropkicks and an Indian deathlock gave Pete Belcastro, 200, Oakland, two out of three falls over Larry Bennett, 192, Portland, here last night.

Joe Hubka, 206, Dodge City, Neb., took two out of three falls from Babe Smallstick, 203, Oakland. Eddie Bechtel, 185, took one fall and the decision from Buck Taylor, 133, both from Walla Walla.

For Better Business

RUSSIANS GAPE AT SUBWAY STATIONS

MOSCOW.—(UP)—Moscow's new subway, subject of much ballyhoo in recent months, has been opened to crowds of Moscow dwellers and workers.

For weeks, ever since the boats were removed from the stations, curious crowds hung about the entrances, peering through the glass windows for a glimpse of the modern wonder that has come to their city.

At night movie shots were taken of the stations under the glare of arc lights. To date more than 50,000 people have been given "joy rides" in the new tunnels, through the brilliantly lighted and colorfully decorated stations.

These "joy rides" are meted out in the form of prizes to factory and office workers who distinguish themselves in their jobs.

Cars and tunnels of the new subway are in no way novel, except that they run beneath the former stronghold of the "Tsars. But the stations are something new.

WASHINGTON SALE TAX LEVY UPHeld

VANCOUVER, Wash., June 14.—(AP)—Superior Court Judge George B. Simpson today upheld the so-called compensating feature of the Washington sales tax in ruling for the defendant in the case of the Vancouver Oil company versus the Washington state tax commission.

The oil company had contended that the portion of the sales tax law which made mandatory the payment of a tax on all goods purchased outside of the state, for use within its confines, was unconstitutional.

The judge ruled the sales levy constituted an excise tax instead of a property tax, and therefore did not come under Washington's 40-mill limitation measure, and that the collection of tax on outstate goods was not a burden to interstate commerce, but merely was a protection for merchants along the borders.

BLACK HEN BROTH HALTS HICCOUGHES

BEAUMONT, Tex.—(UP)—Hiccoughers needn't suffer long from violent, nerve-wracking spasms. P. W. Gillespie, 75, who had them himself, advises.

He was exhausted after four days of violent hiccoughing. Medical aid failed to give him relief. His family appealed to the public for home remedies.

Responses came from Louisiana and Oklahoma by the hundreds. One person telephoned from Kansas City.

The remedies include: Press ears against head for two minutes; hold tongue out for a minute; drink water through linen handkerchief; place brown paper bag over face for five minutes; drink pineapple juice, hold head back and swallow water slowly; turn backward somersault; take flight in airplane.

An unknown sympathizer telegraphed from Ada, Okla., that Gillespie drank black hen broth. He did and the attacks became intermittent and soon stopped.

Gillespie said he always would be grateful to a little black hen.
