

Local and Personal

Benson Returns—Noel Benson, student at University of Oregon, returned by stage yesterday morning for the summer vacation.

Ashland Caller—The Ashland Tidings states that Willard Leonard of this city was a business caller in Ashland Wednesday.

Here from Klamath Falls—Among Medford business visitors yesterday were Ray Lyons and W. S. Conklin, both of Klamath Falls.

Crouch in Medford—J. Carlisle Crouch, chief ranger at Crater Lake national park, was in Medford yesterday attending to business.

Fralei to Bend—Adrian Fralei left by motor this morning for Bend, where he has accepted a position with the offices of Consolidated Truck Lines.

Visits Here—Miss Lillian Glantz of Portland is visiting with Mr. and Mrs. Norman Penick at the Penick home on South Grape street here. Mr. Penick is in the forest service.

Guest for Summer—Mrs. Marie Ware of Sacramento, Cal., arrived in Medford recently to be the guest of Mr. and Mrs. E. R. Peck during the remainder of the summer. Mrs. Ware and Mrs. Peck are sisters.

New Arrival—A new arrival in Medford is C. H. Speck, civil engineer, who recently drove to this city from Columbia, Mo., where he attended University of Missouri. He has been in Medford for the past six weeks.

Willard Glaser Visits—Mr. and Mrs. Willard Glaser of San Francisco are spending a few days in Medford and vicinity, having arrived here Tuesday evening. Mr. Glaser is a nephew of Mayor Ross of San Francisco.

Chandler to Oregon Caves—L. R. Chandler, purchasing agent for Crater Lake national park, spent Tuesday evening at Oregon Caves national monument, attending to business relative to installation of new equipment.

Accepts Local Position—Michael Brachel arrived in Medford this week from Portland, to accept a position as hardware at the Cinderella Beauty shop on South Central avenue. Mr. Brachel was formerly associated with Pierre's at Berg's store in Portland, and has had extensive experience in all lines of beauty work.

Headquartering Here—C. T. Hurd, manager of the Johnson's rapidly expanding business, is headquartering in Medford for a few days while he is covering the southern Oregon territory. Business is well ahead of last year, he reports. Mr. Hurd is widely known on the coast as an enthusiastic paleontologist.

Forest Fire Quenched—A small forest fire in the Lake of the Woods district, Tuesday afternoon, was soon extinguished by the Lake of the Woods assistant ranger and administration guard, it was reported at the offices of Rogue River national forest. The fire was caused by a carelessly discarded cigarette.

Critically Ill—F. H. Dressler is critically ill at the Community hospital. It was learned today, but the attending physician stated that he was showing a gradual improvement. Mr. Dressler's brother, J. W. Dressler of Los Angeles, formerly of Medford, is here to be with the sick man, as are Mr. Dressler's two sons, Arthur and Harley of West Los Angeles.

Dinner Planned at Talent—The Ladies' Aid of the Talent M. E. church will serve a dinner tomorrow night in the city hall. Serving will begin at 5:30 p. m., and after dinner an entertainment will be given for those present. The program will feature several reels of Copco movies and musical numbers by the Ashland male quartet. Proceeds of the evening will be devoted to church purposes.

Firemen to Gather—Fire Chief Roy Elliott announced today he has received a letter from the volunteer fire department of Port Orford, Ore., extending an invitation to local fire ladders to attend an old time celebration at Port Orford on the Fourth of July. The celebration will include foot-racing, horse-racing, all kinds of sports, and dancing in the afternoon and evening. "The Battle of Battle Rock" will be staged, as a special attraction, and it is planned to have a battleship in the harbor. Lucy Dan, oldest Indian woman survivor of the Port Orford section, will be queen of the day, according to plans.

JOSEPHINE COUNTY FIGHTS REMOVAL OF 'AG' INSPECTOR

GRANTS PASS, June 20.—(Sp.)—Plans were under way Wednesday among interested growers here to attempt to retain headquarters of the district agricultural inspection service in Grants Pass, with the indicated support of the county court.

Solon T. White, state director of agriculture, announced in Eugene Tuesday that the state would be re-districted with Jackson and Josephine as one district, with headquarters at Medford.

H. O. Plummer, president of the Grants Pass Gladiolus society, said the proposal to ask White to retain headquarters here would be brought up before the society's meeting Wednesday night.

"Gladiolus growers have been paying $15 a year for inspection service," Plummer said, "and we feel that our needs should be recognized. As we understand it, the department of agriculture is attempting to penalize Josephine county for not having a county agent."

The Josephine county court has been paying $50 each month, also, directly for its share of the inspection service.

This payment by the county will be eliminated, G. W. Matthews, county judge, declared Wednesday, if headquarters are moved to Medford.

The county court will not request retention of headquarters here, he said, but will be willing to support county growers and others if they make the first request.

"Grants Pass is the logical place for headquarters," Matthews said.

Warner Baxter at Craterian

After four years, Warner Baxter returns to the role that shot him to stardom, opening at the Craterian theater today as the reckless, romantic gaucho of the Argentine in "Under the Pampas Moon."

Reminiscent of his famous characterization of "The Cisco Kid," the film shows Baxter as a dashing, un-ketted son of the pampas, a daredevil on his horse and devil with the asserials.

How a captivating Parisian in the person of Ketti Gallian teaches him a new meaning of love forms the basis of the exciting action.

Veloz and Yolanda, famed dancers, offer their version of a new dance, "The Cobra," while others in the cast include John Miljan, J. Carroll Nash, Jack LaRue and Armida.

Like the tame track affairs of the past, here is presented a pack of dare-devil riders who take their lives in their hands to win a few hundred dollars.

New streamlined trains in Denmark are equipped with electrical kitchens for serving meals to passengers in their seats.

Probably there is no type of motion picture with more general appeal than the so-called western. Everybody loves a excitement and thrills and, as a rule, these outdoor pictures generally supply them in abundance.

This is especially true of "In Old Santa Fe," the famous Ken Maynard's latest picture which is coming to the Rialto theater for tomorrow and Saturday.

Here is a story true to the traditions of the old west as set by Master-story, Kit Carson, Jesse James and the forty-niners. It is a product of the west, a dyed-in-the-wool cowpuncher who has developed into the most famous hard-riding, two-tisted cowboy the screen has ever known.

Set in a background of the most pictorially beautiful spots along the old Santa Fe trail country, the picturesque west has been caught in all its glory. Purple hills and golden sunsets provide the setting for this thrill story.

Possibly the biggest thrill in "In Old Santa Fe" if one may be singled out of the hundreds, is the hair-raising cross country horse race, undertaken by Mr. Lance.

Texas high school authorities are in controversy over the 17-year age limit for Texas high school football players, a new resolution of the state interscholastic league.

SALEM, June 20.—(AP)—Sentences totaling 123 years and fines assessed at $1349 resulted from the 221 arrests made by the state police department in general law enforcement during May, Charles P. Pray, superintendent, reported today.

The department also made 623 arrests for motor law violations and 112 under the fish and game laws. The fines for motor arrests totaled $5107, while fees collected amounted to $2267. In the fish and game department sentences imposed were a total of two years and fines amounting to $2609.

In general law enforcement the greatest sentences were for three robbery arrests, the trio to serve 50 years. Most arrests were for drunkenness, and most fines for larceny under $50.

SALEM, June 20.—(AP)—Thirteen persons died as the result of motor vehicle accidents in Oregon during May, as compared to 30 fatalities during May, 1934, the secretary of state's office reported today. The list of persons injured during the month totaled 398, or 32 less than for the corresponding period last year.

The number of deaths to date for 1935 was shown to be 29 less than the total of 116 for the first five months of 1934, while the list of injuries totaled 1989 as compared to 2026 last year. The report listed 846 accidents up to June 1, as against 8732 up to June 1, 1934.

Five of the persons killed last month were pedestrians.

Panicked! SALEM, Ore. (UP)—Mike Panek was in a panic. Taking part in an amateur theatrical, Panek couldn't find his costume—a nightshirt—until just a few minutes before his cue.

DATE FOR BRADDOCK'S FIRST TITLE DEFENSE MEETING OPPOSITION

NEW YORK, June 20.—(AP)—Just when Jimmy Braddock will make the first defense of his heavyweight crown is uncertain.

Jimmy Johnston, head of boxing at Madison Square Garden, is going ahead with plans to bring Braddock and Max Schmeling, former title-holder, together in September, but he is meeting opposition that may postpone the bout.

Joe Gould, Braddock's manager, has indicated he probably would hold the garden to its contract—that Braddock make his first title defense in 1936.

"We want a chance to cash in on the title," said Gould. "We want to take an exhibition tour, maybe go to Europe, and we might make a picture in Hollywood."

The second obstacle is the state athletic commission. Chairman John J. Pheasant said he thought the commission would not approve of a Schmeling-Braddock fight until the garden dispose of Art Lasky, whom Jimmy liked enroute in the top.

The commission's attitude is based on an agreement Gould is said to have made with Lasky after the Braddock fight. Lasky, who went into the match with bad hands, asked for a return bout, and Gould is said to have consented.

Deer Hinder Plane SPOKANE, Wash. (UP)—Deer, cavorting on the Moose Creek landing field in Idaho, were so numerous it was impossible to land a plane on the first attempt. Roy Schreck, Spokane, reported after a flight to that section. There were 40 deer and several elk on the field, which he drove away by maneuvering his plane.

TURKEY RAISERS MEET SATURDAY

The annual meeting of the Southern Oregon Turkey Co-operative will be held in the courthouse auditorium Saturday, June 22, at 1:30 o'clock.

This organization was very successful during the past season and is anticipating an increased volume for 1935. A full report of the activities will be given at this meeting.

Outside speakers on the program will be H. J. Holmes, San Francisco, sales agent of the Northwest Turkey Growers; H. E. Coby, poultry specialist of Oregon State college, and J. C. Leedy, manager of the Oregon Turkey Co-op, with which the Oregon growers are affiliated.

All persons interested in turkey production are invited to attend this meeting.

OILING OF ROADS PUSHED BY COURT

Oiling of county roads under the ten year program of the county court is now underway, and completed in many sections including the Central Point to Crater Lake highway road, Airport road, Table Rock road, Stewart avenue, and in the Talent-Ashland district.

The oiling will be completed shortly, giving smoother roads and reducing the dust, bane of rural housewives.

Today the county court is on a tour of the south end of the county inspecting the Dead Indian road and tributary routes, and conditions in the Pilot Rock grazing district.

FOOTS CREEK DREDGE MOVING COMPLETED

FOOTS CREEK, June 20.—(Sp.)—The Rogue River Gold company completed the task of moving the dredge from Foots creek to Grave creek last week. The move required two months, as they ceased operation April 17. The moving was done by a Medford transfer company. The dismantling was on the property bought from Lance brothers, where placer mining was begun over 50 years ago by the late George W. Lance, Sr., and Samuel Duffield, who later sold his interest to Mr. Lance.
