

HIGH SCHOOL TO HAVE SUPERIOR ATHLETIC FIELD

Steel Mesh Fence and Hedge to Enclose Area — Turf Field Will Be Well Drained — SERA Doing Work

One of the most ambitious plans for an athletic field ever attempted in the state is being worked out by E. H. Hedrick, superintendent of Medford schools, and the school board. The athletic field at the senior high school, grading of which is now complete, will be without question among the finest on the Pacific coast when the plans are completed.

Medford, with a school program that has been for years the envy of every school in the state, has always lent an eye to beauty as well as to utility in the construction of new buildings. Now that attitude is being applied to the athletic field.

Plan Hedge Fence. Not content with the ugly board fence that is an inevitable part of every high school football field, plans are going forward to install a steel mesh fence around the football field and track. The steel posts, placed 20 feet apart, are already in, imbedded firmly in concrete. To these posts a temporary board fence has been secured. The plan is to plant a thorny, impenetrable and beautiful hedge, possibly of Osage orange or hawthorne, a few feet inside this fence. When the hedge has grown to sufficient height and density, the boards will be taken down and the steel mesh fence, with a guardrail, will be installed.

The hedge will be kept trimmed and neat at all times, to a height of from eight to 10 feet. At present it is planned to have this hedge only around the football field, but when it has been proven a success, as it cannot fail to be, the system will be continued around the entire athletic field, encompassing the baseball diamond, the tennis courts, the volleyball and soccer ball fields as well as the football and track departments.

Investigate Hedges. Coach Bill Bowerman, now in California, is investigating the various kinds of plants suitable for the hedge desired, and is also inquiring into the best kind of grass for a turf field. The present practice field will be converted to turf as soon as possible, according to present plans. If the turf is not sufficiently sold by the fall season for regular play, a sawdust practice field will be installed, and games played at Vandenberg field.

A call has been sent out for lumber for the immediate construction of a grandstand, with a seating capacity of 1200. This grandstand will be on the west side of the field, and flanking it on each end will be bleachers seating about 800 more. Since the lumber strike has placed lumber in the higher price brackets, this phase of the development may be deferred for some time, but will probably be completed before September.

Under the grandstand will be storage rooms for athletic equipment, and dressing rooms for home and visiting teams. Room will be set aside for showers, but these will not be installed for some time. The inconvenience of dressing in one building, and then traveling by auto to the scene of the game will be done away with entirely.

Bleachers Installed. Two large bleachers have already been installed at the baseball diamond, and a soft green to absorb the sunlight on the inside. The fine mesh screen of heavy wire that has been the bane of the spectators and the playing field has been replaced with a size mesh that permits a good view, and presents a fine playing surface.

It is now the plan to install several tennis courts on the southwest corner of the big plot, just to the rear of the gymnasium wing of the building. With the three courts al-

BRADDOCK VICTORY OVER GRIFFIN WAS TURN IN FORTUNES

Georgia Fighter Flattened After Only Day in Training—Good Fortune Fails to Change Character

By EDWARD J. NEIL, Associated Press Sports Writer
NEW YORK, June 21.—(AP)—No story of the life of James J. Braddock is complete without the tale of Corn Griffin of Georgia, who came from nowhere, went right back there, and left the foundation of a new heavy-weight dynasty in his wake.

Braddock was working on the Jersey docks, his fighting career apparently behind him, when Griffin, a heavy-weight purchased from Uncle Sam's army for $68, came north to help Primo Carnera train for his heavy-weight title defense against Max Baer. Griffin beat Carnera so easily in workouts that he became something of a sensation.

LOUGHRAN WHIPS GIANT OPPONENT

PHILADELPHIA, June 21.—(AP)—Tommy Loughran last night uncovered an altogether different style in soundly whipping Ray Impellittere, Utica, N. Y., giant, in ten fast rounds.

He booked, and drove right into face and body—a hitherto unknown Loughran trait—and on a few occasions even showed willingness to stand toe-to-toe and slug with the huge Impellittere.

The 32-year-old erstwhile light-heavyweight titleholder, who is hoping for a shot at the heavyweight crown of Jimmy Braddock, a former Loughran victim, was eight of the ten rounds, and was in trouble only once, when Ray smashed him to the floor for a nine-point with a jarring right-hand shot.

Tommy, at 188, spotted his giant opponent 60 pounds and about seven inches in both height and reach. He now plans an invasion of European rings.

BERNADOU RETAINS LEAD IN LEAGUE'S BAT DEPARTMENT

Paul Bernadou, heavy hitting Klamath Falls second baseman, managed to retain his Southern Oregon League batting leadership of last week by getting 3 hits in 6 trips to the plate at Medford last Sunday in the wild 2-2 tie.

Arnold Gonnell, Ashland leftfielder, is the nominal leader with a mark of 345 and Arnold Bauman, Ashland rightfielder, has a mark of 300, but has been out only 19 times.

Manager Paul Hoffard leads the Medford Rogues with an average of 433 while Al Droletto heads the Grants Pass players with 400.

Three players—Arnie and Calvert of Medford and Brooks of Klamath Falls—lead in the runs scored department, all crossing the plate 12 times.

The biggest batting jump of the week was made by Billy Calvert, Medford's young outfielder-catcher, who raised his average 19 points and 29-22 Medford hits in 38 times at bat for an average of 550.

Johnny McWood, 212-pound ex-footballer from E. L. A., put on his best performance here to date in the 30-minute opener when he outwrestled Herman Olson, Suedish entry in the recent international mat tournament at Los Angeles, but lost the lone fall in 11½ minutes when he missed a Sonnenberg and laid himself open for a press.

PARIS, June 21.—(AP)—Genevieve Beut, an attractive 20-year-old girl, returned home today with an official scolding after a daring drop from the gallery of the chamber of deputies, to call parliament's attention to the "serious problem" of France's low birthrate.

She was unhurt in the dangerous leap yesterday, but was chided by the sergeant-at-arms before being led from the chamber. Officials announced no further action would be taken.

VERNONIA, Ore., June 21.—(AP)—The newly-formed Oregon-American Lumber corporation today took over the property of the American Lumber company which operated its mill here until 1932. No announcement concerning the date of re-opening has been made.

WOLFE PINS HUBKA FOR ONLY FALL IN CLEAN, FAST BOUT

Limber-legged Tex Wolfe, slithering and slipping like a Texas cychone all over the Army arena last night to skin out of the sturdy embrace of Joe Hubka of Nebraska time and time again, flashed a bottom-up rolling seasons after 42 minutes of wrestling to pin Hubka for the only fall of their one-hour tussle, although the husky Cornhusker outpointed Wolfe from start to finish.

Old-time fans nodded their heads and said it was one of the best matches they had ever seen. Not a finger was lifted in foul play, but that didn't mean that the match lacked dynamite. On the stroke of the gong Wolfe and Hubka came out of their corners like greyhounds down the home stretch, and set a pace that kept the fans guessing which one would drop from exhaustion before the bout was over.

The Nebraska, who grinned at the way the Tex-like Texan cooed out of his crumpling leg-holds, started the fracas with a single of wristlocks, working into an spectacular Indian deathlock that looked like curtains for the supple southerner until he dived through Hubka's legs to escape.

Wolfe broke away occasionally for some clever footwork of his own, but was decidedly out-wrestled and the rolling soldiers that gave him the fall came as a surprise.

The Cornhusker opened the second stanza with a punishing body scissor and soon had Wolfe gasping for breath and very nearly down, but they rolled into the ropes and Joe lost the only chance to tie the score. Hubka was booked at 302 and Wolfe at 191½ pounds.

At St. Louis, former middleweight champion of Canada, now a 120-pound muscular of no mean ability, who substituted for Johnny Soos of Indiana in the 45-minute semi-final, because of an injury received by the middle-westerer, slugged out a two-out-of-three fall victory over Babe Smolinski, 202-pound toughy who calls Poland his native land.

Stecher, who retaliated for every eye gouge and kick from the stocky Polack, proved that he was no slayer by winning the first fall in 13 minutes and the last in less than one minute via slugging and hammerlocks. Smolinski took the middle tumble in eight minutes with an airplane spin.

Johnny McWood, 212-pound ex-footballer from E. L. A., put on his best performance here to date in the 30-minute opener when he outwrestled Herman Olson, Suedish entry in the recent international mat tournament at Los Angeles, but lost the lone fall in 11½ minutes when he missed a Sonnenberg and laid himself open for a press.

WASHINGTON, June 21.—(AP)—The extent of mineral resources in the west would be studied under a work relief project proposed by Senator O'Mahoney (D., Wyo.).

O'Mahoney said he believed such a survey, looking toward ultimate development of the resources, would prove of great value to the west in particular, and to the country in general.

He endeavored to have an appropriation included in the interior department supply bill, providing for such a survey, but it failed of approval. The exact amount of work money to be asked for the survey and the details have not been determined, he said.

YALE CREWS WIN FIRST TWO RACES BY TINY MARGIN

REGATTA COURSE, New London, Conn., June 21.—(AP)—Yale swept both morning races of its 73rd annual regatta with Harvard on the Thames today, winning the freshman race by eight feet and the junior varsity by little more than six feet.

So close were the two races that official timers gave the two Yale crews only a 2-3 of a second margin in each. Yale's time for the freshman race was nine minutes, 46 seconds; Harvard's, 9:58 2-3.

Neither winning time challenged the course records.

It was the most exciting morning program in the history of Yale-Harvard rowing rivalry, which dates back to 1852.

The Elis captured the two-mile upstream freshman race with a magnificent sprint finish after Harvard had led practically all the way from the start to within a few yards of the finish line.

The junior varsity engagement, rowed over the same course, was even closer, but in this case Yale gained a lead in the first few hundred yards and held it all the way to the finish at Bartlett's Cove.

It was the second successive year in which Yale captured both morning races.

Heading the spectators was President Roosevelt, here to watch his son, Franklin, Jr., row with the beaten Harvard junior varsity.

The climax of the regatta, the four-mile downstream varsity crush, will be rowed at 5 p. m. (E. S. T.) this evening.

ROGUES, LITHIANS IN CIVIL WAR AT ASHLAND SUNDAY

Medford at Ashland, Grants Pass at Klamath Falls. It will be for the undisputed top Southern Oregon league spot at Klamath Falls next Sunday when Jake Gipe's Grants-Pass Merchants tangle with Vernon Francis' Klamath Falls Red Sox and at Ashland, where the Medford Rogues battle the Ashland Lithians, the prize will be undisputed second place, one game back of the leaders.

Klamath Falls and Grants Pass, weak and shaken from two straight drubbings at the hands of Medford and Ashland respectively, the so-called weak sisters, will eye each other with relief and go about their game, which may decide the 1935 champion, with badly battered teams.

It is the tightest race in years, with every team decidedly in the running and Medford, where Paul Hoffard has collected an amazing array of long distance hitters, being named the team to beat. The consensus of opinion is that if the Rogues had anywhere near capable pitching, they would be unstoppable.

The Ashland-Medford civil war will be renewed with all the fury that only those two teams can generate for each other. Each has beaten the other once and with the pennant money clearly in sight for the winner of Sunday's battle, it should prove to be the hardest fought game of the year.

Manager Cliff McLean will start on the mound for the Lithians with McFarland back of the plate. For Medford, Manager Hoffard is undecided as to who will do the hurling for his team of sluggers. He intimated, however, that it might be Charles Pritchett, big right-hander with the explosive curve ball. Pritchett has had a sore arm for the past month, but feels that it may be ready for Ashland next Sunday.

Both games will start at 3:30 p. m. The game at Klamath Falls will be played at Modoc field and at Ashland, at the high school field.

U. S. DOUBLES TEAM LOSE TO BRITISHERS

LONDON, June 21.—(AP)—The crack American doubles team of William Allison and John Van Ryn was eliminated from the Queen club tennis tournament today by G. P. Hughes and C. H. D. Tuckey, the English combination. The scores were 9-11, 6-3, 6-4.
