Andrews Returns to Minnesota as Opera Director ANDREWS RETURNS TO MINNESOTA AS OPERA DIRECTOR More than 90 years of opera is apparently not too much for Ed Andrews, 70-year-old veteran trouper who retired in 1908 to take up fruit farming on his ranch near this city.

Mr. Andrews, after many years in southern Oregon, where occasional appearances on the stage met with acclaim from local opera lovers, recently returned to Minneapolis, Minn., where his first company played the old Pence Opera house nearly a half century ago, and according to a clipping from the Minneapolis Journal received here today he will direct two of the eight operas the Twin City Civic Opera Association will present from June 21 to August 16 at Lake Harriet.

He has been living for some time with his daughter, Caroline, an opera singer, at New York City. The operas he will direct at Lake Harriet will be Pinoturo and Mikado. He has played the part of Koko in Mikado more than 2,500 times, has played all of the Gilbert and Sullivan operas and the majority of Victor Herbert's, and has a repertoire of more than 40 parts.

Mr. Andrews began his opera career at the age of 14, as a ballad singer, in odd moments doubling in brass. A four octave melodian his father purchased in 1865 which started him on his music career now stands in the state historical society building in St. Paul.

After coming to Medford he soon left of farming and returned once again to the road. He played in practically every big city and small town in America while touring for 30 years with the Andrews Opera company.
