BUTTER AND EGGS HOLD FIRM TONE PORTLAND MART

PORTLAND, Ore., June 19.—(AP)—Market for butter continued to reflect a fully steady tone and even strength for extras, which were being held down here even though supplies were scant. There was no change in daily quotations.

There was no change in egg prices, but the great decrease in the volume of eggs in cold storage as compared with a year ago was causing more than passing interest in the trade.

Present strength through the country generally was attributed to the decrease in holdings compared with a year ago with the storage input season about over in most sections.

Market for live chickens was rather slow at the moment along the wholesale side but no changes in the price list were shown. Demand was good for the broilers.

There was a better feeling in lambs, especially for fresh stock, with yearlings nominally quoted and ewes slow. Veal were cleaned up and hogs were steady to strong.

First Loganberries of the season to be offered in the wholesale trade were reported. The initial supply came from Frank Carlisle of Springfield and consisted of a number of crates, priced at $1.75.

The first Lambert cherries of the season from The Dalles arrived, priced $1.50 box of 15 lbs. fancy quality.

Active trade in hothouse tomatoes was reported, although prices were down with recent slashing by some receivers.

Arizona cantaloupes arriving and finding sale around $3 for pony size.

Montanans Enjoy Picnic—Montanans from all parts of the valley enjoyed the 14th annual Montana picnic held Sunday at Edith park in Ashland. After dinner a short business session convened, and P. L. Wagner of Grants Pass was chosen president; Ella Phillips, vice-president; and Mrs. Gale Moulton, secretary-treasurer.

Postmasters to Meet—Postmasters of Jackson county have been called to meet at the postoffice, Sunday at 2 o'clock.

WIN A PRIZE

Here Thursday

Responding to the demand of the public, Warner Baxter has created a screen role more romantic than his famous "Cisco Kid". This picture is "Under the Pampas Moon," starting tomorrow at the Craterian theater.

In the picture Baxter takes the part of a South American gaucho, a cowboy of the great plains of the Argentine republic. A nomad, a descendant of the bandit crews which roamed the pampas and raided villages before the railroad and civilization settled the country, the gaucho is part Spanish and part Indian, controlled but not tamed.

For some time a suitable vehicle of this type has been sought for Baxter and "Under the Pampas Moon" is the result of this long quest. It has an entirely new setting for a screen play and besides portraying the life of the gaucho on the vast rolling pampas, it introduces vivid and colorful scenes of Buenos Aires.

Opposite Baxter is Ketti Gallian. She is cast as the Parisian cabaret singer over whom the gaucho becomes enamored through an unexpected encounter in an air wreck on the lonely pampas.

Will Rogers Back On Rialto Screen

Will Rogers has turned again to the rural American scene for one of the most human, nightrful and flavorous films in years. All of which is just another way of saying that Will Rogers is with us once more, this time in the title role of "The County Chairman," which opened its return showing yesterday at the Rialto theater.

"The County Chairman" is a fine and atmospheric screen version of the famous George Ade comedy of the same name. It is a swift-moving and sure-fire story. But its present producers have been wise enough to retain both the original locale, a small Wyoming town, and the original date, the year 1902, a fact which permits the use of colorful types and background of those days, when political campaigns were fierce and frenzied—and not just talks by radio!

The star appears as the fire-eating boss of a small town, who kisses all the babies, captures all the votes and brings together two estranged young lovers. In a scrap, however, he's too hot to handle!

There is rare humor and pungency in this screen portrait, a notable addition to the Rogers gallery of recent hits, which includes "David Harum," "Handy Andy" and "Judge Priest."

His supporting cast numbers many players who have been with him in previous successes, among them Evelyn Venable, Kent Taylor, Louise Dresser, Bertin Churchill, Frank Melton and Betty Fetchit.

Mystery Drama At Craterian Tonight

Mysterious crimes, an amazing feat of detective work, and brooding bewilderment mingle with hilarious comedy in a unique blend in "Murder in the Fleet," a new story of crime on a cruiser, playing at the Craterian theater tonight only.

Thrills blend into laughs and vice versa, as a naval lieutenant follows a criminal amid a crowd of civilian visitors and a ship's crew impounded.

Ends Tomorrow Nite! Then Gone Forever

Enjoy it now while you can... it will never again be shown in Medford!

BOOST IN TAXES ASKED BY F. R. IN SPECIAL MESSAGE

with "the disturbing effects upon our national life that come from great inheritances of wealth and power."

He gave the following illustrations: "The application of the principle of a graduated tax now stops at $1,000,000 of annual income. In other words, while the rate for a man with a $500,000 income is double the rate for one with $100,000 income, a man having a $5,000,000 annual income pays at the same rate as one whose income is $1,000,000."

The president asserted that the present flat rate on corporations had created a disproportionate strain on small enterprise.

Capacity Would Be Kept. "It seems only equitable, therefore," he said, "to adjust our tax system in accordance with economic capacity, advantage and fact. The smaller corporations should not carry burdens beyond their power; the vast concentrations of capital should be ready to carry burdens commensurate with their powers and their advantages."

Mr. Roosevelt proposed study for the ultimate elimination of "unnecessary holding companies in all lines of business."

He also proposed a constitutional amendment "whereby the federal government will be permitted to tax the income on subsequently issued state and local securities and likewise for the taxation by state and local governments of future issues of federal securities."

He concluded with a request for continuation of the emergency miscellaneous taxes recently voted by the house.
