

Pair With Speed and Science Will Tangle on Armory Mat Tonight

WOLFE AND HUBKA PROMISE THRILLS IN MAIN CONTEST

Action Also Slated in Semi-Final When Soos and Smolinski Meet—McWood and Olson to Open Card

One of the rare wrestling matches when speed merchant meets speed merchant is slated for the Armory grip and grime arena tonight when "Iron Man" Joe Hubka of Nebraska, who has given fans many a top-notch scientific exhibition, meets Les Wolfe, tall Texan tussler, in the main event of a three match program.

There will be no smearing and smearing when these two get together, but there will also be no namby-pamby playing around, for both contestants are out for blood in a clean way.

Hubka has a reputation here as being "tops" in popularity, and when he was told that Mr. Wolfe also enjoys great friendship from the fans, he announced that he would make the big southerner look sick. Very few know how Hubka has been seen with his dander up, but the return of the handsome Texan, who seems to rate high among the women fans, has plainly liked the strong-legged Cornhusker.

It has been some time since Hubka has had a chance to display his razzle-dazzle technique and fancy leg work, due to the fact that he has been stacked up against middleweight wrestlers for the past several months. With the opportunity of meeting a clean grappler, he declares that he is going to put on the fireworks.

Wolfe, who arrived yesterday, is in fine fettle and anxious for the go. He, too, dislikes unorthodox clever work and has mastered many new holds that promise the former University of Nebraska football star a busy evening.

Johnny Soos, another muscular from the middlewest, will return for his second appearance here in the 45-minute semi-final when he tangles with Babe Smolinski, aggressive bonobender who has a dislike for Soos that threatens to develop a grudge match.

Plenty of action is slated for this section of the program, as both grapplers like to settle things via the quickest possible route, be it orthodox wrestling or a few punches on the chin. Fireman Ray Pribble, who is scheduled to referee, will probably have a busy time in this tussle, making the boys behave properly.

Centering the spotlight in the opening engagement will be Herman Olson, Swedish entrant in the recent International mat tournament at Los Angeles, who will exchange hugs and huffs for 30 minutes or one fall with Johnny McWood, ex-footballer from U. C. L. A.

McWood, strong as a lion and partial to clean matwork, puts on an interesting performance and will have ample opportunity for clever tendon twisting against the highly-touted Swede.

A "Mement semester," with special lectures on Montana, has been established at the University of Katmas, Lithuania, due to the students' intense interest in this former German territory.

G. PASS GOLFERS COMING SUNDAY

About 25 golfers from Grants Pass are expected to come to Medford Sunday, Pro Jack Hueston announced today, for a return inter-city tournament at Rogue Valley course. Preparations, while not complete, are being made to give the visitors a royal welcome and attempt to return the hospitality that was afforded the Rogue Valleyites on their recent visit to the beautiful Grants Pass club.

Lunch will be served and probably small prizes will be awarded winners in the tournament.

FAVOR LOUGHRAN DESPITE WEIGHTS

PHILADELPHIA, June 20.—(AP)—Despite a 66-pound weight disadvantage, Tommy Loughran, erstwhile light heavyweight champion, today ruled the favorite over Ray Impellittere, New York state giant, for their 10-round bout at the Phillies' ball park tonight.

Loughran scaled 188 at the weigh-in yesterday, while the New Yorker tipped the beam at 254. In spite of this, the odds on a victory for Philadelphia's "old master" were 7 to 5. The bout was postponed from last night because of rain.

NEGROES CANCEL SATURDAY GAME WITH ROGUE NINE

Manager Haffard of the Medford Rogues this morning received the following telegram from the Detroit Colored Giants, who were scheduled to appear here Saturday afternoon: "Sorry, please cancel game; can't get here. Play you later." The wire had been sent from Hope, British Columbia.

The Rogues had already tacked up posters from one end of the valley to the other, and a large crowd had been anticipated. Haffard believes the Giants missed connections somewhere, and had been marooned in the Canadian city, in that they were scheduled to play Grants Pass tomorrow, the Rogues Saturday, and Klamath Falls Sunday.

As far as the Rogues are concerned, they would just as soon pass up the Giant battle, as they have one of their most crucial games of the season Sunday when they meet the Ashland Lithians in the tiny field at Ashland to decide the occupants of the southern Oregon league cellar. A win for the Rogues would put them in a tie for top honors, and a win for Ashland would do the same for that outfit.

As yet Haffard has received no word from Chesterfield, the Kelso wonder twirler, and he is planning to start either Pritchett or Hardy against the Lithians. Hardy is a great chucker, though young, and has been given a conditional release from the Ashland club. He was one of the Lithians' ace hurlers the first of the season, before Chief McLean moved from behind the rubber to the pitcher's mound.

Pritchett, former Seals bomber, has been putting hot packs on his arm for weeks, and working out assiduously. He now believes he is ready to wring the Ashland necks with his twisting curves and dodging floaters. Haffard, in commenting on Pritchett's performances in recent workouts, says that the big twirler is as

MRS. THOMPSON RETAINS TROPHY

Mrs. J. C. Thompson retained possession of the Murray trophy yesterday by virtue of a 2-to-1 victory over Mrs. Dave Wilcox in the 36-hole finals of this year's Murray tournament, the second consecutive tourney Mrs. Thompson has won.

It was a well played match that saw considerable good golf during the ups and downs of the 36 holes. After leading most of the way through the morning rounds and well into the afternoon competition, Mrs. Thompson saw the silver cup slipping away for a time when her putter went haywire on the 32nd. Mrs. Wilcox, playing steady golf, took the 32nd; Mrs. Thompson halved the 33rd, and Mrs. Wilcox took the 34th, but the title holder eked out the 35th hole to win.

Mrs. Thompson shot a 96 in the morning and Mrs. Wilcox carded a 106. The winner gave Mrs. Wilcox 24 strokes during the day.

EX-CANADIAN CHAMP WILL FISH AND SEEK WRESTLING GO HERE

Al Stecher, former middleweight champion wrestler of Canada, arrived in Medford yesterday for the first time and announced that he plans to stay here for the next six weeks, spending the time keeping in condition by fishing along Rogue river for the wary salmon and also to cast about for possible wrestling engagements.

Stecher has never been seen in action in the northwest, but he is known as "tops" both in Canada and in the east, where he has met most of the best muscle mangers, he claims. He has been wrestling for the past 15 years, so has considerable mat experience to add to his natural athletic ability. He weighs about 190 pounds.

Unlike many wrestlers, Stecher keeps in trim by careful, easy work-out with a stretcher machine and by shadow boxing (he was a boxer for three years), thus eliminating the hazard of becoming muscle bound. This was one of the tricks he learned while working under Farmer Burns, former world champion.

Stecher specializes in a flying body scissor and other forms of leg work. He may be seen in action here soon, according to Promoter Mack Lillard.

The "Trip Record" provides space for a complete record of gas and oil purchases, amounts spent, mileage, etc.—together with valuable theft hints on car operation. The 76 Highway Maps are colorful, and contain accurate road and highway data for the entire Coast.

Ask for the 76 "Trip Record" and Map at any 76 dealer.

WHEN the weather's warm around town, and the sun's blazing down on vacation highways, you need a gasoline like Summer 76—which brings you these three important qualities:

- 1. HIGH ANTI-KNOCK—for smooth, flexible power, fast acceleration in traffic and on the grades, and a cool-running motor.
- 2. ABSENCE OF VAPOR-LOCK—(the fading and spluttering that sometimes occurs on hot days). Each of the five different altitude and temperature zones of the Pacific Coast receives a grade of 76 especially adapted to the climatic conditions of the area. (A map showing these "zones" is included in the "Trip Record" obtainable from any 76 dealer. See details at left.)
- 3. MAXIMUM MILEAGE—for thrifty motoring. 76 now contains more of the heavy, power and mileage-giving fractions for warm weather driving—and, in addition retains the quick-starting and anti-knock leadership for which 76 is famous.
