Contributing greatly to the appearance of the Main and Central streets corner, Western Thrift is opening a new store tomorrow in the old Jackson County bank corner. The 44 feet of window display space, red and white awning and the red front and interior will make this one of the bright spots of the business district. The new store will have ample space for quick and convenient service and many new lines of merchandise will be added to Western Thrift's already large stock.

SCATTERGUN CONTEST LIKE 3-RING CIRCUS FOR THOSE WATCHING

It's like a three-ring circus, and just as glamorous, this big trap meet being held at the Medford Gun club. Half a dozen things are going on at once and the clubhouse itself is a beehive of activity. The whole atmosphere is one of excitement and spectators who never before have witnessed such an event soon become imbued with the high spirit of the contesting sportsmen. It's a great show and one that may be watched in comfort for cushioned chairs and divans provide ringside seats for the public. T. E. Daniels, club president, and his associates have overlooked nothing to add to the comfort of spectators, and there is no admission charge.

MRS. KELLY VISITS RELATIVES HERE

Mrs. Edward C. Kelly (Mary Greiner Kelly) who arrived by train from Portland Wednesday night, said today that she is glad to be back in Medford for a welcome rest at the home of Col. and Mrs. E. E. Kelly after a strenuous motor trip from Washington, D. C., where the thrill of White House receptions and press conferences serves as a pleasant reminder of two years spent at the nation's capital.

Hosts of friends welcomed her return, for she was epidemic to many southern Oregon people during the years she spent in Medford. She was affiliated with the Mail Tribune at the beginning of her newspaper career. The Kellys motored from Washington to make their future home at Portland, where Mr. Kelly reported June 3 as the new legal adviser for the Public Works Administration in Oregon, a position to which he was recently appointed. The trip was made in five and one half days through the flood belt.

INJUNCTION PLEA HOLDS INTEREST IN LUMBER STRIKE

(Continued from Page One.) tion remained quiet in mills and camps, with state police still on active duty to disperse crowds. Latest outbreak occurred yesterday near the Stinson mill out of Forest Grove when 35 state policemen dispersed a band of pickets after Sheriff J. W. Connell of Washington county had arrested 24 and lodged them in jail. Only six were still held today, however, and no charges had been filed.

Martin's Action Upheld Governor Martin, who yesterday called on all state police and declared "all resources of the state" would be utilized if necessary to halt "jeering mobs and intimidation of workers," was strengthened in his stand today by an opinion on martial law issued by Attorney General I. H. Van Winkle.

"If law enforcement officers are unable to suppress breaches of the peace or to disperse unlawful assemblies, or to prevent tumult or riot, or there is imminent danger thereof, you have the power and authority as governor of the state to declare martial law," the opinion said.

The opinion, written by Assistant Attorney General Ralph Moody, also declared: "Where picketing is permissible, it must be carried out and maintained in a lawful way and must not have any tendency to obstruct free passage to and from places of employment."

lice Charles P. Pray and Sheriff Martin T. Pratt of Multnomah county (Portland). Hearing continued today when Judge Crawford late yesterday said he wanted to hear all sides of the question. In commenting on his request for an opinion from the attorney general, Governor Martin declared: "This flying squadron (of pickets) organized for the purpose of descending upon a business operation, doing more numbers, intimidating employees who want to work, endanger the operation of industrial plants and endanger peace and safety."

are standing firmly on their definitions of constituted law, the former claiming lumber pickets have acted in defiance of officers and the latter declaring it intends to stand flat-footedly on its asserted right to picket. The recent trouble arose Monday night at the Bristol Veil mill when Sheriff Pratt ordered picketing halted after a truck driver reported men had beaten him and driven his truck over an embankment.
